BOLD SAFE BLOWERS

Robbed Safes of the Abbott
Worsted Company

At Forge Village and Graniteville

—Used an Auto in Their Work
and Secured About $400—
Asked for Pigs' Feet in Grocery
Store at Forge Village

Two of the most daring breaks that have been perpetrated in this vicinity for years occurred early this morning when the safes in the offices of Abbott & Co. worsted manufacturers in Graniteville and Forge Village were blown open and about $400 in money removed.

That the breaks were made by professional burglars seems to be positive for there was every evidence that nitro glycerine was used on both safes and the work was done in a manner which indicated that the workers had had previous experience in safe blowing. The safe at the office in Forge Village was a rather old one and enough of the explosive material was used to blow the safe almost to smithereens. In Graniteville, however, the safe was a practically new one and only the lock was blown out.

Despite the fact that either one of the members of the party or a person who is connected with the gang spent some time within a week reconnoitering the different premises he failed to tip off his companions of the right day to crack the safes, for yesterday was payday at both the mills and when the midnight marauders made their raid last night there was only about $100 in the safe at the Forge Village office and about $300 at the office at Graniteville.

The fact that the burglars are professional and are probably the same gang which has been terrorizing western Massachusetts and various points of New England during the past several months is evident for they came in an automobile.

That they were daring and seemed to disregard any attempt at capture was also evident, for either before or after the places were burglarized they stopped at a house in Forge Village and aroused a man to give them something to eat.

Plans Carefully Laid
The plans for breaking into the offices of both mills were carefully laid and according to what information a representative of The Sun could learn there was a stranger in the town of Westford last week. He was a well-known burglar.

200 Ships in Parade

NEW YORK, June 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, picturesque statesman and cosmopolitan traveler, was greeted back to his native land today by such a demonstration of popular enthusiasm and personal devotion as has seldom, if ever, been accorded to a returning American traveler. Each step in this eventful homecoming from the time he disembarked from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria until he moved up Broadway amid the tumultuous demonstrations of vast throngs of people, was one continuous ovation and tribute of affection.

At 8.12 this morning Mr. Roosevelt left the steamer amid the roar of big guns from battleships and land forts and a pandemonium of steam whistles from water craft and from the factories along the water front.

Then, aboard the revenue cutter Androscooggin he moved at the head of an imposing marine parade up the Hudson river to Riverside drive and back again to the battery amid the continuous demonstration of water craft and the assembled multitude on shore.

The landing at the battery was the signal for another clamorous ovation. Here Mayor Gaynor extended official greeting and Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly but significantly of the interest and part he will continue to take in public affairs. At 11 o'clock the start up Broadway began, through densely massed throngs extending for five miles along the main thoroughfares of the city. Everywhere the returning hero met the same whirlwind of demonstrative greetings—as he passed Wall street, farther on as he moved through Park place and the business section and then through the throngs in Union and Madison squares and through Fifth avenue. Mr. Roosevelt stood erect in his carriage most of the time, his silk hat in his right hand, waving responsive greeting to the cheering throngs. By noon the popular welcome was practically concluded and Mr. Roosevelt joined relatives for the afternoon, returning to his home at Oyster Bay later in the day.

FIRST GREETING
AND NAVAL PARADE
NEW YORK, June 18.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt returned today to New York from a trip through Africa and Europe, which began immediately upon his leaving the White House and which lasted for 15 months.

The steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria on which he sailed from England June 10 entered New York harbor at 7 o'clock this morning and was greeted by the battleship South Carolina with a national salute of 21 guns. At half past eight Mr. Roosevelt was transferred from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to the revenue tug Manhattan, where he was welcomed by a number of personal friends and relatives and Captain Archibald Butt, representing President Taft.

Shortly after this he was transferred from the Manhattan to the revenue cutter Androscooggin on which he led the water parade that took him up as far as 59th street, North river, and down to the Battery, where he was officially welcomed by Mayor Gaynor of New York at 11 o'clock.

Bedecked with signal flags and with the guns from Fort Wadsworth and Fort Hamilton booming a welcome, the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria glided into quarantine at 1.33 this morning.

Immediately behind the big liner came six ships of the navy, the battleship South Carolina in the van, while at anchor in the roadstead awaiting her coming was the United States dispatch boat Dolphin with the secretary of the navy on board. The battleship already had saluted the returning former president at Sandy Hook with 21 guns, but on coming to anchor alongside the liner the South Carolina hoisted long strings of pennants and the river craft joined in the demonstration with prolonged blasts from their whistles.

Planked by Mrs. Roosevelt, his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and his son Kermit, Theodore Roosevelt stood on the flying bridge of the liner high above the all decks of the ship and with his characteristic smile overspreading his countenance and a shiny silk hat in his hand he waved his acknowledgments to the pandemonium on all sides of him.

Mr. Roosevelt lost no time on board the Augusta Victoria. The usual customs and health inspections formalities accomplished, he at once transhipped to the revenue tug Manhattan, where with the immediate members of his family and a few intimate friends he sat down to a hasty breakfast.

There was more firing of big guns as Mr. Roosevelt left the Manhattan for the Androscooggin. Then comparative quiet reigned while in the upper bay patrol boats darted back and forth among a hundred and one craft of every description, marshaling them in line for the parade.

The United States steamship Dolphin, leading the parade, and closely followed by the Androscooggin, got away at 12 minutes past 9.

The First Address
The first address of welcome presented to Mr. Roosevelt was handed him by the boarding pilot on behalf of the Pilots' association. This association was the last to speed the colonel on his departure from New York fifteen months ago. Health Officer Doty was the first of those from shore to pay his respects to Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, and Captain Butt boarded the Kaiserin from the Manhattan and were received by Mr. Roosevelt in his state room.

An interesting incident occurred during the early reception in the harbor. Colonel Roosevelt was waving his hat in response to the cheers that were wafted to him from craft on all sides when he suddenly paused, and looking in the direction of the press tug Glickerson, pointed his hand to the south. He seemed to be giving a warning and the mer on the Glickerson turned quickly in the direction indicated. They saw the bow of the battleship South Carolina looming up hardly a hundred yards off the tug's starboard quarter and Captain Martin of the Glickerson, who had been looking for danger elsewhere, put his wheel hard over just in time to escape the big warship.

From the Glickerson Mr. Roosevelt could be seen leading Mrs. Roosevelt by the arm to the front of the flying bridge and pointing out to her the picturesque scene of the soldiers of Fort Wadsworth standing at attention along the green embankments. As the cutter Manhattan came alongside the Kaiserin Mr. Roosevelt made his way through a group of second cabin passengers, who clustered along the rail and saying his children on the Manhattan called to them and threw them kisses.

Mr. Roosevelt was the first to come down the gangplank from the Kaiserin to the Manhattan. In a moment she had thrown her arms about Archie and Quentin and kissed and hugged both of them. She next greeted Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and his fiancée, Miss Eleanor Alexander.

Flying Leap to Greet Children
Mr. Roosevelt made a flying leap to the deck of the Manhattan and with the exuberance of a schoolboy slipped his arm around the neck of Archie and then turned promptly to Miss Alexander and kissed her. He took up Quentin and Archie in his arms and gave them resounding smacks. These greetings over, Mr. Roosevelt, with Collector of the Port Lusk at his side, extended cordial greetings to the others on board the Manhattan. He shook hands with everybody, including the members of the crew.

In the meantime the big liner was heaved in close by mailboats and newspaper tugs, while clustering about this central group were tugs, yachts, and other craft.

Representative Ames is opposed to the suggestion of some of the radical insurgents that an attempt be made to depose Speaker Cannon before congress adjourns. Mr. Ames says the speaker has been interpreting the revised rules fairly and that legislative business should not be disturbed at this stage of the session.

Representative Ames is always optimistic when he discusses the senatorial situation. No matter what happens he can always figure it out to his own advantage. Just now he has his opponent both going and coming on the general understanding that Mr. Roosevelt will go to Massachusetts to urge Mr. Lodge's re-election.

"I understand that Mr. Lodge has urged Mr. Roosevelt to speak in support of his candidacy," said Mr. Ames yesterday. "I do not know whether Mr. Roosevelt will do so. Other friends of Mr. Roosevelt are trying to dissuade him from speaking in Senator Lodge's interest. They believe that it would make the ex-president unpopular in the west, where Aldrich, Lodge and Cannon are synonymous names."

"I do not see how an endorsement of Mr. Lodge by Mr. Roosevelt would do the former any good. The next senator will be chosen by the people of Massachusetts. They know Senator Lodge after 18 years of public service. They will judge him according to his legislative record and not on his record as a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt."

"The people have already made up their minds that they do not want Mr. Lodge. The insurgent sentiment in the east would resent Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of Senator Lodge."

"On the other hand, if Mr. Roosevelt does not endorse Mr. Lodge, the people will know that he is not for him and will register their protest against Senator Lodge's retention in office."

Is Offered to Looted Bank

BOSTON, June 18.—Bank Commissioner Chapin filed a petition in the supreme court yesterday asking that he be permitted to compromise certain claims which the Southbridge Savings bank may have against its present or past trustees.

The trustees have offered a guaranty fund of $50,000 contingent upon being released from all liability.

The bank commissioner declares he believes it for the best interest of all parties concerned that the bank should resume business providing a satisfactory guaranty fund is assured.

An order of notice was issued by Judge Rugg, returnable July 1. John A. Hall, former treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, is now in state prison for misapplying bank funds.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST NEWTON, June 18.—It was Massachusetts' amateur golf championship in the finals today in the Massachusetts amateur golf championship with Percy Gilbert, the Bay State titleholder, playing a 36 hole match with H. W. Stucklen, the Granite state champion. Both players, however, are members of the Brae Burn Country club, on whose links the tournament is being held.

The players found the course soft from yesterday's rain but the weather was fine.

VERY FEW INJURED

BOSTON, June 18.—The benefits of the new law restricting the use of explosives and fireworks at celebrations were indicated today when summary of accidents in yesterday's observance of Bunker Hill day showed but six persons treated for injuries, compared with 192 at the same celebration last year. There were 21 arrests for violations of the city ordinances regarding the use of fireworks compared with 32 last year and 13 fire alarms to 26 in 1909.

The authorities believe that Independence day will witness a similar decrease in accidents.

JUSTICE HARLAN MAY RETIRE FROM SUPREME COURT

JUSTICE HARLAN.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—After anxious to see his son elevated to this 37 years on the supreme court bench new honor. It is no secret in Washington that there have been efforts afoot to retire both Justice Harlan and Chief Justice Fuller for several years. There has been much argument by the executive department for a younger court, but President Roosevelt quit the presidency without getting the chief justice retired, and President Taft has abandoned hope in that direction.

ARRESTS MADE

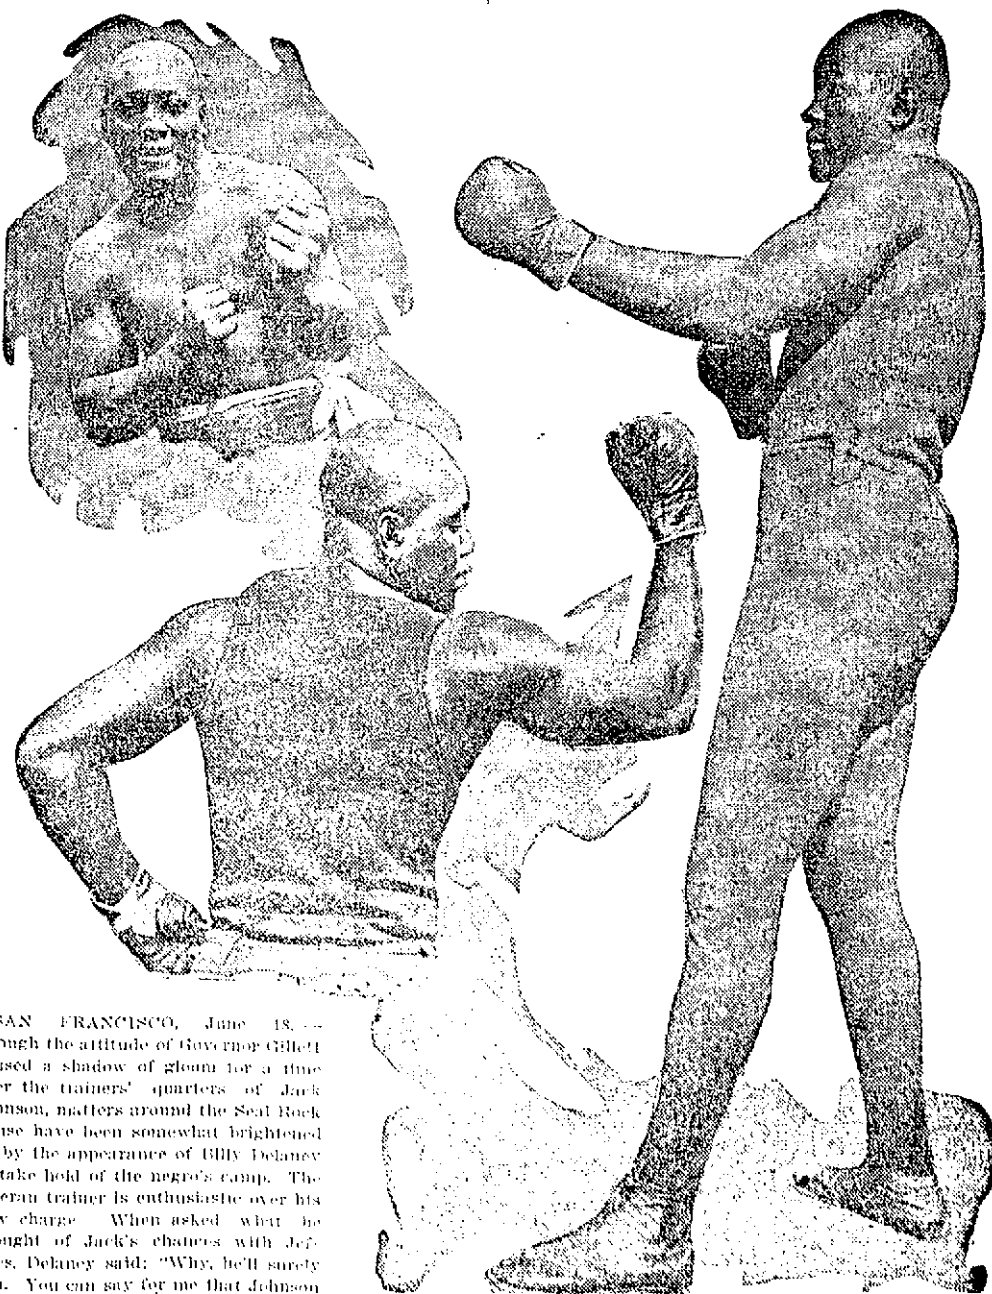

TWO WOONSOCKET GIRLS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

QUINCY, June 18.—On complaint of Mrs. Mary P. Pichmond of Woonsocket, R. I., the Quincy police last night took into custody her two daughters, Catherine, 18, and Margaret, 15, and James Henry, 21. The younger daughter was given into the custody of the mother, and the other and Henry were locked up.

According to the mother, the girls disappeared from home on May 28, and she heard nothing of them until Thursday, when she received an unsigned letter saying that they were locked in a room on Canal street, Quincy, and were being ill treated by Henry. As a result of the letter she came to Quincy yesterday.

VIEWS OF JOHNSON TAKEN AT TRAINING CAMP SHOW HIM IN GOOD CONDITION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Though the attitude of Governor Gillett caused a shadow of gloom for a time over the trainers' quarters of Jack Johnson, matters around the Seal Rock house have been somewhat brightened up by the appearance of Billy Delaney to take hold of the negro's camp. The veteran trainer is enthusiastic over his new charge. When asked what he thought of Jack's chances with Jeffries, Delaney said: "Why, he'll surely win. You can say for me that Johnson is now in shape for a fight. He just needs one hard week of it, and he'll beat Jeffries as sure as you are born. Johnson will be ready to fight Jeffries any place in the world on the fourth of July. He'll go to Nevada or he'll go to

New Orleans or, for that matter, Jack is ready to go up to Blah, where Dr. Cook left off, and take on the battle with Jeffries. Johnson will fight Jeffries any style he likes. He'll fight him in private, rough and tumble, London or quecherry rules. Until the other day I was not certain that Johnson could beat Jeffries, but after I watched him box I was convinced that there can be only one outcome to the fight. Jeffries very likely looks good today, but he can hardly be as good as he was six years ago, and I believe honestly that Johnson, as good as he is today, could lick Jeffries the best day he ever saw. Make no mistake about it, this Johnson is one great fighter. He is one of the cleverest big men the ring has ever seen. His defense is absolutely perfect, and I can see no way that Jeffries will be able to break through it. Pictures show the negro to be in grand shape.

FRANCIS H. ROSE

ACCEPTS CALL TO BECOME PASTOR OF IMMANUEL CHURCH

Fr. Francis H. Rose is pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church. At a recent business meeting of the church it was unanimously voted to call him, and he has accepted the call. He has supplied the pulpit at the church to which he has been called for six months past. Mr. F. H. Rose was born March 30, 1884, at Norwich, Conn., where he received his first schooling. In 1904 he graduated in the classical course at Norwich Free academy, including a special work in the manual training course at the same school. In the fall of 1905 he entered Colby college, where he graduated in June of 1909 with a commencement part. He carried off the prize in senior English composition and oratory and received the degree of bachelor of arts. The past year has been spent at Newton Theological institution. While schooling at Norwich, Mr. Rose carried through a seven years' course at the Norwich art school. During the four years spent at Colby he preached at Jefferson, Maine, for the Jefferson Third Baptist and Free Baptist church and in his last year preached Sunday afternoons at the Jefferson Second Baptist church.

THE THIRD MURDER TRIED TO ESCAPE

Committed in Gorham, Maine, in Selling Failed Again in His Second Attempt

GORHAM, Me., June 18.—A third murder within sixteen years committed early today gives this small, residential town an unenviable record which is not duplicated in any town of its size in Maine and probably not in New England. The latest tragedy involves Walter Hanson, aged 32, hostler in the livery stable of B. W. Bickford, and Mrs. Annie Stuart, aged about 33 and employed in a small hotel in Portland. Mrs. Stuart has been separated this last ten years from her husband, who

Charlestown Officials Came to Play Ball

Base Ball Thoroughly "Dissertated" Over Festive Board With Lowell "Coppers"—Stories of Last Year's Game and How It All Happened

According to the latest reports received in this office by wireless, telegraph and telephone, none of the prisoners at the state prison in Charlestown escaped yesterday afternoon, but it was reported that a number of them in that institution ever thought of leaving their bed and board and shaking the stripes (none of them has stars) they had a golden opportunity yesterday when a dozen of the most efficient officers of the bastille deserted, with permission, the granite building and made their way to Lowell.

Strangely to say, even though yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, the dozen men in question rather than participate in the festivities which are peculiar to Charlestown on the 17th, made their way to this city. They were thinking of war and but for the heavy precipitation there would have been war for the custodians of the state prison came here for the purpose of doing battle is believed to be in the west, probably in Minnesota.

In his bed in a small room above the stable office, Hanson's dead body was found. Beside it, in an unconscious condition, laid Mrs. Stuart slowly bleeding to death from a wound inflicted seven hours before the discovery of the crime. A revolver was used but whether the shooting was done by the man or woman was undecided early today, but the authorities were certain there was no third person connected with the affair.

The prison "bunch," however, has been practising since the last game, playing both indoor and outdoor baseball and they came to Lowell yesterday morning with the intention of trimming the Lowell bluecoats. The rain interfered, however, and it is a question as to which side is the better satisfied. One of the prison officers was heard to remark that he was glad it was raining, for he knew that his team would get an awful whipping, while on the other hand a local patrolman, whose name we will not mention, said that the local team had won one game and was glad there was rain for there would not be a chance for a year at least to either make it two games won or a tie between the two teams.

Lowell were two old Lowell favorites, "Billy" B. Sanborn and Augustus (Gus) E. Duncan, who formerly turned the keys at the Lowell jail, but who are now looking after longer termed criminals. Both "Billy" and "Gus" were not in town long before they were surrounded by a host of friends and they were well entertained. In the van were Walter L. Wood, W. S. Jones, Walter S. and Frank Dacey, Walter Hosce, James Hogsett, Charles Austin, Joseph Mullaney, Michael Downing and Tim Conkey.

When they arrived in Lowell they were met by a cordon of police headed by Sgt. McCann and while it was the intention of the crowd to repair to the grounds of the Moore Spinning

BOSTON, June 18.—Balked in his second attempt to escape deportation, Max Selling, the Latvian stowaway, who jumped overboard from the steamer Winifred off Boston light, and who was rescued by the crew of the steamer Greenbrier, will be sent back to England today, when the Winifred leaves for Liverpool.

Selling nearly succeeded in escaping from the custody of the immigration authorities Thursday night. By means of two roller saws and a hook fastened out of a piece of a bed from the stowaway lowered himself from the detention station at Long wharf and had reached Atlantic avenue before he was captured by Customs Inspector Dowd.

The man was sitting quietly in the main hall of the detention station three minutes before his daring escape. The watchman spoke to him as he passed through the room and after he had gone to another part of the station Selling jumped from the window and lowered himself to the pier just as Immigration Inspector Weiss was coming down the south side.

The inspector heard the footsteps, company in North Chelmsford for the purpose of crossing bats, the weather was against the men and instead they were escorted to the Lowell Inn where Thomas F. Hohan, the genial manager, laid out a spread in the private dining room, which appealed to the visitors.

During the course of the meal "Who is Who," "Why is Why" were discussed at considerable length. Patrolman Matthew McCann gave a little dissertation on "How we won the game last year" and he got a reply from Officer William B. Sanborn, of the state prison on "What we should have done, but what we didn't do." Both speeches were loudly applauded and then Messrs. Edward F. Shea, John J. Dalton, Edward Bayles and Charles Sturtevant, rendered that ever popular selection "We Didn't Do a Thing to Them," written by Keeper John (Tom) Whitaker, and dedicated to the officers of the Charlestown prison.

Martin Conway, who takes care of the miscreant persons within the confines of Billerica, was in attendance and he told what the Billerica cops would do to the visitors if they ever met on the banks of the Concord river. Martin grew very eloquent and after describing the benefits of the Lowell shawls beyond us, told of the numerous groves and the facilities for playing ball in his burg. He said that he felt rather slighted when he learned that the game was to be held in North Chelmsford and intimated that he was glad that it had rained, for he said that when the game is held it will be on the grounds which are within his jurisdiction.

Joseph Mullaney, who was a farmer twirler in the New England league, but who now is kept busy turning the locks on the cells at the state prison, was one of the speakers, and he said that his little speech, and though he at times gets short of wind he loosened enough of Shakespearean verbosity, intermingled with baseball talk, to keep the crowd convulsed with laughter.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wood's speech Patrolman "Jack" Whelan, the head of the Lowell police baseball team, took the floor and gave an interesting account of how his men played the game last year and how they would have played it yesterday.

"Billy" Sanborn, who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but who has got round shouldered as a result of raising a moustache, managed to tell those assembled how he lost the game for the Charlestown gang last year by scoring seven errors. He said that he had studied the rules for the last seven months and that if the game had been played he would have vindicated himself.

Augustus E. Duncan, better known as plain "Gus," who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but now at "Stutes," and who was to have covered the "third bag" for the visitors, desecrated at considerable length on his proclivities as a ball player. He intimated that his sole desire was to wipe out the defeat which his companions met with last year and wanted to beat the Lowell team on its own stamping grounds.

Keeper John (Tom) Whitaker was given a chance to speak, but instead of speaking on matters pertaining to the occasion he drifted off into whistles, but stopped when someone shouted that "in is the man 'oo owns the whistles."

Patrolman Ed. Hill also had a few words to say, but Patrolman Tom Alroy when he started to tell about Polish weddings in Davidson street was told that there were no foreigners in the crowd and that the talk must be confined to baseball.

and suspecting that someone was trying to escape he rushed through to the other side of the pier. Drawing his revolver he fired three shots in the air, but this only had the effect of making the fleeing men increase his speed. At the head of the wharf he ran into the arms of Inspector Dowd, who grabbed him by the collar and held him until Inspector Weiss came along. Then Selling was taken back to the detention station and placed under guard.

Selling's stowaway companion, Johan Grunberg, who jumped overboard with him from the Winifred, died from exhaustion just as he was drawn from the water by the boat's crew from the Greenbrier.

Selling is an intelligent fellow. He is an expert stenographer and is believed to have held a responsible position in his own country. His efforts to escape being sent back lead many of the officials to believe that he may be wanted for some offense.

Selling will be handcuffed and taken on board the Winifredian just before she sails this afternoon. He will be locked up and carefully guarded until the liner is well on its way across.

THE PATTEN CASE

Department of Justice Issues Statement

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Attorney General Wickersham, in commenting on the indictments returned yesterday by the New York special federal grand jury against James A. Patten, Maurice H. Rothschild, F. B. Hugue, Wm. P. Brown, Eugene G. Seales, Sidney J. Harmon and Robert M. Thompson, growing out of the so-called "cotton-pool" said that the investigation which was held had satisfied the grand jury of the existence of the conspiracy and of its questionable characteristics.

In regard to indictments the following statement was given out last night by the department of justice: "These indictments are the result of the investigation commenced by the department of justice some time since based on information that the persons indicted with others had, in the early part of the year, formed a combination for the purpose of cornering the entire remaining supply of raw cotton of the crop of 1909 and to hold a substantial portion of the same under agreement not to make tenders in certain markets prior to about November 1, 1910 thus creating an artificial shortage in addition to the crop shortage in the supply available for the spinners and making it possible to require them to purchase thereafter at an arbitrary price fixed by the pool."

"At the same time agreements were said to have been entered into between representatives of a pool and a number of spinners whereby the latter agreed to join the conspiracy to the extent of purchases of several thousand bales of cotton to be removed from the market. Pursuant to this agreement, the pool acquired about 350,000 bales of raw cotton for delivery in May, which with a large amount already on hand, was to be lifted out of the three principal markets of the world. This complete control of the May market with the further purchase of several hundred thousand bales remaining supply for delivery in July or

August was intended to complete the monopoly of the remainder of the crop.

As the facts were presented to the department, this appeared to be a typical instance of a combination for the purpose of forestalling the market, securing the entire visible supply of a raw commodity during a period of months and securing the power to dictate the price to the consumer and as bearing upon the larger question, to which so much public attention has been directed, of the high cost of living, was considered by the department as requiring thorough investigation.

This investigation has resulted in satisfying the grand jury of the existence of the combination and of its criminal characteristics and the indictments have followed.

"It is not to be understood that this prosecution involves any question as to the propriety of methods of dealing in cotton on the New York cotton exchange or of the question of dealing in exchanges at all. It deals with specific case of a definite combination for an avowed and ascertained purpose, and that purpose one condemned by the act of congress—namely, to restrain and monopolize interstate trade and commerce in a commodity, the free and unrestricted use of which is of prime importance to the whole nation."

HIS BIRTHDAY

GOVERNOR DRAPER IS 52 YEARS OLD

HOPEDALE, June 18.—No one in Massachusetts has a better regard for June 17 than Gov. Draper, for in addition to his patriotic appreciation for the spirit and deeds that led to Bunker Hill being the memorable day in national history it is he has a strong personal interest in the day, for it is his birthday, and as such it is always observed in some simple way with his immediate family when practicable.

Yesterday was no exception to that home custom, and although during the day the guest of the Worcester club, yet this evening he extended all matters of business, however pressing, that he might uninterruptedly spend the anniversary with his family.

He reached home about 6:30 last evening and only broke away from his temporary seclusion to say to a correspondent last night that he was to celebrate his anniversary with a family dinner and was going to keep off whatever seemed likely to interfere with his home pleasure "as with a shotgun."

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the City Auditor Contains Some Interesting Facts

The annual report of the city auditor for the year 1909 is out and can be had for the asking at the city hall. It is the seventh-fourth annual report of the general treasury fund receipts and payments for the financial year beginning January 1, 1909 and ending December 31, 1909. In presenting his report to the city council the city auditor says:

To the Honorable, the City Council, Gentlemen:

In accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city of Lowell, I have the honor to transmit herewith, the annual report, showing the financial transactions of the city for the year ending December 31, 1909.

The report is arranged by schedules presenting the general treasury fund balances, receipts, appropriations, transfers, payments and much important information.

During the past year the new ordinance became effective making the treasurer's office the receiving and disbursing office, and the auditor's office the accounting office, thereby eliminating all duplications in accounts; a new uniform check system for the payment of bills has proved very beneficial to the general public, as has also the uniform payrolls for the city employees.

The reports of the treasurer, accountant, sinking fund commissioners, and the audit of trust funds are included in the book.

Respectfully submitted,
Charles D. Paige,
Auditor of Accounts.

RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS FOR THE YEAR CONSOLIDATED
Cash balance January 1, 1909	$245,690.70
Receipts to general treasury fund	$3,741,021.05
Temporary accounts	1,255,641.47
Cash receipts omitting duplications	$2,435,379.61
Payments from general treasury fund	3,781,607.95
Temporary accounts	1,255,641.47
Cash payments omitting duplications	2,535,966.45
Cash balance December 31, 1909	198,103.53

The following report by the expert accountants who audited the books and accounts of the city treasurer is made to the mayor, and is included in the auditor's report.

Hon. John P. McElhan, Mayor, City of Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: In accordance with the request made of us we have audited the books and accounts of your city treasurer and report thereon as follows:

We balanced the cash as found on March 2, 1910, and having obtained from the books certificates of balances and the checks which had come in to that time reconciled the bank accounts with the cash book of the city treasurer. We found the cash on hand and the balances in the banks to be as shown on the books and having verified all the footings for the past year, since our previous audit, we certify to the correctness of the cash account; we also certify that there were adequate vouchers for all payments for the year as shown to have been made since our last report.

We also verified the receipts and payments for the year with the reports of the same to the city auditor and found that they had all been correctly reported to and entered by the city auditor upon his books. As his annual report will give all the figures we do not deem it necessary to deal with them in this report.

We examined the receipts for taxes for the years 1901-1909, inclusive, as shown on the books of the city treasurer and collector and the reports of the same to the city auditor, and from that examination would report that all collections as shown to have been made were correctly reported to the city auditor and accurately entered upon his books.

Our examination of the collections of the sidewalk and sewer assessment assured us that they were correctly reported as made and that the books of the city treasurer and city auditor agree as to payments made and balances due on these assessments.

We also carefully verified the securities and cash balances as shown in the several trust and special funds which are in the custody of the city treasurer and in each instance we found the securities and cash to be correct as shown by the statements which were submitted by the treasurer and the sinking fund commissioners.

Last year we called attention to the matter of uncollected taxes for the years 1901-1909, inclusive, amounting to about $70,000, and would now state that the same collection now obtains as to the taxes of 1906 and 1907, and that the uncollected taxes for the seven years above named amount to about $105,000. We believe that substantially all of those taxes are uncollectable and we repeat the statement made last year that they are artificial assets and should be disposed of; we would again suggest that the exact amount for each year be recommended by the city treasurer and assessors to the city council.

HILL LIBEL SUIT

Defence Started Its Case Yesterday Afternoon

The plaintiff rested his case in the libel suits of Walter L. Hill vs. Eastern Cold Storage company, and certain directors of the company, and the witnesses for the defense were sworn.

W. A. Bule opened for the defense. He stated that the defense would show that the defendants, without malice and without carelessness, relied on information which they believed to be true, and that whatever they have done was done in the interest of stockholders of the Eastern Cold Storage Co.; that they did not go outside of their rights, nor give the circular any greater publicity than necessary under the circumstances.

Henry W. Ordway of Lowell, who was a stockholder, was called by the defense. Mr. Ordway told of being present at a meeting in 1907, when he criticized Mr. Hill's methods; thought dividends were paid when they were not earned. He spoke of a check, which he said, there was no depreciation. The witness wrote a letter to Mr. Hill, in which he declined to have his name used as a director. One reason given was that he could not approve of the business policy of the directors.

Mr. Chamberlain, the auditor, who testified previously, was examined by Mr. Murphy relative to his suggestion to Mr. Hill in regard to charging off for depreciation. Mr. Chamberlain said that his certification of the accounts meant simply that the figures on the books were correct—correctly added.

Mr. Murphy's examination of this witness was very much in detail, in reference to his reports on treasurer's accounts. He also testified to the fact of references to manufacture and sale of values, etc., contained on the reports, in which it was recorded that Mr. Hill and others received royalties. The witness said that in these accounts no estimate was made for the use of tools, lights, etc.

Mr. Chamberlain was on the stand when the session was adjourned until Monday morning, and the case will probably take all day Monday.

WHIST PARTY

IN AID OF FRENCH AMERICAN ORPHANAGE LAST EVENING

Mrs. Pascal Harnois and Mrs. Abraham L'Anglais gave a delightful concert, with ice cream party in aid of the French-American orphanage in the L'Anglais building in Ward street, last evening.

There was a large and merry attendance. The exercises opened with whist and after the whist a fine program was given under the direction of Miss Julia L'Anglais. Choral songs were sung by a chorus composed of Misses M. L. Lamy, E. Dionne, A. Lequin, J. Robillard, A. Hamel, C. Renaud, G. Lemieux, M. L'Amour, A. Leclerc, M. Robillard, L. Ouellette, S. Hamel, R. Thierault, B. Berrault, A. Renaud, J. L'Anglais, F. Bissonnette, C. Maillois, E. Manseau, A. Maillois, C. L'Anglais, A. L'Anglais, L. L'Anglais, W. Forget and C. Poirier. Misses Orea Champagne and Georgina Lemieux played piano solos. George Labranche and Wilfrid Forget sang and Mr. Henri Parize gave a recital. Mr. Alfred Harnois played the violin solo. A violin solo was played by Miss Julia L'Anglais, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Hebert. Rev. Fr. Brullard, O. M. I., addressed the assembly. Dr. A. G. Payette was general director.

The young women who served, and also assisted at the soiree were Miss Fier-Bissonnette, who had charge; Miss Julia, Corinne, Lunitina and Anna L'Anglais, Alma Lequin, Ida and Alma Renaud, Denise Courtois and Evelyn Hebert, and Mrs. Wilfrid Arvelin.

BOARD OF TRADE

TO START A MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

The membership committee of the board of trade met last evening and made plans to increase the membership from 700 as at present to 1000. The committee appointed in February brought in 269 new members and the present committee is desirous of doing as well.

It is proposed to hold meetings every Friday evening at the office of the secretary. Members of the committee who cannot attend the Friday evening meetings, will be expected to have a good excuse. It is understood that each member of the committee is expected to bring in new members each week, even if he finds it impossible to attend the weekly conference, even if no more than signing a couple of names for membership. The dues for the balance of the year are one-half the regular fees. It is proposed by the committee to wage a membership campaign from now until the date of the annual outing early in July. This outing is expected to surpass any previous effort of the kind ever held by the Lowell board of trade, and only members will be entitled to attend.

Lefty Wallace is back with Lynn again.

The Haverhill Record of June 16 says:

"Osborn, formerly of Lawrence and signed by Fleming yesterday, will probably be sent against his old teammates in the up-river city this afternoon, with Fullerton working tomorrow and Freil Saturday. The Lawrence Telegram has the following to say of Osborn's work: 'Pitcher Lefty Osborn was released by Mgr. Bannan Saturday night which brings the pitching staff down to four men—Mayhew, Buschman, Paulton and Lefty Osborn. Osborn showed good form in the two games he has pitched for the local and he ought to make good with some other team in the league. He has plenty of speed and a fine cross fire that was most effective when he used it here. With the staff down to four men, each pitcher will now be given more work to do and better results should be obtained.'"

But—on June 16 Osborn in a Lowell uniform lost a game to Fall River. Why don't you write to Pat Sullivan of the Brockton team for some Bull Durham. Your kind regards are to be had.

Jim Dowd, the Holy Cross pitcher, yesterday signed to play with Pittsburg. Dowd graduates Thursday and will report Friday to the team. Dowd has been from Holyoke, is a right-hander, but had trouble with his arm this spring. He has recovered from the trouble, he says.

Hamilton's introduction to Duffy as an umpire resulted in the Lynn manager being asked to vacate the new yard at Brockton. Duffy is a hard man to get acquainted with, while Hamilton always likes to be sociable.

That Fred Lake, is doing a little better today, his successor as manager of the Doves is shown by their standing in the National league race today. The Hubbies are 72 points ahead of where they were last year.

In the game at Worcester, yesterday, Manager Tom Low of New Bedford was shown the gate by Umpire Byrne in the first contest, but came back for the second contest with his fighting spirit. Again he was ordered to be quiet himself to the quietness prevailing outside the grounds.

Manager Steve Flanagan is determined to break that spell of hard luck that has been upon him all season. He has laid Henriksen on the bench. Streaser, who was with Lynn and who was touted by Lynn as the fastest fielder in the league, played his first game at Brockton Wednesday. Streaser is playing centre field. Klondike Smith of this city played right field for Brockton Wednesday. Manager Flanagan is determined to keep making changes until he gets better results.

Jimmy Miller, who is playing second for Lawrence, has taken a big jump in batting this week. Up to Wednesday night he had made six hits. He made two in Worcester on Monday, one on Tuesday and three at Haverhill Wednesday. His average jumped from .234 to .264. That is an increase of 40 points for one half of the week. If he continues that kind of sticking he will become more valuable to the Lawrence team.

Hamilton has said that he would like to get Pitcher Buckles, who has been with Lowell. Now is his chance.

Lynn has released Lentz, the great outfielder, who was touted as the greatest ever. He reported to Lynn last

Held Dancing Party at Willow Dale

The Iroquois Canoe club, one of the most popular organizations camping at Willow Dale, held a dancing party at the Dale dancing pavilion last evening. It was the fourth annual under the auspices of the club and like previous ones was a grand success, both socially and financially.

Despite the inclement weather the hall was taxed to its utmost capacity. The decorations of the hall and surroundings were exquisite. The pavilion was gaily set with lighted Japanese lanterns and streamers of bunting while the rink in which the dance proper was held, was daintily decorated with lighted incandescents and lanterns. Canoes, paddles and pillows, set in unique fashions about the corners of the hall, added greatly to the general effect as one looked in from the entrance.

CLASSY TEAM

ST. JOHN'S PREP. SCHOOL HAS FINE RECORD

The St. John Prep. school team of 1910 has lived up to the reputation made by the baseball lines representing the school in the past few years by going through a most successful season. The team has almost completed one of the hardest schedules ever tackled by a school nine and has not met with but two defeats. To date 17 games have been played. The defeats were administered by Boston English High and Melrose High school.

Four more games are left on the schedule and these are expected to result in victories for the Prep. team. The team was taken in hand at the season's start by James Phelan of Lynn and he has developed a nine that plays the game for all that is in it. They play real aside ball, being able to use the sacrifice hit and run and squeeze plays at the proper times and the team is fast, strong and possesses a bunch of hard hitting batsmen. The team is especially strong in the box, the two best men being in the lineup. One of the few schoolboys who has pitched no hit no run games, and Sheehan, the Connecticut boy, who will hold his own with the best.

The infield is composed of a set of classy fielders as it is made up of veteran material entirely. Captain Murphy has been holding down the first sack in tip top style. Comber, a Lawrence lad, has been taking care of second base with a style of a veteran and a short Monahan has covered himself with glory.

Besides strapping about everything that has been hit by his he has done excellent service in keeping the opposing base runners glued to the bag, and also his putting the ball onto the runners is worthy of mention.

On third Sullivan and Maguire have done well, these boys being very evenly matched. Joe Lator, the gridiron hero, has done the bulk of the catching, and Flannigan, his substitute, has also done good work. Lator has no superiors when it comes to pegging to the bases and he also shines with the stick. In the outfield nothing can equal the Prep. boys' speed, with Lynn in the class by himself as he fields and the center garden has been thoroughly watched after by him. Joyce in left has done good work and it is a bad ball that gets away from him. McGaffee in right has played a good game.

The result of games played to date by the team is as follows:
Burrket St. John's 9
St. Joseph's 6, St. John's 19.
Lynn Classical 3, St. John's 5.
Lynn English 0, St. John's 2 (no hit, no run).
Haverhill High 3, St. John's 3 (16 innings).
Melrose 2, St. John's 9.
Boston English 11, St. John's 6.
Salem High 5, St. John's 8.
Lawrence High 6, St. John's 16.
Salem High 1, St. John's 2.
Chelsea High 0, St. John's 2.
Peabody High 3, St. John's 5.
Boston College 1, St. John's 3.
Revere High 1, St. John's 6.
Peabody High 5, St. John's 6 (11 innings).
Beverly High 2, St. John's 3.

The regular meeting of Passaconaway tribe of Red Men was held last night. There was a large attendance of members and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. Sachem George Houle presided over the meeting. The nominations of tribal chiefs and great representatives to the great council of Massachusetts convention, to be held at Boston, were made and the election will be held at the next meeting.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Two applications were received and referred to a committee. The deputy great sachem, Joseph H. McNabo of Haverhill, notified the tribe that at the next meeting he would pay this tribe a fraternal visit, accompanied by a number of chiefs of Passaconaway tribe of Haverhill. The past deputy of this tribe, Frank W. White of North Andover, was present and spoke interestingly on the welfare of the order in general. K. of W. E. T. Goward gave a good account of the tribe's finances and membership.

Knights of Pythias

The regular meeting of Wamecet lodge, 26, K. of P., was held last night in the castle hall and a large amount of routine business was transacted. The memorial committee reported that all members had been notified to report at the castle hall at 9 o'clock on Sunday, June 19.

dressed man, of medium height, smooth shaven and intimated that he was in the town for the purpose of looking over the conditions with the intention of purchasing property if he found some to his liking.

He was very conversant and seemed to make friends with everyone with whom he came in contact. At times he had an automobile, but was seen several times in a neat looking buggy. Whether he stopped in either Forge Village or Graniteville is not known.

There is little doubt but that he was the person who knew "the lay of the land" for the gang with which he is connected.

Whether or not he went to either of the offices during the time that the mill was in operation is not known. He was seen in the vicinity of the different places by several persons.

Ye June Brides

This is the month of weddings and ye brides highly favor the 1847 Rogers' Silver Tableware. Our patterns of Colonial character are beautifully balanced and elegantly finished. They are not patterns of passing fashions, but of permanent good taste and warranted for durability—Silverware which will constitute the valued heirlooms of generations to come.

We also have for ye June Bride an elegant assortment of 10k, 14k and 18k Tiffany wedding rings. Always the latest and most up-to-date designs, and the most value for the money.

Lamson & Hubbard

Light in Weight. Holds Perfect Shape.

The L. & H. Sennett Straws are made for Summer wear, not just to keep the sun off. Though of an extremely light weight, they retain their shapes because of the L. & H. sizing and special drying and pressing process. Edges are carefully treated to prevent breaking down.

The oval is so shaped as to make an easy and comfortable fit, so that an L. & H. stays on without binding the head. The silk trimmings and linings are those that appeal to the well-dressed man. The "Man who Cares" lays his hat down so that the L. & H. mark shows.

Made in many proportions as to height of crown and width of brim, so that every well-dressed man can be suited.

street. There were two men in the machine while two others were standing near the door.

He asked them what they wanted, and they said that they had lost their key in the dark and were looking for it. They wanted him to open his store and give them something to eat. Hastily donning a few articles of wearing apparel, he entered the store and the thing which seemed to appeal to them was pigs' feet and they purchased five pounds.

Mr. Pigeon was unable to get a good look at the men in the automobile, but he describes the two who entered his store as gentlemanly looking men. They were well dressed and had every appearance of being on a joy ride and lost their way. There was nothing about their appearance which would indicate that they were connected with any nefarious business.

Went in Opposite Direction

The only time that Mr. Pigeon thought that there was anything suspicious about the men who awakened him was when they inquired the way to Harvard. He pointed out the direction, but instead of going the way which he indicated the machine was sent off in an opposite direction.

Organized Band of Burglars

There is every indication that the job was performed by an organized band of burglars which has been operating through Massachusetts for the past few months and are probably the men who a few months ago rode into Athol, broke into the postoffice in that place and when discovered shot their way out of town. A posse was formed but the men in the machine soon outdistanced their pursuers.

Lowell Police Notified

The Lowell police were notified immediately after the discovery of the break, and Supt. Welch immediately sent the inspectors out to be on the lookout for suspicious persons and the members of the department were also notified.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this morning, Supt. Welch had the following to say: "The break was a most daring one and there is no doubt but that it was done by expert criminals. Men of this class and have had a great deal of experience in just such work. Although our men are on the lookout for the men we have little or no description of any of them and if they are in an automobile, the number or description of which is not known, the chances are that they are more than a hundred miles away at the present time."

Wants Police Auto

"While I have never openly stated that there is a chance to improve the department this occasion makes me feel that we should have an automobile for the department. There are times that burglars, murders and various other violations of the law occur. We do not hear of it for some little time after the affair has happened. The criminal has a big start on us and our only means of following him is by bicycle, on foot or on horseback."

"The up-to-date criminals use automobiles and have the latest pattern of revolvers. In case they are caught in the act they are ready to shoot and shoot to kill. We have several plot guns which were purchased a couple of years ago, but what good are the guns unless we can get near the parties who have committed crime."

Prices Rose During the Last Few Minutes of the Session Today—They Were Practically Stationary For Nearly One Hour

NEW YORK, June 18.—The coincidence with the opening of the stock market of the passing of the Roosevelt naval parade distracted the attention of the brokers and dealers were merely nominal. Changes of an eighth to a quarter were indicated by the scanty transactions, the gain and losses being mixed.

More interest was manifested in the Roosevelt naval parade than in the stock market and speculation was in consequence at a standstill. The drift of prices was uncertain with a leaning downward.

The market closed steady. Prices rose in the last few minutes of the session after remaining practically stationary for nearly one hour.

The bride has been prominent in social affairs here, is a member of the Unity club, connected with the Unitarian church and several other organizations. The groom is in the lumber business with his grandfather, Isaac Mitchell of Brockton.

An engagement has existed for several months, and it was supposed that the marriage would not take place until fall. The bride's father contributed unobtrusively to the plans of the young couple. His daughter proposed a visit to friends in Brockton and he went as far as Boston with her.

She apparently took a car for Brockton, but later met Mr. Mitchell and they left for Nashua, N. H. After the marriage, they returned on an afternoon train and dined that evening at

SOLEMN SERVICE

Requiem for Rev. Fr. Ronan at St. Peter's

At St. Peter's church this morning a solemn high mass of requiem was sung for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Michael Ronan. The mass was requested by the teachers of the Christian Doctrine class, which Fr. Ronan organized and personally conducted up until his death. There was a large congregation present, embracing the entire teaching force of the Christian Doctrine class, as well as many of the pupils. Rev. Dr. Keleher was celebrant of the mass, Rev. W. George Mullin deacon, and Rev. John F. Burns sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. W. McKenney, rendered Terry's impressive requiem mass, solos being sustained by Miss May E. Whiteley and Mr. James E. Donnelly.

VALUE OF FRATERNAL HELP

Editor-Sun,
Dear Sir:
As a member of a fraternal organization, I wish to thank you for your editorial deploring the lack of real fraternal spirit among the members of the several fraternities; I mean the spirit that will cause the members to look after a brother member in distress, and as you suggest help him by sympathy and advice if in no other way. I thank you for this much needed advice and hope you will refer to it again.
Yours Respectfully,
J. W. S.

The above note is one of many such expressions received in regard to the same editorial. We may repeat that the lack of fraternal help seems to result from inadvertence and is not due to any want of brotherly love or of mutual sympathy among the members. It is an unwarranted assumption that every man is able to take care of himself and that the fact of his illness or of his getting into trouble is but a temporary diversion that he will soon overcome. That is the time to help a man, before his ailment or weakness has gone too far or before it has resulted in serious injury if not death or disgrace.

There is one kind of fraternal help which could be given easily and which would count for a great deal in some cases. It is of a negative character but valuable nevertheless. It is this: Don't put the cup to the lips of a man whom you know has a weakness for drink. On the contrary take care to help him overcome his failing when you see it dragging him down. Here is a single instance in which some members may be responsible for the downfall of a brother merely by failing to do their duty as men, as brothers and members of a common fraternity.

FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS IMPOSED UPON IN MILL CITIES

It is very evident from what we see in such factory cities as Lowell that some of the foreign nationalities who come here are imposed upon by false representations as to what they will find on their arrival here and the opportunities awaiting them.

The trans-Atlantic lines are weekly bringing many thousands of immigrants to our shores, most of them at the present time from the countries of southern Europe, Poland and the British Isles. Nearly all are directed to the factory cities of New England. It would appear that there is some underhand influence at work to cause them to select the factory cities in preference to farms or to the employment available farther west.

No doubt the letters sent from America to relatives in the countries mentioned color the conditions existing here in a manner that may inspire others to come out. The mere statement of the wages earned, without saying anything about the cost of living, is sufficient to give foreigners an idea that money can be picked up on the streets of American cities. Here lies one of the causes which give these people a very wrong impression of America and which leads to bitter disappointment after they come here.

But there are other causes, among them being the immigration agent, or rather we should say, the "emigration" agent because it is the agent of the steamship lines in Europe that spreads false ideas of the United States and misleading statements as to the amount of money that can be saved and earned. As an instance of this method of deluding the people of foreign nations and causing them to come to the United States we may mention the case of the Wood mill in Lawrence. Before that mill was completed there were large billboards erected in different parts of Italy, telling of vast opportunities for making money soon to be available at the Wood mill of Lawrence, Mass., and picturing the operatives leaving the mill with well filled pay envelopes and entering a bank to deposit their surplus funds.

Who was responsible for this species of deluding foreign peoples we are unable to say. It may have been the steamship lines; it may have been done under the direction of the American manufacturers acting through padrones in order to evade the alien contract law. The federal officials of the United States should look into these matters and see that the parties who attempt to impose upon the credulity of foreigners shall be punished or at least exposed.

It is bad enough to have foreigners under the most favorable conditions leave their homes, gather sufficient money to pay their passage and secure admission to the United States without being victimized afterwards by padrones or even by a factory system that would accept of their services only at a rate of wages far below what should be paid.

We have several small strikes on in the mills here at the present time as a result of the surplus supply of foreign help in our factories. The strikers were told that this is a bad time for them to precipitate a strike as the mills will lose nothing by shutting down for a while during the summer. The strikers replied that they do not care whether the mills shut down for the entire season as they were not making enough in the mills to make it an object for them to remain. They claim that their average wage is between $3.00 and $6.00 a week, and that it is, therefore, impossible for them to live at the present high cost of living. If their statement as to the wages be correct then of course the other part of their statement must be true because no man at the present time can save a cent on $5 or $6 a week. These men would be glad to be back again in their own country. They find that they were deluded in the first place when they came here, by false representations as to the opportunities to make money. At the present time they would gladly go to work on farms and are likely to leave the city unless the mills are willing to increase their wages.

This is but one of many instances that might be cited to show the cruelty of bringing these people from their homes in southern Europe to the factory cities of New England to work for starvation wages or else go idle. If they were in the western states they might have employment at fair wages on farms, on railroad lines or in the mines. But in the textile factories of New England they will never receive wages sufficient to warrant them in establishing and maintaining comfortable homes such as working men should have.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Gov. A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota will be nominated by acclamation at the republican state convention in St. Paul on June 21, unless some entirely unforeseen circumstance intervenes. The two men most prominently mentioned to run against him have refused to allow their names to be used.

W. Armstrong Perry, for the past nine years supervisor in instruction of the Salem Young Men's Christian Assn., has resigned to accept a similar position in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Before going to Salem, Mr. Perry was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse, N. Y. He fitted for his profession in Harvard college. Through his efforts the usefulness of the Y. M. C. A. in Salem has been greatly enlarged. He will assume his new duties September 1.

Miss Elizabeth Nourse, the American artist who lives in Paris, has just had one of her paintings purchased by the French government. It is called "The Closed Shutters" and has been bought for the Luxembourg Gallery. Miss Nourse began her art career in Cincinnati as a pupil of her brother-in-law, Beau Pitman, a brother of Isaac Pitman, the inventor of shorthand. She has long been an active member of the Woman's Art Club of Cincinnati.

Miss Job of Queensdown, Tasmania, is said to be the only woman who has ever sat within the bar at a Wesleyan Methodist conference. When she first took her seat one minister protested that the conference was composed only of ministers and laymen and that they had no power to admit the best lady in the land. All others, including the president of the conference, took the position that women were included as laymen and Miss Job retained her seat within the bar.

President A. C. McKenzie of Elmira college, Elmira, N. Y., announces that Elmira college has come into possession of $1,000 worth of new and used several new buildings and make many improvements. Of this sum $50,000 comes from the late John S. Kennedy and $80,000 from Andrew Carnegie. The latter gift was on condition that the college raise a like amount. Scores of alumni and friends subscribed for this fund and were successful in obtaining the amount needed. Ground has been broken for a new school hall. Elmira college is the oldest college for women in the United States.

The family of Mr. Joseph A. Nesmith has gone to their summer home in Conway, N. H., for the season.

SINKS TO DEATH

Boy Swallowed Up By Quicksand

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 18.—Far from help and with only a small companion to witness his agony, 8-year-old George Bergman, met death in a horrible form, when he was slowly swallowed up by quicksand on the banks of the Whitehall river, north of this city yesterday afternoon.

With Julius Wool, a child of his own age, he had gone to the river to swim when the accident happened.

The Wool boy ran as fast as he could for help, but the body of Bergman was not recovered for three hours later, when Joseph Rogove succeeded in digging it out.

POLICE OFFICERS

WERE ASSAULTED WHILE MAKING AN ARREST

BOSTON, June 18.—While Sergt. William L. Hubblewhite and Patrolman William J. Moody of the Chelsea police were making an arrest shortly before 7 last night, they were set upon by a number of young men, one of whom, it is charged, struck Moody a blow on the left eye. The crowd succeeded in securing the release of the prisoner, but only for a few seconds, as he was recaptured by Sergt. Hubblewhite.

The young men, some 10 or 12 in number, were standing outside of a saloon at the corner of Broadway and Williams street and the police say were obstructing the travel of foot passengers. They were ordered to move on and all but one obeyed. The police charge that Sylvester J. O'Brien, 28 years old, of 186 Williams street, refused to comply with the order and he was placed under arrest.

The young man, according to the police, resisted arrest, and while the two policemen were walking across the street with him he put up, they say, a struggle to gain his freedom.

One of the young men then struck Patrolman Moody. Moody's eye was badly swollen and blackened.

DRACUT

Edmund Henry Gunther, a pupil at the Parker Avenue school, was yesterday awarded the gold medal donated by the Parker Avenue School Alumni association as an award to the pupil of the eighth grade of the school having attained the best rank in scholarship, deportment and attendance for the year.

The recipient of the medal is 13 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Gunther of 9 Upland street.

Miss Marion McLaughlin, president of the Alumni association, presented the medal.

The exercises attending the presentation were most informal. A few of the parents of the children were present. The recitations and vocal numbers were given in chorus by the children of the grammar school under the direction of their teacher, Miss Helen M. Boyd.

The graduation exercises which featured the closing of the Parker Avenue school last June will not take place this year. Sub-Committee man John A. Hutchinson, who the master of the referred, declined to dispense with the preparations of a program for closing day.

TO SUE GOVERNOR

Tex Rickard Threatens an Action

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Whether the Jeffries-Johnson fight is held or not, Tex Rickard promises to demonstrate to the sporting world that he is a fighter as well as the two heavyweights. Rickard declares the fight will be held, and Reno, Nev., is now the most likely place for the contest. In the meantime Rickard wants to sue Governor Gillett and Attorney General U. S. Webb on the grounds that they have caused him to lose a small fortune by withholding their decision on whether the fight could be held in San Francisco.

BILLERICA

A well attended concert and ball was given in the town hall in Billerica last night by the members of the graduating class of the Lowell High school. It proved to be the social success of the season, excelling in brilliancy the efforts of the graduating classes of previous years.

During the early part of the evening a reception was held, the 11 graduates receiving their friends.

The grand march was started shortly after 9 o'clock and was led by Edward Ryan and Miss Ruth Wild. They were followed by Earl Costello and Miss Laura Marie Hentz, Evan Nason and Miss Kathryn Nason, Edward Riley and Miss Alice Riley, and about 60 other couples.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Hubbard's orchestra of Lowell. The members of the class acted as floor officers. They were Misses Laura Marie Hentz, Ruth Louise Wild, Bertha Ellen Dimock, Alice Winnifred Higgins, Florence Blanche Dutton, Kathryn Nason, Evelyn Augusta Spaulding and Messrs. Harvey Percival Brown, Evan Albert Nason and Dwight Leverett Dimock.

AT SHEEPSHEAD

OLAMBALA WON THE BIG RACE

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, N. Y., June 18.—On a track closed for mud, R. T. Wilson Jr.'s game 4-year-old Olambala won, yesterday, the 27th suburban handicap, after one of the most sensational races ever run under the stewardship of the Coney Island Jockey club. Prince Imperial, the entry of the Woodhaven stable, was second, and James R. Keene's fleet colt, Ballot, generally thought invincible at the distance, and ruling favorite at odds of 7 to 5, finished third, ridden out.

Yesterday, for the first time since the anti-betting crusade began, the law's prohibition was taken literally and, under special instructions said to have been called by W. K. Vanderbilt, prince of the race track, eighty special detectives saw to it that not even oral wagers could be laid by a professional.

BOLD SAFE BLOWERS

Robbed Safes of the Abbott
Worsted Company

—Used an Auto in Their Work
and Secured About $400—
Asked for Pigs' Feet in Grocery
Store at Forge Village

Two of the most daring breaks that have been perpetrated in this vicinity for years occurred early this morning when the safes in the offices of Abbott & Co. worsted manufacturers in Graniteville and Forge Village were blown open and about $400 in money removed.

That the breaks were made by professional burglars seems to be positive for there was every evidence that nitro glycerine was used on both safes and the work was done in a manner which indicated that the workers had had previous experience in safe blowing.

The safe at the office in Forge Village was a rather old one and enough of the explosive material was used to blow the safe almost to smithereens. In Graniteville, however, the safe was a practically new one and only the lock was blown out.

Despite the fact that either one of the members of the party or a person who is connected with the gang spent some time within a week reconnoitering the different premises he failed to tip off his companions of the right day to crack the safes, for yesterday was payday at both the mills and according to what information a representative of The Sun could glean there was a stranger in the town of Westford last week. He was a well known local character.

Came in Automobiles

The fact that the burglars are professional and are probably the same gang which has been terrorizing western Massachusetts and various points of New England during the past several months is evident for they came in automobiles.

That they were daring and seemed to disregard any attempt at capture was also evident, for either before or after the places were burglarized they stopped at a house in Forge Village and aroused a man to give them something to eat.

State Police and the Case

Shortly after the breaks were discovered word was telephoned to the state police and this afternoon State Inspectors Charles E. Byrne and Frank Hardman came to Lowell. They spent some little time in Lowell looking up clues and then went to Graniteville and later to Forge Village, where they investigated the premises.

Plans Carefully Laid

The plans for breaking into the offices of both mills were carefully laid and according to what information a representative of The Sun could glean there was a stranger in the town of Westford last week. He was a well known local character.

Greeted by All Classes

NEW YORK, June 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, picturesque statesman and cosmopolitan traveler, was greeted back to his native land today by such a demonstration of popular enthusiasm and personal devotion as has seldom, if ever, been accorded to a returning American traveler. Each step in this eventful homecoming from the time he disembarked from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria until his march down Broadway amid the tumultuous demonstrations of vast throngs of people, was one continuous ovation and tribute of affection.

At 5.12 this morning Mr. Roosevelt left the steamer amid the roar of big guns from battleships and land forts and a pandemonium of steam whistles from water craft and from the factories along the water front.

Then, aboard the revenue cutter Androscoogin he moved at the head of an imposing marine parade up the Hudson river to Riverside drive and back again to the battery amid the continuous demonstration of water craft and the assembled multitude on shore.

The landing at the battery was the signal for another clamorous ovation. Here Mayor Gaynor extended official greeting and Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly but significantly of the interest and part he will continue to take in public affairs.

At 11 o'clock the start up Broadway began, through densely massed throngs extending for five miles along the main thoroughfare of the city. Everywhere the returning traveler met the same whirlwind of demonstration greetings—as he passed Wall street, farther on as he moved through Park place and the business section and then through the throngs in Union and Madison squares and along Fifth avenue. Mr. Roosevelt stood erect in his carriage most of the time, his left hand in his right hand, waving responsive greeting to the cheering throngs. By noon the popular welcome was practically concluded and Mr. Roosevelt joined relatives for the afternoon, returning to his home at Oyster Bay later in the day.

A canvas canopy protected Roosevelt and Mayor Gaynor while speaking but everybody else sat in the blinding sun. It was very hot and the humidity made the heat more oppressive. In the carriage following Mr. Roosevelt's in the land parade were Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Capt. Butt, Mr. Leeb and Judge Gary. In the third carriage were Secretary of the Navy Meyer, George R. Sheldon, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Commander Smith. Standing upright in his carriage Mr. Roosevelt bowed right and left in acknowledgment of cheers from the crowd along lower Broadway.

Welcomed By Roosevelt

"This beats Europe," said Col. Roosevelt as he stepped from the Manhattan to the larger cutter Androscoogin as it lay off quarantine. A cheer greeted the ex-president as he came aboard the Androscoogin and was welcomed by Cornelius Vanderbilt, former Judge Elbert Gary of the United States Steel corporation, and scores of men prominent in the world of finance, industry and politics who composed the large reception committee.

"Well, this is just bully," continued the colonel, who with his silk hat in hand was soon engulfed in a swarm of admiring and political associates. They hastened to the afterdeck of the Androscoogin, where the first reception of the day was held. Chairman Vanderbilt presented Mr. Roosevelt with a welcome medal presented by the city of New York, and Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I can't tell you how deeply I appreciate this welcome."

As the colonel stepped from the gangplank to the deck of the Androscoogin he caused a laugh when he espied District Attorney Stinson of the federal court, who presented the sugar trust by crying: "Hello, sugar trust."

Met Rough Riders

Mr. Roosevelt was in his element. As the crowd pressed about he shook one after another by the hand exclaiming with his old friends words of greeting. To Captain Crosby of the rough riders who introduced him to the reception committee as the various members passed, he said:

"This is just the kind of thing I expected. I am so pleased; this is all so fine and magnificent."

General George Wingate, who is a distant cousin of the colonel of Egypt was warmly welcomed by the returning hunter, who, seizing General Wingate by the hand, said:

"By George, the star told me to be sure to give you his regards."

"Don't talk circulation," and Mr. Roosevelt quickly taking advantage of the point, cried:

"Well, maybe you think we are getting up a pink sheet sporting supplement."

Senator Grady, minority leader of the New York legislature, who was in that body when Col. Roosevelt first entered the political field as a state assemblyman, was accorded a hearty greeting, the colonel saying:

"Well, Tom, I'm glad to see you," and then turning to a group of newspapermen, he said:

"There came to see me one day in the executive chamber with a photograph of mine Grady, and asked me for an autograph on it. After I signed I said to him: 'When you go back to the senate chamber are you going to call me a janitor or a senator?' and he quickly replied, looking me straight in the face: 'I'm going to call you Col. Bullard.'"

It was not under the awning of the afterdeck of the Androscoogin, but Col. Roosevelt's high spirits showed no diminution. To the former secretary of the treasury, Cortelyou, the colonel said: "Oh, George, this is just fine of you to come out here and meet me."

A young college student of the University of California stepped up to the ex-hunter, who greeted him, saying: "You ought to be here to welcome me. I have given an elephant to your university and all I can say is it is not white."

Congressman Bennett of Brooklyn as he stepped up to grasp the hand of Col. Roosevelt was drawn close while the hunter said:

"I've got something to say to you but I can't say it before these newspapermen."

"Well, well, I declare, here's Jimmy Oliver," said Colonel Roosevelt as the veteran New York city assemblyman who has known Colonel Roosevelt many years stepped forward.

"We have been in the assembly together and we have never allowed the constitution to interfere between friends."

There was thunder and lightning and some rain (emphasis on the some), you considered a storm is but a show. For he it from us to think for one moment that you didn't notice it. No greater insult could be offered. When the rain that was ushered in by thunder, and "by thunder" it was thunder, commenced to fall it didn't come in drops—it just poured down, and baseball devotees were sooner than a child mill apple orchard. Here in this occasion, however, we did not despair of the game.

The oldest and best sporting writer in New England is always with us. He said words that sounded "all-fired" encouraging to fellows who feared the same or games would be called off.

This is what he said: "There will be a ball game today." When he said that he stood right up and looked us all squarely in the face. "The wind was from the north, and when the storm cleared away it was found that the tank was battered and bruised and scared and rent. The bolt, or whatever it was that hit the tank, bounced from the roof. It did not go down through the building."

When Mr. Roosevelt met the rough riders at the Battery he arose in his carriage and called out to them: "I certainly love all my boys."

The parade reached 59th street just before 1.30 and was disbanded. Col. Roosevelt stepped from his carriage and with Mr. Vanderbilt and Mayor Gaynor walked over to where the rough riders were drawn up. He gave Col. Brody his hand and chatted with him for a moment and then went down the ranks of the rough riders and gave each man a cordial handshake. The rough riders continued their plaudits as the colonel covered an automobile and was driven down Fifth avenue.

On the way up Fifth avenue a little boy made his way out from the lines of spectators and handed Col. Roosevelt a bunch of carnations which the little fellow told the ex-president had been purchased with treasured savings. Col. Roosevelt cordially thanked the lad for his self-sacrificing devotion while the sidewalk crowds cheered their appreciation.

6 O'CLOCK 131 ARRESTED

Round-Up Made During Celebration at Charlestown

BOSTON, June 18.—One hundred and thirty-one persons were arrested in Charlestown last night, the largest number that was ever taken into custody in that district on Bunker Hill day. The number included several women. Most of the arrests were on charges of drunkenness, but scattered through the number were several for violation of the city ordinances in regard to the use of fireworks and firearms and for other causes.

Early in the evening the crowds began to flock to Charlestown, and as the hours passed they became more and more boisterous, surpassing the crowd of the night before both in numbers and noise. The Charlestown police were working single-handed, the details from the town stations which did duty the "Night Before" having been recalled.

About 11 o'clock the police decided it was time the crowds began to disperse and three squads of officers were formed. One, headed by Lieut. Garde, descended upon the midway which had been established at Sullivan square, and after ordering the places to cease business, started the crowds moving.

Another squad headed by Sergeant Killian went through Main street from City square to Sullivan square, and the third, under Sergeant Webster, took in City square, Chelsea street and part of Bunker Hill street. On all hands men and women unable to take care of themselves because of over indulgence in liquor were found and were hurried away to the police station. A few favored ones got a ride in the patrol wagon, but the majority were walked to the station by the officers.

When the final count was made it was found that the station, which contains but seventeen cells, which, under ordinary circumstances, would accommodate but thirty-four prisoners, contained 131. The probation officer was sent for, and at 1 o'clock this morning he began releasing the first offenders who were in condition to go home, and nearly half of those who were arrested had departed before daylight. Several others were able to secure bail and so were also allowed to go.

HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE

BOSTON, June 18.—F. J. Wood, the South End grocer, who was arrested on a charge of perjury Thursday afternoon in connection with the trial of William A. Keliber, was admitted to $2000 bail today. Keliber remained in jail as his friends were unable to raise $50,000 for his bond.

REP. MELLEN BURIED

WORCESTER, June 18.—One of the largest congregations ever seen in St. John's Roman Catholic church assembled today to pay a final tribute of respect to the memory of Representative James H. Mellen. Those present included a delegation from the house of representatives headed by Speaker Walker. The service consisted of a solemn high mass of requiem celebrated by Mgr. Thomas Griffin. Interment was in St. John's cemetery.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT CASE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The chances of a "verdict" from the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee at the present session of congress are remote. The committee held a meeting behind closed doors but it was announced at its conclusion that no action had been taken and that an adjournment had been taken until next Saturday when the case would be discussed further.

ALLEGED BURGLAR STATE ASSOCIATION

BOSTON, June 18.—A young man, alleged to be a store-broker, broke away from Patrolman Dale of division 5, who used to be a crack amateur sprinter, near the police station at East Dedham street about daylight yesterday morning.

Dale had to chase the fugitive nearly one mile, the capture being made in Castle square, where the alleged burglar surrendered after Dale fired several shots into the air.

He described himself to the police as James Boyle, 23 years old, of 1423 Washington street. With Daniel J. Driscoll, 34 years old, of 1072 Beanning street, East Boston, and Artemus Collins, 22 years old, of 256 Doyler street, he was arrested by Policemen Jackson and Dale, following a break in Eugene Grant's liquor store at 673 Harrison ave.

The patrolmen were taking the prisoners to the station when Boyle slipped away, Jackson clung to Driscoll and Collins while Dale chased Boyle.

The trio, it is charged, stole eight quarts of whiskey from Grant's store. After being measured and pictured at police headquarters they were each held in $1200 for the grand jury, as they waived examination when arraigned in the municipal court.

Bernard S. Page, David Banks and Eugene Brown, colored porters employed on sleeping trains by the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., who were arrested by Inspectors Shields and Pelton Thursday afternoon for stealing tickets from the corporation, had their cases continued until June 20, when they arraigned in the municipal court.

OF ELKS WAS FORMED IN BOSTON LAST NIGHT

BOSTON, June 18.—A state association of Elks was formed last night at the Boston Lodge home when seven delegates, representing more than thirty lodges, met and elected temporary officers and appointed committees to perfect an organization similar to those already existing in other states.

Many past and present exalted rulers and other district deputies were present. The purpose is to make a federation of the state lodges, membership in which shall be open to any member of the individual lodges, and which shall, by its numerical strength, be in a position to further the purposes of the order and advance the interests of the separate lodges to an extent that would otherwise be impossible. The history of all other state associations of Elks has been one of success and has proved a great benefit to the order at large.

James H. Nicholson of Springfield, past district deputy, was elected temporary chairman, with power to appoint an executive committee of fifteen to present ways and means for perfecting the organization. Other officers elected were J. Clifford Entwistle of Salem, secretary, and James L. Johnson of Boston, secretary.

Notices will be sent to every lodge in the state inviting their co-operation in the movement.

CURB BROKERS

RUN FOR COVER AS THE POLICE APPEAR

NEW YORK, June 18.—There was real excitement in the Curb market yesterday when toward the close of the day a patrol wagon laden with police came down the street and the patrolmen jumped out and started into the crowd. About one-third of the crowd scattered. There was in mind the recent raid on the United Wireless office and fear that something else was on.

As many of the transactions permitted in that market are open to suspicion, the run to cover was very amusing to the brokers who handle real goods on the Curb. It was a very sheepish crowd of Curb brokers who were laughed at when they came back to watch the police tear down the ropes and stakes, preparing for the crowd when Colonel Roosevelt passes up Broadway today.

For many who have the street clear in case of accident and to have room for the crowds that will seek other streets than Broadway in going down to Battery park.

BULLET IN HEART NEW YORK BOY MAY HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Paul Hamburger, a youth employed as secretary by Dr. Saml Ellis, known as a Hindu psychic, was found in a room of his employer's house yesterday with a revolver bullet through his heart and the weapon lying beside him. Dr. Ellis, the police say, admitted he bought the revolver yesterday morning and left it in his desk. The believe Hamburger shot himself accidentally while examining the weapon.

The police started an investigation of the fatality.

Dr. Ellis was locked up last night without had pending an inquiry into Hamburger's death. Examination showed no powder marks on Hamburger's body, discrediting the theory of suicide to some extent.

GOV. GILLETT DEFENDS THE HONOR OF HIS STATE

ANNUAL REUNION Of Old Co. G Associates at American House

The members of the Old Company G Associates—18 in number—met at the New American House in Central street yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the 39th annual reunion. Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock after which a business meeting was held.

Since the last reunion, April 15th, 1905 five members of the association have passed away, they being:

William B. Tingley, Providence, R. I., September 22, 1909; Randolph C. Lord, Lowell, December 30, 1909; Charles H. Richardson, Lowell, January 28, 1910; George W. Hall, Haverhill, February 8, 1910; and Frederick J. Small, Lowell, February 16, 1910.

The members of the organization present were: Capt. George L. Cady, Lowell; Franklin S. Peavey, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; Charles B. Kitchen, Lowell; Manlius Knowles, Lowell; Andrew Liddell, Lowell; William H. Spaulding, Lowell; Alonzo C. Grant, Exeter, N. H.; John M. Averill, Boston; George Healey, Newark, N. J.; George W. Hinton, Somerville; S. Augustus Lestest, Wakefield, Mass.; William A. Morse, York, Pa.; Albert S. Stucke, West Lebanon, Me.; Samuel E. Stearns, Three Rivers, Mass.; and Alfred A. Sawyer, Melrose Highlands. Major Charles A. Stott, who was a line officer in the Sixth regiment during the war, and who is an honorary member of the Associates, was also present.

The Old Company G Associates were mustered into the service August 31, 1862 and were mustered out, June 3, 1863. They were in the Seventh Army Corps, First Division, Foster's Brigade. The members spent the greater part of their time in Virginia and North Carolina where they participated in the battles of the Deserted House, the siege of Suffolk, Carville and Hahon Church.

At the present time there are 23 members of the organization living. The death list numbers 52, with six members unaccounted for, but who in all probability are dead.

After the dinner the business session was held. The first matter up was the annual election of officers, the following being chosen: President Franklin S. Peavey, Lowell; vice president, Manlius Knowles, secretary, William H. Spaulding, Lowell; treasurer, Andrew Liddell, Lowell; executive committee, Charles B. Kitchen, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; and Henry C. Hutchinson of Lowell.

Letters were read from Frank Bancher, Birmingham, Michigan; Geo. F. Turbell, East Poperell; W. B. Atkins, Durand, Wisconsin; H. T. Baurand, Melrose Falls, Vt.; Charles H. Bassett, Hudson, N. H.; G. B. Coburn, Boston; F. K. McAlvin, Boston; C. H. Parmenter, Oakland, Cal.; J. H. Sears, Chelsea; Charles Spencer, Newport News, Va.; and John Spencer, Meriden, Conn. The letter of Mr. Parmenter held a poem of three stanzas, which created considerable merriment among the veterans.

It was voted to send a letter of greeting to the 13th Indiana Veterans association, and votes of thanks were given the secretary and treasurer of the Company G Associates. After the business meeting there was much reminiscing, in which all the veterans participated. As a guest during the afternoon was present Col. Melvin Bent, of Lawrence.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Nominations today include the following: Minister to Roumania, Serbia and Bulgaria, John R. Carter of Maryland.

GIRL WAS RUN OVER WORK ON STREET

But She Was Not Injured by Subway Cars

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Edith Hardcastle, living at the Hotel Regent, yesterday had one of the narrowest escapes from death that has been recorded in many years. The accident occurred in the subway at 72nd street. Two cars passed over her. When horrified passengers and trainmen went to assist in the work of removing what everyone felt certain would be a mutilated form, the young woman helped in the work of rescue. As the rescuers tried to drag her out, she crawled part of the way. She was suffering from shock and from the effects of her fall from the platform. Her escape was due to her slenderness and the fact that her dress did not catch in any of the network of material beneath the cars.

Miss Hardcastle's friends last evening said she was the luckiest girl in some respects, in New York. Recently she had an escape from which they all congratulated her. She was reported engaged, and it is said the date for the marriage was set. Then it was learned that the fiance then was married.

Her accident yesterday brought another lucky escape. She was at the 72nd street station when a southbound train arrived. She was seen near the tracks. Edwin Emerson, a Rough Rider, here to welcome Roosevelt, sprang to her aid, but too late. She tumbled and fell upon the tracks. The train was rolling into the station. Motorman H. E. Bleecker saw her fall. He put on the brakes and reversed the power, but the train rolled over her, and the motorman shut his eyes as the hundred persons on the platform screamed.

Miss Hardcastle was dazed when reached, and a policeman insisted upon taking her to the West 69th street station. There she said she had no recollection of anything except a dizziness.

The girl's father, head of the firm of Horcastle & Flint, commission merchants at 20 Green street, was informed of his daughter's arrest and went at once to the police station. She was released and taken to the hotel.

At the hotel there was talk of the romance in the life of the young woman, and her former lucky escape. Hardcastle denied the story of a romance.

"My daughter fell under the train by accident, and it was foolish of the police to make a charge as they did," he said.

In west side court, where the girl was arraigned, Mr. Hardcastle repeated his denial. "My daughter has been ill lately," he said, "and I had planned to take her to the country tomorrow. I intend to take her to Canada and Europe, so she can recover her health."

Miss Hardcastle, who is a pretty, light-haired girl, accompanied her father and corroborated his statement to the magistrate. She was released then.

A newspaper received a letter late last night from Mr. Emerson, stating that while he tried to save Miss Hardcastle she fell accidentally under the train. He said the report given out by the police, that he struggled to prevent the girl from jumping was erroneous.

BODY RECOVERED Man Was Missing From Home

NEWPORT, R. I., June 18.—The body of Moses Butler, a farmer's helper who had been missing from his home in Middleton since Monday, was found floating in the water near the shore of second beach pond in Middleton today. Butler was 36 years of age. It was impossible to determine whether Butler committed suicide or was drowned while in bathing.

FORMER PREMIER ACQUITTED COPENHAGEN, June 18.—The high state court yesterday acquitted former premier J. C. Christensen, of complicity with former Minister of Justice Albert in extensive frauds. Former Minister of the Interior Berg was found guilty and fined $250.

Albert, who previously resigned as minister of justice in September, 1908, was sentenced to the prison and confessed a long career of crime. Estimates of his dealings went as high as $5,000,000 and as a result of his dishonesty a large number of persons were reduced to penury.

HANGED HIMSELF STOCKBRIDGE MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

STOCKBRIDGE, June 18.—Harry Babcock, a plumber, aged 48, committed suicide by hanging, sometime last night, at the Stockbridge railroad station.

He fastened a rope to one of the platform joists and jumped off a truck.

His father-in-law, William Whitbeck, committed suicide in Stockbridge two weeks ago by drinking carbolic acid, and the act preyed on the mind of Babcock.

Three days after the Whitbeck suicide, Babcock remarked, "Well, I'll be the next to go." He could not sleep, he said.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—With 55 of the best professional players in the United States contending for the ten prizes excellent golf was expected in the final day's play for the national open championship on the course of the Philadelphia Cricket club at Wissahickon. Alexander Smith of Wyke, a country club of New Rochelle, N. Y., led the field at the start of the morning round of 18 holes with 140 strokes for the 36 strokes played yesterday.

The course was heavy from rain which fell during the night.

WORK ON STREET Was Delayed by the Rain Today

Had the weather clerk been a little bit more considerate the street department would have finished with the paving job in Prescott street today, but because of so much unfavorable weather the job will run into Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

The work of paving Middlesex street with granite block paving from Howard street to Nichols street was begun this forenoon. Supt. Putnam did intend to start the work at the railroad crossing but finally decided to start in at Howard street in order to leave space enough for teams beyond the crossing.

Plain Street Closed

Plain street is closed to travel and will not be opened again until the grade crossing has been abolished there. The contractors are on the job and they say that they are under obligations to rush the work. Tomorrow will be a busy day for the contractors. The police in working Friday but there are tracks that have to be moved temporarily and Sunday is the best day to move them because of the few trains on that day. There will be considerable house moving as a result of the grade crossing work. Geo. F. Tilton has moved one house from the corner of Lincoln and Quebec streets to the corner of Main and Lincoln streets and he has another house that is all set up and ready to be moved.

BANKER'S SON KILLED BY FALL FROM HOME MADE FLYER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Eugene Speyer, the 17 year old son of the late Walter Speyer, a banker, was killed yesterday by falling 50 feet from a home-made glider, which was being given its first test at the Chestnut street entrance to the Presidio reservation.

Young Speyer, who had been experimenting with aerial craft for some time past, yesterday morning, accompanied by his brother John and two friends, Carlton and William Gray, started to give the craft a test flight. William Gray acted as chauffeur in the automobile.

Speyer got in the seat of the motor and Gray fastened the lines generally used to get the machine in the air, to the rear of the automobile. Gray then started at a good rate of speed, and the motorless aeroplane, instead of going into the air a distance of 16 or 20 feet, as was expected, seemed to catch a favorable breeze and went up fully 50 feet before Gray, who was running the auto, saw to what height his companion had gone.

As soon as Gray realized the dangerous position of the glider he stopped his machine. The blades of the glider caught the gusts of wind and it almost turned turtle in midair. Speyer lost his seat and fell into the canvas blades, which were not strong enough to sustain his weight, and, tearing through, he fell to the pavement below.

'SOLDIERS MONUMENT

DOVER, June 18.—In honor of her soldiers who died while fighting for the freedom of their country from the rule of King Philip's war to the present day, the town of Dover today dedicated a soldiers' monument. Governor Eben Draper delivering the dedication. A large assemblage gathered in the village square and witnessed the unveiling of the monument by Mrs. Martha Colburn and Miss Esther Bond.

MURDER MYSTERY

Body of Man Found In Trunk

NEW YORK, June 18.—A new murder mystery developed today with the finding of the body of an unidentified man packed in a trunk in the hallway of a house on Goerik street. The police took the trunk and body in charge and a detail of detectives immediately began an investigation.

An hour after the discovery the body was identified as that of Moses Sachs, a jewelry salesman. It was only a short time before the body was found that his two sons, Isador and Moses, Jr., had gone to police headquarters to report that their father had left home yesterday afternoon with $2000 worth of jewelry in his possession and had not returned.

The police found that the rope bound trunk containing the body had been left at 2 Goerik street this morning by an expressman. The janitress, not knowing to whom it belonged, asked the police to remove it. The trunk was taken to the nearest police station, where the body, bent double with the head against the knees, was discovered in the trunk.

Sachs was formerly proprietor of a Houston street jewelry store. Up to noon the police had found no clue to the circumstances under which he had been murdered.

ONLY FIVE DRUNKS

Police Court Session Was a Brief One

The police court session today was a short one, taking only about 15 minutes of the court's time.

Of the five drunks, two were released by the probation officer before the session.

Alfred Durand and John Donnelly, two drunks, will journey to the state farm this afternoon, and James Murray, a vagrant, will accompany them. Patrick Harrington, for drunkenness, received a sentence of three months in jail.

Matthew Ryan, charged with being a stubborn child, was placed on probation.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF JUNIOR HOLY NAME SOCIETY OF ST. PATRICK'S

On Thursday next the members of the junior branch of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church will hold their annual picnic at the picnic grounds of Canobie Lake park. Plans for the affair are completed and the picnic gives every assurance of being the best and most successful the society has ever conducted. The last meeting, the spiritual director of the society, with the co-operation of the other brothers of the school, has arranged a list of sports which will suit the most fastidious of the members. Suitable prizes will be given to the winners of the various events.

The society will receive its monthly communion tomorrow morning at the 8:30 o'clock mass. A special meeting of the society will be held immediately after the mass in the school hall on Suffolk street, when the minor details of the picnic will be acted upon. The leaving time of the special train on Thursday morning will be made known and the committee in charge is very anxious to have every member present.

The lecture committee which arranged and made a success of the series of lectures held by the society during the past winter, made its final report to the society at the last meeting. The series held during the winter months was the first that the society has ever held, but from the successful way in which the lectures were carried out there is no doubt but that they will become annual events.

TO GET DIVORCE

DECREE TO BE GRANTED TO MR. TAYLOR

NEW YORK, June 18.—Charles W. Andrews, of Syracuse, who has been sitting as referee in the divorce proceedings brought by Emma Flower Taylor, daughter of the late Governor Roswell P. Flower, against her husband, John Byron Taylor, has decided in favor of Mrs. Taylor. He sent word of his decision yesterday to Wallace Macfarlane and Robert Grier Moore, who have been referees for Mrs. Taylor. No alimony is allowed because none was asked for in her petition for an absolute divorce. The custody of the three children is given to her, however.

Mrs. Taylor is said to have named several women in her petition. Their identities have not been divulged. A number of private detectives in the employ of Mrs. Taylor furnished the evidence. While the hearings were in progress Mrs. Taylor and her mother lived in the Hotel Plaza. In this city, Taylor did not oppose the proceedings, but is said to have made slight to retain possession of his children.

Mrs. Taylor, who married Taylor when he was penniless, inherited most of her father's fortune. Governor Flower opposed the marriage, even taking his daughter to Europe. On her return from this trip, however, she married Taylor.

John Byron Taylor, a small village from Three Mile Bay, and his brother, Walter Taylor, who is a shoemaker, were both fine-looking men, and, in spite of their humble family connections, were popular socially. Since the marriage Taylor has become a member of the stock exchange, and is said to have amassed a fortune.

Byron Taylor is at present living in Watertown. Taylor is also making his home there.

MILLS SHUT DOWN

FAIR RIVER, June 18.—The Algonquin Printing Co. works were closed today and will remain idle for an indefinite time. The American Printing Co.'s plant will be idle next week, due to the dullness of the cotton cloth market. The Bourne cotton mills in Tiverton will be closed from July 2 to July 21.

SUFFRAGIST IS SNUBBED

NEW YORK, June 18.—The charge of assault brought against Mrs. Sarah Alice Cunningham-Murtagh, formerly a member of the United Women's Suffrage association, has been thrown out of court on the motion of Assistant District Attorney Strong yesterday.

The complainant was Mrs. Keene, of No. 10 West One Hundred and Seventh street, auditor of the association, who declared that Mrs. Murtagh assaulted her during a meeting of the association on June 9.

LATEST VACATION NOTICE

Has Been Posted in the Massachusetts Mills

A vacation notice has been posted in the Massachusetts mills. The notice states that the mills will close from August 20 to September 6, inclusive. It was stated today that other mills are soon to announce a protracted vacation, some for four weeks and some for six weeks. Mill agents, however, do not admit that the report is true. That the spinners' strike has embarrassed the mills there is no doubt. The spinner feeds the weaver and there have been a good many idle weavers about town for the last few days. The mill people claim that the strike does not amount to anything, but when one of them said "We like to close our mills of our own accord and when we get ready," the inference was plain. What he meant to say was that the mill people did not want the strikers to close the mills.

The strikers believe that they have right on their side. They have struck and their demand is a ten per cent. increase. They claim that they cannot feed, house and clothe themselves on the wages that they have been receiving. The mill people claim that because of the prohibitive price of cotton and general business depression they cannot afford to grant the demand for a ten per cent. increase.

The condition is a very serious one from any viewpoint. Everybody knows that the cotton business is not in a flourishing condition and the chances are only too good for idle weeks in New England mills. This condition of affairs, however, is not a panacea for the heart aches of the young men who toil at the spinning frame from morn till night for less than $7 a week.

There was a young man, a striker, arrested today. He was arrested for an assault alleged to have been committed by him last Tuesday or Wednesday. There was no violence and no trouble at the mill gates today. The strikers held a meeting a few days ago and agreed that there should be no violence or disturbance and it looks as if they intended to live up to their agreement.

"Cotton" for June has the following relative to the cotton mill situation in New England:

As frequently stated in these columns, during the past eight months, cotton mills on medium and coarse counts in New England are experiencing a "prince and pauper" year. The mills that correctly read crop indications and bought sufficient spot and future cotton to carry them over this crop year, are making a veritable mint of money, while the mills that are buying as required are losing money; and their losses will be in proportion to the number of months since last October that they have been buying spot raw material.

As an illustration of the development of this situation one might cite the sale of Androscooggin mills stock during the middle of May at $34 per share as compared with a previous sale several weeks before of $205. This mill was fortunate in its purchases of cotton. It has had a good market for its fabrics and will show large earnings with probably an extra dividend in August. On the other hand, the American Linen Co., of Fall River, one of the finest plants in that city, was not so fortunate in buying cotton, and early in May its stock fell to $100 from $130 per share, because there was a feeling that a deficit will be shown in the annual statement.

One of the largest mills in Massachusetts, west of the mill centers, could have shown a profit of 33 per cent. on its capital stock by reselling its cotton last month, that was purchased the last of August, 1909. This mill uses a long staple and was fortunate in getting a large quantity of its grade from the Mississippi delta district. A smaller mill in Connecticut is just emerging from a very critical financial condition occasioned by unprofitable manufacturing. This mill had enough cotton to carry it until the first of the year; but since that time every bale of cotton manufactured into fabric has shown a loss, and had it not been for financial assistance from friends the mill would now be closed "by order of the sheriff."

The worst is surely over. Converters are gradually making up their minds that higher prices for fabrics must be paid, and the market shows the influence of this sentiment. Jobbers are more hopeful because they know positively that the manufacturer will not accept orders at a great sacrifice, and therefore the indications are for a firm underprice. Now and then one will meet a confirmed pessimist who believes that there is no profitable cotton future; but when one meets several hundred of the leading manufacturers at a meeting assembled and you find courage and confidence in the very atmosphere, as was the condition at the Boston meeting, one can not remain a pessimist.

RAILROAD BILL

Was Passed by the House Today

WASHINGTON, June 18.—By a viva voce vote the house today agreed to the conference report on the railroad bill. No amendment was offered or adopted. The bill now goes to the president for signature.

THE PRESIDENT REMAINED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A spectacular thunder storm put to rout the production of "As You Like It" in the open air at the White House grounds last night. A vast audience, including the president and his family, had gathered there to witness the performance of the Coburn players for the Playgrounds association.

While the players essayed to quiet the audience, vivid flashes of lightning, terrific thunder peals and insistent rain started what might have been a panic indoors, and the fashionable audience practically en masse deserted the grounds and ran for automobiles and carriages.

The White House party, consisting of President and Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft and Master Charles B. Taft, and several guests, remained in the house undisturbed by the artillery of the skies. The storm arose in the beginning of the last act, and the White House party remained as long as the players were on the stage.

The afternoon was signalized by a fine production of "The Night" given on the same sylvan stage. The Tafts also attended this play with their guests. The president took a seat in the rear of the audience.

STRIKE THREATENED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The labor situation on practically all the railroads in the territory south of the Potomac and east of the Mississippi river is serious.

The demands of the men include large increases in wages and some important changes in working conditions. The employees involved are brakemen, baggage-men, flagmen and conductors. It has developed that the trainmen took a strike vote over the entire southeastern territory, and some days ago notified the companies that unless the controversies were promptly adjusted a strike would be inaugurated on all the roads concerned.

MONTCLAIR PATRIOT DECIDED TO DEFEY THE FOURTH OF JULY EDICT

NEW YORK, June 18.—Lawrence F. Cahill and his ten children are going to have an old-fashioned Fourth of July in spite of the Montclair (N. J.) town council, which has adopted an ordinance against fireworks, with a $10 penalty for the first offense and $20 for each succeeding offense. Mr. Cahill is a New York broker and lives at No. 153 Wadsworth avenue, Montclair.

For twenty years he has been celebrating the Fourth with an exhibition of fireworks that took from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until well toward midnight. All the neighbors and the friends of his children have been his guests. During the twenty years, he says, no accident has resulted from his display of fireworks. And now the town council, after submitting the fireworks question to vote of the school children of Montclair, has decided on a noisiless fourth. Mr. Cahill is indignant.

"I have received hundreds of letters commending me for the stand I have taken," he said yesterday. "Not one of my neighbors has ever complained about the exhibitions that have been given on my grounds yearly, and this year I have received requests from many friends in and about Montclair who want to attend my private celebration. I do not believe that any municipality can prevent me from carrying out my program as I have in the past."

THE PRESIDENT IS SCHEDULED TO MAKE TWO ADDRESSES TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—President Taft is spending the day in southeastern Pennsylvania. He was scheduled to attend two commencements and make at least two addresses, returning to Washington tonight.

The president arrived in Philadelphia at 10:22 a. m. and his private car was immediately taken by a special locomotive to Villanova, a mile west of here, where at Villanova college he participated in the commencement exercises. Following an address from the balcony of the monastery fronting on the campus, the president received the honorary degree of doctor of jurisprudence. The honor has been conferred by the university on President Grover Cleveland and Federal Judge George Gray of Delaware.

The secretary of commerce and labor, who accompanied the president, received the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

U. S. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania met President Taft here and accompanied him as far as Villanova. The senator stated that Mr. Taft had wired him last night to meet him today and added that he did not know what was wanted. It is believed the president desired to see the senator about the political situation in Pennsylvania.

Following the exercises at Villanova, the president went to Westchester, the home of Congressman Butler, where he was tendered a reception, after which he proceeded to Lincoln university, a negro institution, 40 miles from Philadelphia, on the Maryland border line. There the president attended the commencement exercises last afternoon and made another address.

COMPLICATED REPORTS OF EMPEROR'S CONDITION ALARM GERMANY

ROOSEVELT HOME

Continued
AND NAVAL PARADE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt returned today to New York from a trip through Africa and Europe, which began immediately upon his leaving the White House and which lasted for 15 months.

The steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria on which he sailed from England June 10 entered New York harbor at 7 o'clock this morning and was greeted by the battleship South Carolina with a national salute of 21 guns. At half past eight Mr. Roosevelt was transferred from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to the revenue tug Manhattan, where he was welcomed by a number of personal friends and relatives and Captain Archibald Butt, representing President Taft.

Shortly after this he was transferred from the Manhattan to the revenue cutter Androscooggin on which he led the water parade that took him up as far as 59th street, North river, and down to the Battery, where he was officially welcomed by Mayor Gaynor of New York at 11 o'clock.

Redecked with signal flags and with the guns from Fort Wadsworth, the Hamilton booming a welcome, the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria added into quarantine at 7:38 this morning.

Immediately behind the big liner came six ships of the navy, the battleship South Carolina in the van, while at anchor in the readied awaiting her coming was the United States despatch boat Dolphin with the secretary of the navy on board. The battleship already had saluted the returning former president at Sandy Hook with 21 guns, but on coming to anchor alongside the liner the South Carolina hoisted long strings of pennants and the river craft joined in the demonstration with prolonged blasts from their whistles.

Flanked by Mrs. Roosevelt, his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and his son Kermit, Theodore Roosevelt stood on the flying bridge of the liner high above the all decks of the ship and with his characteristic smile overspreading his countenance and a shyness felt in his hand he waved his acknowledgments to the pandemonium on all sides of him.

Mr. Roosevelt lost no time on board the Augusta Victoria. The usual customs and health inspections formalities accomplished, he at once transferred to the revenue tug Manhattan, where with the immediate members of his family and a few intimate friends he sat down to a hasty breakfast.

There was more firing of big guns as Mr. Roosevelt left the Manhattan for the Androscooggin. Then comparative quiet fell while in the upper bay patrol boats darted back and forth among a hundred and one craft of every description, marshalling them in line for the parade.

The United States steamship Dolphin, leading the parade, and closely followed by the Androscooggin, got away at 12 minutes past 9.

The first address

The first address of welcome presented to Mr. Roosevelt was handed him by the boarding pilot on behalf of the Pilots' association. This association was the last to speak the colonel on his departure from New York fifteen months ago. Health Officer Doty was the first of those from shore to pay his respects to Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, and Captain Butt boarded the Kaiserin from the Manhattan and were received by Mr. Roosevelt in his state room.

An interesting incident occurred during the early reception in the harbor. Colonel Roosevelt was waving his hat in response to the cheers that were wafted to him from craft on all sides when he suddenly paused, and looking in the direction of the press tug Gillikson, pointed his hand to the south. He seemed to be giving a warning, and the men on the Gillikson turned quickly in the direction indicated. They saw the bow of the battleship South Carolina looming up barely a hundred yards off the tug's starboard quarter and Captain Martin of the Gillikson, who had been looking for danger elsewhere, put his wheel hard over just in time to escape the big warship.

From the Gillikson, Mr. Roosevelt could be seen leading Mrs. Roosevelt to the arm to the front of the flying bridge and pointing out to her the picturesque scene of the soldiers of Fort Wadsworth standing at attention along the green embankments. At the center Manhattan came abreast the Kaiserin. Mr. Roosevelt made his way through a group of second cabin passengers, who clustered along the rail and saluted his children on the Manhattan calling to them and threw them kisses.

Mrs. Roosevelt was the first to come down the gangplank from the Kaiserin to the Manhattan. In a moment she had thrown her arms about Archie and Quentin and kissed and hugged both of them. She next greeted Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. and his fiancée, Miss Eleanor Alexander.

Flying Leap to Greet Children

Mr. Roosevelt made a flying leap to the deck of the Manhattan and with the exuberance of a schoolboy snatched his son Theodore on the back. He then turned promptly to Miss Alexander and kissed her. He took up Quentin and Archie in his arms and gave them resounding smacks. These greetings over, Mr. Roosevelt, with Collector of the Port Lock at his side, extended cordial greetings to the others on board the Manhattan. He shook hands with everybody, including the members of the crew.

In the meantime the big liner was loomed in close by mailboats and newspaper tugs, while clustering about this central group were tugs, yachts, and a host of other craft.

UP 4503 FEET IN BIPLANE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 18.—Walter Brookings, in a Wright biplane, again broke the world's altitude record—up 4503 feet, according to the altimeter. His meter stopped as he was descending, and he made a slow glide of two miles, landing easily in a wheat field.

Brookings reached his highest altitude in forty minutes. The machine then was only a speck in the sky and at moments was lost to the view of the crowd.

Brookings landed after being in the air an hour and a half. The previous altitude record was 4251 feet, which he set Monday.

BERLIN, June 18.—So many official statements and warnings to the residents of Germany not to be alarmed over Emperor William's condition have been sent out that the public has at last become amused. It has been known for a long time that the emperor was not in good health. He has long brooded over his crippled left arm, and when an abscess on his right hand compelled the calling of physicians to become worried. The report that he broke a blood vessel on his right knee, followed by the report that he was only suffering from eczema from too much horseback riding, failed to impress the country. That the emperor would become crazier, said the newspapers, is foolish. Just how serious his condition is cannot be learned from reliable official circles.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Fireman Joseph De Moll, twenty-eight years old, who lives on Staten Island, and who has been chauffeur to Deputy Fire Chief Thomas Lally, at Brooklyn fire headquarters, was fearfully burned last night through his own carelessness.

He ignited a large quantity of gasoline escaping from the tank which supplies the fire chief's automobile.

De Moll was looking for the leak and had been especially warned against lighting matches. With him were James Shaughnessy, of Truck No. 68, Thomas Robb, of the same company, and Firemen Duran and Southwick. Shaughnessy was severely burned about the hands, face and neck. Robb, Duran and Southwick were burned about the hands and arms. Even if De Moll lives it is probable he will be blind. He was taken to St. Peter's hospital.

The oil tank in question is located at the bottom of an air shaft, and was hard to get at. Chief Lally for several days had detected the odor of escaping gasoline, and asked De Moll and his comrades to locate the leak. De Moll went into the shaft through a window, while the others entered from a door connecting with the cellar. They found about a foot of water, resulting from the rains, covering the bottom of the shaft under which was the tank. Though the place was pitch dark, the men had no instructions from Lally, not taken lanterns. Suddenly De Moll lit a match, and a moment later there was a terrific roar and a flash of fire. The men with De Moll sprang through the door leading to the cellar, all badly burned. Then they thought of De Moll and started back for him. At this moment De Moll, screaming with pain, appeared at the window through which he had entered the shaft. His face was burnt black and his clothing was blazing fiercely. The others caught him by the arms and lifted him into the cellar. Then they laid him on the floor and threw their coats over him, extinguishing the flames. Dr. Eha was summoned from the Cumberland street hospital and Dr. White, of the fire department, hurried down the stairs. They poured olive oil into De Moll's eyes, but it seemed to have no effect.

Luckily the flames did not reach the gasoline tank itself. When the gas line floating on the surface of the water in the air shaft had been consumed the fire went out.

KILLED HIMSELF

TROLLEY PASSENGERS SAW MAN COMMIT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—William A. Wagner, fifty years old, a laborer, killed himself in sight of a car full of passengers by cutting his throat yesterday afternoon, at Beach and Walker avenues, the Bronx. He lived at No. 176 Melrose avenue.

There is a vacant lot at the corner of Beach and Walker just off the corner of the trolley car arrived, the motor-man and passengers saw Wagner take a razor from his pocket and opening it, draw the blade across his throat, cutting a gash from ear to ear.

The motor-man put on all speed until he saw Policeman Vitol, who went back and found Wagner. The man was breathing, and the policeman called Dr. Grossman, of the Fordham hospital, but when the ambulance arrived Wagner was dead.

His brother-in-law, James E. Romero, monitor of the Westchester Court building, said Wagner had grieved over the death of his sister a few months ago, and had been drinking. Wagner left two letters, addressed to Homer and Arthur Wagner.

YALE OARSMEN AT WORK

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 18.—The sun was hot enough to blister the Yale oarsmen during their morning row today, but they did not mind it for sunny days have been few. All the crews were out with Mr. Kennedy, giving the freshmen special attention.

THE HARVARD CREWS

RED TOP, Conn., June 18.—Out in a single shell this morning, Coach Wray gave instructions to the Harvard crews. It was practice of a short stretch work, the variety four oared pull, the crew finished at a 37 stroke.

TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Graduates of St. Patrick's Schools Will Attend High Mass

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the pupils of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools will take place tomorrow prior to high mass at 11 o'clock.

The diplomas will be presented by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., who will address the graduates.

There will be special music by the church and sanctuary choir and a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

The graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' school who will receive diplomas are as follows: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick Enwright, John J. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John Leo Hannell, John Armstrong, John J. Keefe, Frederick McCall, James S. McNally, Patrick O'Hearn, John P. Flannery.

Special archdiocesan certificates awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell will be presented to James

A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien.

The pupils of the Girls' school to receive diplomas are: Misses Anna F. Curran, Mary G. Dunn, Theresa Hanon, Catherine E. Hoar and Lillian J. Smith.

The pupils to receive archdiocesan certificates from the archbishop are: Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Beane, Mary C. Sullivan and Helen Whelan.

St. Patrick's Boys' school has had a particularly successful year with 325 pupils. In addition to the primary and grammar divisions, the school provides a two years' commercial course after the grammar school course is finished, including book-keeping, typewriting, stenography, commercial law, general arithmetic and church history.

Rev. Bro. Osmund, the superior, has been particularly successful in his administration of the affairs of the school.

TO POSTPONE FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Attorneys for Louis Blot issued a formal statement this forenoon that the Langford-Kaufman fight would be postponed until Saturday, June 25. The right of the governor to interfere, the statement said, would be fully tested in the courts.

FIVE MEN INJURED

SEEKS DAMAGES

MAN SUES TO RECOVER FOR ALLEGED SLANDER AND ARREST

NEW YORK, June 18.—Louis E. Julian, formerly an investigator for the Metropolitan Street Railway company, has begun supreme court actions for $5000 damages against several defendants, including former District Attorney Jerome.

In the complaints to two suits, directed against Thomas F. Ryan and John F. McIntyre, he asks $100,000 damages from each for alleged conspiracy to slander. These actions grew out of the Jerome investigation of the Metropolitan system during which Julian referred to McIntyre and Ryan in connection with a fund which he claimed had been raised for the purpose of electing a supreme court justice. Mr. McIntyre denounced this statement as untrue, and was backed up by Ryan. Julian is now suing these two men for the reflections cast upon his character at that time.

In a third suit Julian asks $100,000 damages. The defendants in this action are Jerome, Charles G. S. Wahl, former magistrate, J. L. Quackenbush, former chief counsel for the Metropolitan Railway company, Ambrose E. McCabe, former assistant to Quackenbush, Marshall E. Clarke, former assistant district attorney under Jerome, and Dr. Wolford Nelson, of the Astor House.

This law suit is based upon another charge that was made against Julian after he was reported as having given information to a newspaper concerning alleged bribery in connection with the Metropolitan. The name of Dr. Nelson was connected with the report. Soon after the report Julian was arrested for giving false and malicious information for publication, but was cleared of this charge subsequently. He now seeks to recover the damages for his arrest.

RICH BACHELOR

SAYS HE IS NOT A FRIEND OF CUPID

NEW YORK, June 18.—"The trouble nowadays is that a fellow spends too much of his time with girls," declared Carl Katz, one of the nine members of the Bachelor club of Paterson, which met last night to discuss the proposed boycott against them by Paterson young women. Katz is the son of a millionaire and is in his twenties.

"If a young man isn't careful he has his head filled with a lot of nonsense," continued Katz, "and before he is aware of it he is full of that emotion they call love. Once a fellow gets in that trance his career and usefulness are ruined."

"Let Miss Florence Cook and her friends jolly us with their proposed boycott if they want to. We will simply ignore it. They say they won't invite us to any of their pink teas. Just imagine a healthy fellow like me at a table sipping tea with a bunch of fluff white, full of chatter, sitting alongside me. Golf and automobiles are more to my liking."

Katz said the Bachelor club, as far as it goes, is really aimed at the girls of Paterson and vicinity. New York girls are not put under the ban.

COULDN'T MOVE

GIRL TOLD MOTHER SHE WAS MARRIED

NEW YORK, June 18.—If her parents had not decided to move to Williams, N. Y., Miss Eleanor R. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin White of 179 North Washington street, might have kept the secret of her marriage to Frank A. Sweet, Jr., for a longer time. She was married to Mr. Sweet in Jersey City on April 19 last, and the young couple expected to keep the matter quiet for a year.

When Mrs. Sweet's mother announced yesterday that she intended moving away from town she was taken completely by surprise. "Can't you go, mother?" "Why can't you go?" "Because I'm married."

Then she told her mother all about it. Mrs. Sweet is 17, and Sweet is a year older. He is a clerk in the Westchester County Savings bank.

BUST OF ROCKEFELLER

NEW YORK, June 18.—John D. Rockefeller, according to latest reports, is going to sit for a leading sculptor and have a bust of himself fashioned out of clay. Then, if he likes it as well as he has liked the busts made of a number of his friends, he will have it reproduced in metal.

Mr. Rockefeller has never sat for a bust. His friends have urged that he should have a lifelike figure of himself to posterity and he has finally consented to do so.

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the City Auditor Contains Some Interesting Facts

The annual report of the city auditor for the year 1909 is out and can be had for the asking at the city hall. It is the seventy-fourth annual report of the general treasury fund receipts and payments for the financial year beginning January 1, 1909 and ending December 31, 1909. In presenting his report to the city council the city auditor says:

To the Honorable, the City Council, Gentlemen:

In accordance with the charter and ordinances of the city of Lowell, I have the honor to transmit herewith the annual report, showing the financial transactions of the city for the year ending December 31, 1909.

The report is arranged by schedules presenting the general treasury fund balances, receipts, appropriations, transfers, payments and much important information.

During the past year the new ordinance became effective making the treasurer's office the receiving and disbursing office, and the auditor's office the accounting office, thereby eliminating all duplications in accounts; a new uniform check system for the payment of bills has proved very beneficial to the general public, as has also the uniform payrolls for the city employees.

The reports of the treasurer, accountant, sinking fund commissioners, and the audit of trust funds are included in the book.

Respectfully submitted,
Charles D. Paige,

Lowell, Mass., April 1, 1910.

The following report by the expert accountants who audited the books and accounts of the city treasurer is made to the mayor, and is included in the auditor's report.

Lowell, Mass.,

Dear Sir: In accordance with the request made of us we have audited the books and accounts of your city treasurer and report thereon as follows:

We balanced the cash as found on March 2, 1910, and having obtained from the banks certificates of balances and the checks which had come in to that time reconciled the bank accounts with the cash book of the city treasurer. We found the cash on hand and the balances in the banks to be as shown on the books and having verified all the footings for the past year, since our previous audit, we certify to the correctness of the cash account; we also certify that there were adequate vouchers for all payments for the year as shown to have been made since our last report.

We also verified the receipts and payments for the year with the reports of the same to the city auditor and found that they had all been correctly reported to and entered by the city auditor upon his books. As his annual report will give all the figures we do not deem it necessary to deal with them in this report.

We examined the receipts for taxes for the years 1901-1909, inclusive, as shown on the books of the city treasurer and collector and the reports of the same to the city auditor, and from that examination would report that all collections as shown to have been made were correctly reported to the city auditor and accurately entered upon his books.

Our examination of the collections of the sidewalk and sewer assessment assured us that they were correctly reported as made and that the books of the city treasurer and city auditor agree as to payments made and balances due on these assessments.

We also carefully verified the securities and cash balances as shown in the several trust and special funds which are in the custody of the city treasurer and in each instance we found the securities and cash to be correct as shown by the statements which were submitted by the treasurer and the sinking fund commissioners.

Last year we called attention to the matter of uncollected taxes for the years 1901-1909, inclusive, amounting to about $70,000, and would now state that the same condition now obtains as to the taxes of 1906 and 1907, and that the uncollected taxes for the seven years above named amount to about $105,000. We believe that substantially all of these taxes are uncollectable and we repeat the statement made last year that they are artificial assets and should be disposed of; we would again suggest that the exact amount for each year be recommended by the city treasurer and assessors to the city council.

Respectfully submitted,
Andrew G. Stiles,
City Treasurer and Collector of Taxes.

HILL LIBEL SUIT

Defence Started Its Case Yesterday Afternoon

The plaintiff rested his case in the libel suits of Walter L. Hill vs. Eastern Cold Storage company, and certain directors of the company, and the witnesses for the defense were sworn.

W. A. Bule opened for the defense. He stated that the defense would show that the defendants, without malice and without carelessness, relied on information which they believed to be true, and that whatever they have done was done in the interest of stockholders of the Eastern Cold Storage company, that they did not go outside of their rights, nor give the circular any greater publicity than necessary under the circumstances.

Henry W. Ordway of Lowell, who was a stockholder, was called by the defense. Mr. Ordway told of being present at a meeting in 1907, when he criticized Mr. Hill's methods; thought dividends were paid when they were not earned. He spoke of a check, on which he said the money was not turned into the Eastern Cold Storage Co., but was taken to the John P. Squires Co. and used as a loan; said that he simply took the money over to help them out of a hole. The Squires company failed about eight days afterwards.

Cross examined by Mr. Anderson, the witness said that he found out about the check in 1900; he knew all about the check for at least six years before the meeting of 1907; he had talked with Mr. Murphy about it. Mr. Murphy told him that all of the money came back into the treasury of the Eastern Cold Storage Co.

The defense called Prof. Peter Schwan, who is connected with the Institute of Technology. He was a director of the defendant corporation in 1900 and 1901. He said that he present in 1900 and 1901 for the marking off for depreciation, and Mr. Hill made the statement that there was no depreciation. The witness wrote a letter to Mr. Hill, in which he declined to have his name used as a director. One reason given was that he could not approve of the business policy of the directors.

Mr. Chamberlain, the auditor, who testified previously, was examined by Mr. Murphy relative to his suggestions to Mr. Hill in regard to charging off for depreciation. Mr. Chamberlain said that his certification of the accounts meant simply that the figures on the books were correct—correctly added.

Mr. Murphy's examination of this witness was very much in detail, in reference to his reports on treasurer's account, etc. He also testified to some references to manufacture and sale of values, etc., contained on the reports. In which it was recorded that Mr. Hill and others received royalties. The witness said that in these accounts no ex-timated was made for the use of tools, lights, etc.

Mr. Chamberlain was on the stand when the session was adjourned until Monday morning, and the case will probably take all day Monday.

WHIST PARTY

IN AID OF FRENCH AMERICAN ORPHANAGE LAST EVENING

Mrs. Pascal Harnois and Mrs. Abraham L'Anglais gave a delightful concert, whist and ice cream party in aid of the French-American orphanage in the L'Anglais building in Ward street, last evening.

There was a large and merry attendance. The exercises opened with whist and after the whist a fine program was given under the direction of Miss Julia L'Anglais. Chorus were sung by a chorus composed of Misses M. L. Lamy, E. Dionne, A. Lequin, J. Robillard, A. Harnois, C. Renaud, G. Lequin, M. L'Amour, A. Lemieux, B. Masson, B. Lavoie, A. Lajoie, E. Lequin, M. Robillard, L. Ouellette, S. Harnois, J. Theriault, B. Proulx, A. Renaud, J. L'Anglais, F. Bissonnette, C. Mailloche, E. Manseau, A. Mailloche, C. L'Anglais, A. L'Anglais, L. L'Anglais, W. Forget, and C. Fournier. Misses Orea, Charnagne, and Georgiana Lemieux played piano. George Labranche and Wilfrid Forget sang and Mr. Henri Daigle gave a reading. Mr. Alfred Harnois played a cornet solo. A violin solo was played by Miss Julia L'Anglais, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harnois. Rev. Fr. Brullard, O. M. I., addressed the assembly. Fr. A. G. Payette was general secretary.

The young women who served, and also assisted at the scores were Miss Flore Bissonnette, who had charge; Miss Julia, Corinne, Lamina and Anna L'Anglais, Alma Lequin, Ida and Alma Renaud, Denise Courtois and Evelyn Hebert, and Mrs. Wilfrid Asselin.

BOARD OF TRADE

TO START A MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

The membership committee of the board of trade met last evening and made plans to increase the membership from 700 as at present to 1000. The committee was appointed in February, 1909, and in 268 new members and the present committee is desirous of doing as well.

It is proposed to hold meetings every Friday evening at the office of the secretary. Members of the committee who cannot attend the Friday evening meetings will be expected to have a check member of the committee is expected to do something each week, even if he finds it impossible to attend the weekly conference, even if no more than signing a card of names for membership. The dues for the balance of the year are one-half the regular rate. It is proposed by the committee to wage a membership campaign from now until the date of the annual outing early in July. This outing is expected to surpass any previous effort of the kind ever held by the Lowell board of trade, and only members will be entitled to attend.

Lefty Wallace is back with Lynn again.

The Haverhill Record of June 16 says:

"Osborn, formerly of Lawrence, and signed by Florence yesterday, will probably be sent against his old teammates in the up-river city this afternoon, with Fullerton working tomorrow and Frel Saturday. The Lawrence Telegram has the following to say of Osborn's work: 'Pitcher Lefty Osborn was released by Major Damon Saturday night which brings the pitching staff down to four men—Malloyson, Bushelman, Pearson and Mayholm. Osborn showed good form in the two games he has pitched for the locals and he ought to make good with some other team in the league. He has plenty of speed and a fine cross fire that was most effective when he used it here. With the staff down to four men, each pitcher will now be given more work to do and better results should be obtained.'

But—on June 16 Osborn in a Lowell uniform lost a game to Fall River. Why don't you write to Pat Sullivan of the Brockton team for some Hull Durham. Your kind appears to be bad.

Jim Dowd, the Holy Cross pitcher, yesterday signed to play with Pittsburg. Dowd graduates Thursday, and will report Friday to the team. Dowd bats from Holyoke, is a right-hander, but had trouble with his arm this spring. He has recovered from the trouble, he says.

Jamilton's introduction to Duffy as an umpire resulted in the Lynn manager being asked to vacate the new yard at Brockton. Duffy is a hard man to get acquainted with, while Jamilton always likes to be sociable.

That Fred Lake is doing a little better than his predecessor as manager of the Doves is shown by their standing in the National League race today. The Huberters are 72 points ahead of where they were last year.

In the game at Worcester, yesterday, Manager Tom Dowd of New Bedford was shown the gate by Umpire Byrne in the first contest, but came back for the second contest. The fighting spirit. Again he was ordered to be taken himself to the quietness prevailing outside the grounds.

Manager Steve Flanagan is determined to break that spell of hard luck that he has been up against all season. He has laid Haverhill on the bench. Streaser, who was with Lynn and who was touted by Lynn, as the fastest outfielder in the league, played his first game for Brockton on Wednesday. Streaser is playing centre field. Klondike Smith of this city played right field for Brockton Wednesday. No better manager Flanagan is determined to keep making changes until he gets better results.

Jimmy Miller, who is playing second for Lawrence, has taken a big hit in hitting this week. Up to Wednesday night he had made six hits. He made two in Worcester on Monday, one on Tuesday and three at Haverhill Wednesday. His average jumped from .284 to .264. That is an increase of 40 points for one half of the week. The chances that kind of sticking will become more valuable to the Lawrence team.

Hamilton has said that he would like to get Pitcher Buckles, who has been with Lowell. Now is his chance.

Lynn has released Lentz, the great outfielder, who was touted as the greatest ever. He reported to Lynn last

Held Dancing Party at Willow Dale

The Iroquois Canoe club, one of the most popular organizations camping at Willow Dale, held a dancing party at the Dale dancing pavilion last evening. It was the fourth annual under the auspices of the club and like previous ones was a grand success, both socially and financially.

Despite the inclement weather, the hall was taxed to its utmost capacity. The decorations of the hall and surroundings were exquisite. The pavilion was gaily set with lighted Japanese lanterns and streamers of bunting while the rink in which the dance proper was held, was daintily decorated with lighted incandescents and lanterns. Canoes, paddles and pillows, set in unique fashions about the corners of the hall, added greatly to the general effect as one looked in from the entrance.

The guests were conveyed from Lakeview to the dance hall in the boat "Willow Dale."

Dancing was started at eight o'clock, music being furnished by Hubbard's orchestra. Songs were also rendered in a fitting manner by "Jack" Manchester. At 10 o'clock intermission was held. During the hall in the festivities at the pavilion all were invited to visit the club's headquarters. At the camp, which was attractively decorated, an informal musical program was given, including instrumental and vocal selections by some of the talented members of the club. The party then returned to the hall, where dancing was resumed and continued until 11:30 o'clock. The boat carried the party to Lakeview, where special cars were boarded and all came home thoroughly satisfied with the evening's entertainment. The success of the affair was due to the zealous efforts of the following efficient officers:

General manager, Arthur Leclercq; assistant general manager, John J. Marren; floor director, William Wood; assistant floor director, David Dwyer; commodore, George Hoescher; chief aid, John P. Gray; treasurer, John J. Marren; land, George Grady; Walter Jewett; Herve Cote; John Grant; Fred Hall; Collie McKenzie; Herb Webster; John Maguire; George Barris; George Watson; Cecil Hosmer; John Farrell; Albert J. Willis; Arthur Provencier and Chester Guild.

MARATHON RACE

TO BE HELD AT HAVERHILL ON JULY 4

Haverhill is to have a big Fourth of July celebration this year and among the events planned is a ten mile race, which will be conducted by the Haverhill Alumni Athletic Association, which has the sanction of the A. A. U., being associated with that body.

Prizes of such magnitude that none like them have ever before been given for a like affair will be given, the A. A. U. having given the H. A. A. A. a special dispensation. The first prize will be a $75 diamond ring, the second a $40 Howard watch, the third a silver loving cup, the fourth a cup, the fifth, a gold watch and the rest to the tenth inclusive, will receive fine medals. The second prize, will therefore, be better than the average first prize for a like event.

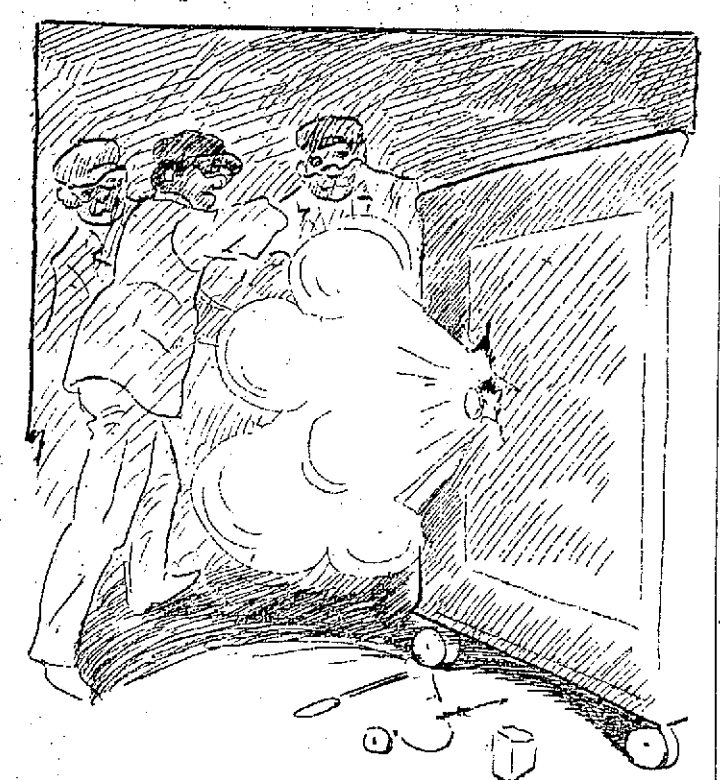

Entries are now being received by Joseph J. Doherty, 40 Merrimack st., Haverhill and will close Saturday, July 2, at which time all entries must be in. The race is to start at four o'clock on the afternoon and the course will be mapped out next week.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Leah Leblanc to Miss Catherine Twohey took place on Wednesday evening at St. Michael's parochial residence. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Denis Murphy. The best man was William Leblanc, a brother of the groom, and the bride-maid was Miss Winifred Twohey, a sister of the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's relatives, 87 Fulton street. The bride wore a dress of white silk and a veil of lace. The groom was attired in a gown of white satin. Each carried a bouquet of white roses. They received a number of beautiful wedding gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Leblanc left on a wedding trip to New York and Philadelphia, and on their return will take up their residence at their new home in Coburn street.

BURGLARS BLOWING OPEN A SAFE IN GRANITEVILLE.

not known, but it is thought that they occurred between one and two o'clock this morning.

There is also a little evidence which would lead one to believe that the first break was made at the office in Forge Village. It was in this office that the old safe was located, where the lesser amount of money was stored and where the burglars had the greatest trouble.

The office is located on the second floor and although there is evidence that an attempt was made to pry open some of the windows on the ground floor, the burglars gave up their attempt as being futile and then attacked the door. The outer door was smashed in and then the inner door was forced. Despite the fact that the safe was an old one the burglars either had considerable difficulty in opening it at first or else they wanted to do a quick job, for they put enough of "juice" around the crevices to blow the safe to pieces. That the safe must have been well covered seems to be certain or else the detonation would have awakened the people in the vicinity.

Graniteville Office Was Easy
The burglars did not have much trouble in getting into the office at Graniteville, and apparently little difficulty in opening the safe in that office, despite the fact that the safe in that office is of modern construction and one of those so-called "burglar proof" affairs.

The men gained an entrance to the Graniteville office by means of a window, a little Jimmy being used to pry the lock and after the men entered the place everything apparently went along easily for instead of "seaming" the entire safe, a hole was drilled near the lock, the "juice" was poured in and the fuse lighted. The lock was blown out and the contents of the safe were removed. Papers and documents, books, etc., were scattered about the floor, but the only thing taken was the money which amounted to about $300.

Where Were the Watchmen?
Despite the fact that there are watchmen in both the mill and that the entering of the different places and blowing open of the safes must have made a loud noise, neither of the watchmen was aware that a break had been made in the office, and it remained for the clerks who were the first to report at the different places to make the discovery.

In both offices the furniture was considerably damaged as a result of the explosion, especially in the Forge Village office where the safe was blown asunder.

Burglars Were Hungry
Probably the only person in either town who saw the burglars was Victor Pigeon who recently opened a provision store near the Cameron school in Forge Village. He resides in the same building as the store is located in and about 1:30 o'clock this morning he was awakened by loud rapping on his door. He arose and going to the window saw an automobile in the street. There were two men in the machine while two others were standing near the door.

He asked them what they wanted, and they said that they had lost their way in the dark and were hungry. They wanted him to open his store and give them something to eat. Hastily donning a few articles of wearing apparel, he entered the store and the thing which seemed to appeal to them was pigs' feet and they purchased five pounds.

Mr. Pigeon was unable to get a good look at the men in the automobile, but he describes the two who entered his store as gentlemanly looking men. They were well dressed and had every appearance of being on a joy ride and lost their way. There was nothing about their appearance which would indicate that they were connected with any notorious business.

Went in Opposite Direction
The only time that Mr. Pigeon thought that there was anything suspicious about the men who awakened him was when they inquired the way to Harvard. He pointed out the direction, but instead of going the way which he indicated the machine was sent off in an opposite direction.

Organized Band of Burglars
There is every indication that the job was performed by an organized gang of burglars which has been operating through Massachusetts for the past few months and are probably the men who a few months ago rode into Athol, broke into the postoffice in that place and when discovered shot their way out of town. A posse was formed but the men in the machine soon outdistanced their pursuers.

Lowell Police Notified
The Lowell police were notified immediately after the discovery of the breaks, and Supt. Welch immediately sent the inspectors out to be on the lookout for suspicious persons and the members of the department were also notified.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this morning, Supt. Welch had the following to say: "The break was a most daring one and there is no doubt but that it was done by expert cracksmen, men who are daring and have had a great deal of experience in just such work. Although we are on the lookout for the crew, we have little or no description of any of them and if they are in an automobile, the number or description of which is not known, the chances are that they are more than a hundred miles away at the present time."

Wants Police Auto
"While I have never openly stated that there is a chance to improve the department this occasion makes me feel that we should have an automobile for the department. There are times that burglars, murderers and various other violators of the law are caught who do not hear of it for some little time after the affair has happened. The criminal has a big start on us and our only means of following him is by bicycle, carriage or electric cars."

The up-to-date criminals use automobiles and have the latest pattern of revolvers. In case they are caught, the act they are ready to shoot and shoot to kill. We have several riot guns which were purchased a couple of years ago, but what good are the guns unless we can get near the parties who have committed crime."

Early Morning Break
The exact time of the two breaks is

STOCK MARKET

WAS STEADY AT THE CLOSE TODAY

Prices Rose During the Last Few Minutes of the Session Today—They Were Practically Stationary For Nearly One Hour

NEW YORK, June 18.—The coincidence with the opening of the stock market of the passing of the Roosevelt naval parade distracted the attention of the brokers and dealings were merely nominal. Changes of an eighth to a quarter were indicated by the scanty transactions, the gain and losses being mixed.

More interest was manifested in the Roosevelt naval procession than in the stock market and speculation was in consequence at a standstill. The drift of prices was uncertain with a leaning downward.

The market closed steady. Prices rose in the last few minutes of the session after remaining practically stationary for nearly one hour.

WHITMAN, June 18.—The marriage of May 31 at Nashua, N. H., was announced yesterday by Miss Flora M. Edson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minot H. Edson of Temple street, and Harold I. Mitchell, son of the late Herbert Mitchell of Brockton. Justice of Peace D. A. Cross officiated. The parents of the bride were yesterday informed of the marriage and congratulations were immediately extended.

The bride has been prominent in social affairs here. She is a member of the Unity club, connected with the Lutheran church and several other organizations. The groom is in the lumber business with his grandfather, Isaac Mitchell of Brockton.

An engagement has existed for several months, and it was supposed that the marriage would not take place until fall. The bride's father contributed unknowningly to the plans of the young couple. His daughter proposed a visit to friends in Brockton and he went as far as Boston with her.

She apparently took a car for Brookline, but later met Mr. Mitchell and they left for Nashua, N. H. After the marriage, they returned on an afternoon train and dined that evening at

VALUE OF FRATERNAL HELP

Editor Sun,
Dear Sir:

As a member of a fraternal organization, I wish to thank you for your editorial deploring the lack of real fraternal spirit among the members of the several fraternities; I mean the spirit that will cause the members to look after a brother member in distress, and as you suggest help him by sympathy and advice if in no other way. I thank you for this much needed advice and hope you will refer to it again.

Yours Respectfully,
J. W. S.

The above note is one of many such expressions received in regard to the same editorial. We may repeat that the lack of fraternal help seems to result from inadvertence and is not due to any want of brotherly love or of mutual sympathy among the members. It is an unwarranted assumption that every man is able to take care of himself and that the fact of his illness or of his getting into trouble is but a temporary diversion that he will soon overcome. That is the time to help a man, before his ailment or weakness has gone too far or before it has resulted in serious injury if not death or disgrace.

There is one kind of fraternal help which could be given easily and which would count for a great deal in some cases. It is of a negative character but valuable nevertheless. It is this: Don't put the cup to the lips of a man whom you know has a weakness for drink. On the contrary take care to help him overcome his failing when you see it dragging him down. Here is a single instance in which some members may be responsible for the downfall of a brother merely by failing to do their duty as men, as brothers and members of a common fraternity.

FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS IMPOSED UPON IN MILL CITIES

It is very evident from what we see in such factory cities as Lowell that some of the foreign nationalities who come here are imposed upon by false representations as to what they will find on their arrival here and the opportunities awaiting them.

The trans-Atlantic lines are weekly bringing many thousands of immigrants to our shores, most of them at the present time from the countries of southern Europe, Poland and the British Isles. Nearly all are directed to the factory cities of New England. It would appear that there is some underhand influence at work to cause them to select the factory cities in preference to farms or to the employment available farther west.

No doubt the letters sent from America to relatives in the countries mentioned color the conditions existing here in a manner that may inspire others to come out. The mere statement of the wages earned, without saying anything about the cost of living, is sufficient to give foreigners an idea that money can be picked up on the streets of American cities. Here lies one of the causes which give these people a very wrong impression of America and which leads to bitter disappointment after they come here.

But there are other causes, among them being the immigration agent, or rather we should say, the "emigration" agent because it is the agent of the steamship lines in Europe that spreads false ideas of the United States and misleading statements as to the amount of money that can be saved and earned. As an instance of this method of deluding the people of foreign nations and causing them to come to the United States we may mention the case of the Wood mill in Lawrence. Before that mill was completed there were large billboards erected in different parts of Italy, telling of vast opportunities for making money soon to be available at the Wood mill of Lawrence, Mass., and picturing the operatives leaving the mill with well filled pay envelopes and entering a bank to deposit their surplus funds.

Who was responsible for this species of deluding foreign peoples we are unable to say. It may have been the steamship lines; it may have been done under the direction of the American manufacturers acting through padrones in order to evade the alien contract law. The federal officials of the United States should look into these matters and see that the parties who attempt to impose upon the credulity of foreigners shall be punished or at least exposed.

It is bad enough to have foreigners under the most favorable conditions leave their homes, gather sufficient money to pay their passage and secure admission to the United States without being victimized afterwards by padrones or even by a factory system that would accept of their services only at a rate of wages far below what should be paid.

We have several small strikes on in the mills here at the present time as a result of the surplus supply of foreign help in our factories. The strikers were told that this is a bad time for them to precipitate a strike as the mills will lose nothing by shutting down for a while during the summer. The strikers replied that they do not care whether the mills shut down for the entire season as they were not making enough in the mills to make it an object for them to remain. They claim that their average wage is between $5.00 and $6.00 a week, and that it is, therefore, impossible for them to live at the present high cost of living. If their statement as to the wages be correct then of course the other part of their statement must be true because no man at the present time can save a cent on $5 or $6 a week. These men would be glad to be back again in their own country. They find that they were deluded in the first place when they came here, by false representations as to the opportunities to make money. At the present time they would gladly go to work on farms and are likely to leave the city unless the mills are willing to increase their wages.

This is but one of many instances that might be cited to show the cruelty of bringing these people from their homes in southern Europe to the factory cities of New England to work for starvation wages or else go idle. If they were in the western states they might have employment at fair wages on farms, on railroad lines or in the mines. But in the textile factories of New England they will never receive wages sufficient to warrant them in establishing and maintaining comfortable homes such as working men should have.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Gov. A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota will be nominated by acclamation at the republican state convention in St. Paul on June 21, unless some entirely unforeseen circumstance intervenes. The two men most prominently mentioned to run against him have refused to allow their names to be used.

W. Armstrong Perry, for the past nine years supervisor of the instruction of the Salem Young Men's Christian Assn., has resigned to accept a similar position in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Before going to Salem, Mr. Perry was boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse, N. Y. He fitted for his profession in Harvard college. Through his efforts the usefulness of the Y. M. C. A. in Salem has been greatly enlarged. He will assume his new duties September 1.

Miss Elizabeth Nourse, the American artist who lives in Paris has just had one of her paintings purchased by the French government. It is called "The Closed Shutters" and has been bought for the Luxembourg Gallery. Miss Nourse began her art career in Cincinnati as a pupil of her brother-in-law, Benn Pitman, a brother of Isaac Pitman, the inventor of shorthand. She has long been an active member of the Woman's Art Club of Cincinnati.

Miss Job of Queenstown, Tasmania, is said to be the only woman who has ever sat within the bar at a Wesleyan Methodist conference. When she first took her seat one minister protested that the conference was composed only of ministers and laymen and that they had no power to admit the best lady in the land. All others, including the president of the conference, took the position that women were included as laymen and Miss Job retained her seat within the bar.

President A. C. McKenzie of Elmira college, Elmira, N. Y., announces that Elmira college has come into possession of $12,000 with which to erect several new buildings and make many improvements. Of this sum $50,000 comes from the late John S. Kennedy and $30,000 from Andrew Carnegie. The latter gift was on condition that the college raise a like amount. Scores of alumnae and friends subscribed for this fund and were successful in obtaining the amount needed. Ground has been broken for a new science hall. Elmira college is the oldest college for women in the United States.

SINKS TO DEATH

Boy Swallowed Up By Quicksand

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 18.—Far from help and with only a small companion to witness his agony, 8-year-old George Bergman, met death in a horrible form, when he was slowly swallowed up by quicksand on the banks of the Winooski river, north of this city, yesterday afternoon.

With Julius Wool, a child of his own age, he had gone to the river to swim when the accident happened.

The Wool boy ran as fast as he could for help, but the body of Bergman was not recovered for three hours later, when Joseph Rogove succeeded in digging it out.

POLICE OFFICERS

WERE ASSAULTED WHILE MAKING AN ARREST

BOSTON, June 18.—While Sergt. William L. Heblthwaite and Patrolman William J. Moody of the Chelsea police were making an arrest shortly before 7 last night, they were set upon by a number of young men, one of whom, it is charged, struck Moody a blow on the left eye. The crowd succeeded in securing the release of the prisoner, but only for a few seconds, as he was recaptured by Sergt. Heblthwaite.

The young men, some 10 or 12 in number, were standing outside of a saloon at the corner of Broadway and Williams street and the police say were obstructing the travel of foot passengers. They were ordered to move on and all but one obeyed. The police charge that Sylvester J. O'Brien, 28 years old, of 186 Williams street, refused to comply with the order and he was placed under arrest.

The young men, according to the police, resisted arrest, and while the two policemen were walking across the street with him he put up, they say, a struggle to gain his freedom.

One of the young men then struck Patrolman Moody. Moody's eye was badly swollen and blackened.

DRACUT

Edmund Henry Gunther, a pupil at the Parker Avenue school, was yesterday awarded the gold medal donated by the Parker Avenue School Alumni association as an award to the pupil of the eighth grade of the school having attained the best rank in scholarship, deportment and attendance for the year.

The recipient of the medal is 13 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Gunther of 3 Upham street.

Miss Marion McKnight, president of the Alumni association, presented the medal.

The exercises attending the presentation were most informal. A few of the parents of the children were present. The recitations and vocal numbers were given in chorus by the children of the grammar room under the direction of their teacher, Miss Helen M. Boyd.

The graduation exercises which featured the closing of the Parker Avenue school last June will not take place this year. Sub-committee man John A. Hutchinson, to whom the matter was referred, decided to dispense with the preparations of a program for closing day.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Hubbard's orchestra of Lowell.

The members of the class acted as floor officers. They were Messrs. Lamm, N. A. Lence, Ruth, Louise Wild, Bertha Ellen Dimock, Alice Winifred Higgins, Florence Blanche Dutton, Kathryn Nason, Evelyn Augusta Spaulding and Messrs. Harvey Percival Brown, Evan Albert Nason and Dwight Leverett Dimock.

BILLERICA

A well attended concert and ball was given in the town hall in Billerica last night by the members of the graduating class of the Howe high school. It proved to be the social success of the season, excelling in brilliancy the efforts of the graduating classes of previous years.

During the early part of the evening a reception was held, the 11 graduates receiving their friends.

The grand march was started shortly after 9 o'clock and was led by Edward Ryan and Miss Ruth Wild. They were followed by Earl Costello and Miss Laura Marie Hantz, Evan Nason and Miss Kathryn Nason, Edward Riley and Miss Alice Riley, and about 60 other couples.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Hubbard's orchestra of Lowell.

AT SHEEPSHEAD

OLAMBALA WON THE BIG RACE

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, N. Y., June 18.—On a track fetlock deep in mud, R. T. Wilson Jr.'s game 4-year-old Olambala won, yesterday, the 27th suburban handicap, after one of the most sensational races ever run under the stewardship of the Coney Island Jockey club. Prince Imperial, the entry of the Woodhaven stable, was second, and James R. Keene's fleet colt, Ballot, generally though inevitably at the distance, and ruling favorite at odds of 7 to 5, finished third, ridden by Lester.

Yesterday, for the first time since the anti-betting crusade began, the law's prohibition was taken literally and, under special instructions said to have been cabled by W. K. Vanderbilt, principal owner in the Sheepshead Bay race track, eight special detectives saw to it that not even oral wagers could be laid by a professional.

THEATRE VOYONS

The possibilities of advancement in this country to the foreigner who wants to progress are well brought out in "The Altar of Love" one of the pictures shown today at the Theatre Voyons. The story tells of a poor immigrant who, despising of rearing his daughter gives her away to a rich man. In later years the rich man meets financial trouble and the once poor immigrant, now a rich man and grateful for the loving care of his child comes to his rescue and is again united with his child. The picture is a most interesting and the whole picture is a big success. On Sunday the usual high class concert of motion pictures and illustrated songs will be given.

EMPIRE THEATRE

At the Empire tomorrow will be given a Sunday concert with a special program for that day only. Besides the moving pictures of new films and a variety of subjects Mr. Williams will give an xylophone solo.

Commencing Monday there will be another new show which is one of the best character singing comedies.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

For the opening attraction at the Lakeview theatre next week Manager Flynn has selected one of the most beautiful New England plays ever written called "The Dairy Farm" from the pen of Eleanor Merdon. This play is along the same line as "The Old Homestead" and "As Ye Sow," although having nothing in common with either. It has enjoyed a run of over 200 nights in New York city and has been pronounced by the press and public to be far superior to any New England play ever seen.

Mr. Flynn has used excellent judgment in securing his people. Mr. James Thatcher, who is to play leads, is the original Quinny Adams Sawyer, and Miss Florine Farr, who will play opposite to Mr. Thatcher, is late star of the "Miss Petticoats" company. The rest of the company are all metropolitan artists, fully capable of presenting all the very latest plays of the highest grade. Mr. Flynn is to offer during the season. The theatre has been entirely renovated and tickets for the opening performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

Dennis Shea, the state fish and game warden of Ware, who captured Silas N. Phelps, the murderer of Sheriff Haskins, at Monroe Bridge, Mass., on Wednesday, is well known in this city, and has frequently visited at the home of his brother, Louis H. Shea, 4 rear of 20 Hudson street.

THE THIRD MURDER TRIED TO ESCAPE

Committed in Gorham, Maine, in Selling Failed Again in His Second Attempt

Sixteen Years

GORHAM, Me., June 18.—A third murder within sixteen years committed early today gives this small, residential town an unenviable record which is not duplicated in any town of its size in Maine and probably not in New England. The latest tragedy involves Walter Hanacom, aged 32, hostler in the livery stable of B. W. Bickford, and Mrs. Annie Stuart, aged about 38 and employed in a small hotel in Portland. Mrs. Stuart has been separated this last ten years from her husband, who is believed to be in the west probably in Minnesota.

In his bed in a small room above the stable office, Hanacom's dead body was found. Beside it, in an unconscious condition, laid Mrs. Stuart, who had been shot through the head by a revolver which was used in the crime. A revolver was used in the crime. A revolver was used in the crime. A revolver was used in the crime.

BOSTON, June 18.—Balked in his second attempt to escape deportation, Max Selling, who jumped overboard from the steamship Winfredian off Boston light, and who was rescued by the crew of the steamer Greenbrier, will be sent back to England for Liverpool.

Selling nearly succeeded in escaping from the custody of the immigration authorities Thursday night. By means of two roller towels and a hook fashioned out of a piece of a bed iron the stowaway lowered himself from the detention station at Long wharf and had reached Atlantic avenue before he was captured by Customs Inspector Dowd.

The man was sitting quietly in the main hall of the detention station three minutes before his daring escape. The watchman spoke to him as he passed through the room and after he had gone to another part of the station Selling jumped from the window and lowered himself to the ground. He ran up the north side of the pier just as Immigration Inspector Weiss was coming down the south side.

The Inspector heard the footsteps,

and suspecting that someone was trying to escape he rushed through to the other side of the pier. Drawing his revolver he fired three shots in the air, but this only had the effect of making the fleeing man increase his speed. At the head of the wharf he ran into the arms of Inspector Dowd, who grabbed him by the collar and held him until Inspector Weiss came along. Then Selling was taken back to the detention station and placed under guard.

Selling's stowaway companion, Johan Grunberg, who jumped overboard with him from the Winfredian, died from exhaustion just as he was drawn from the water by the boat's crew from the Greenbrier.

Selling is an intelligent fellow. He is an expert stenographer and is believed to have held a responsible position in his own country. His efforts to escape being sent back lead many of the officials to believe that he may be wanted for some offense.

Selling will be handcuffed and taken on board the Winfredian just before she sails this afternoon. He will be locked up and carefully guarded until the liner is well on its way across.

OUT OF PRISON

Charlestown Officials Came to Play Ball

HAD INN-DOOR SPORT AT HOBAN'S HOSTELRY

Base Ball Thoroughly "Disseminated" Over Festive Board With Lowell "Coppers"—Stories of Last Year's Game and How It All Happened

According to the latest reports received in this office by wireless, telegraph and telephone, none of the prisoners at the state prison in Charlestown escaped yesterday afternoon, but if any of those who are under duress in that institution ever thought of leaving their bed and board and shaking the stripes (none of them has stars) they had a golden opportunity yesterday when a dozen of the most efficient officers of the bastille deserted, with permission, the granite building and made their way to Lowell.

Strange to say, even though yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, the dozen men in question rather than participate in the festivities which are peculiar to Charlestown on the 17th, made their way to this city. They were thinking of war and but for the heavy precipitation there would have been war for the custodians of the state prison came here for the purpose of doing battle with the baseball team which represents the Lowell police department. Last year the two teams met and as was expected the Lowell team won by a score of 400 to 1 or something like that. The writer is too lazy to look up the files and find the exact score but he knows that it resembled a cricket game more than a baseball game.

The prison "bunch" however, has been practicing since the last game, playing both indoor and outdoor baseball and they came to Lowell yesterday morning with the intention of trimming the Lowell bluecoats. The rain interfered, however, and it is a question as to which side is the better satisfied. One of the prison officers was heard to remark that he was glad it was raining, for he knew that his team would get an awful walloping, while on the other hand a local patrolman, whose name we will not mention, said that the local team had won one game and was glad there was rain for there at least to make it two games won or a tie between the two teams.

Among the party which came to Lowell were two old Lowell favorites, "Billy" B. Sanborn and Augustus (Gus) E. Duncan, who formerly turned the keys at the Lowell jail, but who are now looking after longer terms of criminals. Both "Billy" and "Gus" were not in town long before they were surrounded by a host of friends and they were well entertained. In the van were Walter L. Wood, W. S. Jones, Walter S. and Frank Dacey, Walter Hosen, James Haggert, Charles Austin, Joseph Mullane, Michael Downing and Tim Coakley.

When they arrived in Lowell they were met by a cordon of police headed by Mat. McCann and while it was the intention of the crowd to repair to the grounds of the Moore Spinning company in North Chelmsford for the purpose of crossing bats, the weather was against the men and instead they were escorted to the Lowell Inn where Thomas F. Hoban, the genial manager, laid out a spread to the visitors.

During the course of the meal "Who is Who," "Why is Why" were discussed at considerable length. Patrolman Matthew McCann gave a little dissertation on "How we won the game last year" and he got a reply from Officer William B. Sanborn, of the state prison on "What we should have done, but what we didn't do." Both speeches were loudly applauded and then Messrs. Edward F. Shea, John J. Dalton, Edward Bayles and Charles Sturtevant, rendered that ever popular selection "We Didn't Do a Thing to Them," written by Keeper John (Tom) Whittaker, and dedicated to the officers of the Charlestown prison.

Martin Conway, who takes care of the obstreperous persons within the confines of Billerica, was in attendance and he told what the Billerica cops would do to the visitors if they ever met on the banks of the Concord river. Martin gave a very eloquent and after describing the beauties of the town six miles beyond us, told of the numerous groves and the facilities for playing ball in his burgh. He said that he felt rather slighted when he learned that the game was to be held in North Chelmsford and intimated that he was glad that it had been held in Lowell when the next game is held it will be on the grounds which are within his jurisdiction.

Joseph Mullane, who was a farmer twirler in the New England league, but who now is kept busy turning the locks on the cells at the state prison, was one of the speakers, and he said that his arm was in the pink of condition and he only regret was that the game could not be played. He said that there would be nothing to it, for every man who came before him would be retired on strikes.

Walter L. Wood, who is as broad as he is long, and is known as "Big" "Hearty" Hooper, was on hand with his little speech, and though he at times gets short of wind he loosened enough of Shakespearean verbosity, intermingled with baseball talk, to keep the crowd convulsed with laughter.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wood's speech Patrolman "Jack" Whelan, the head of the Lowell police baseball team, took the floor and gave an interesting account of how his men played the game last year and how they would have played it yesterday.

"Billy" Sanborn, who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but who has got round shouldered as a result of raising a housewife, managed to tell those assembled how he lost the game for the Charlestown gang last year by scoring seven errors. He said that he had studied the rules for the last seven months and that if the game had been played he would have vindicated himself.

Augustus E. Duncan, better known as plain "Gus" who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but now at "states," and who was to have covered the "third base" for the visitors, desecrated at considerable length on his proclivity as a ball player. He intimated that his sole desire was to wipe out the defeat which his companions met with last year and wanted to beat the Lowell team on its own stamping grounds.

Keeper John (Tom) Whittaker was given a chance to speak, but instead of speaking on matters pertaining to the occasion he drifted off into whippets, but stopped when someone shouted that "im is the man 'co owns the whippets."

Patrolman Ed. Hill also had a few words to say, but Patrolman Tom Molony when he started to tell about Polleli weddings in Davidson street was told that there were no foreigners in the crowd and that the talk must be confined to baseball.

Among the others who had a few words to say were Patrolmen Cornelius O'Keefe, John Clark, Frank Carey and ex-Patrolman Cornelius Howard.

One of the peculiar incidents in connection with the trip of the officers from the state prison to this city was the fact that when they started they found that there were 13 in the party. They could not think of starting out with an unlucky number, and it was suggested that lots be drawn for one member to stay at home, and John Townsend drew the blank. He regretted very much that he could not come to Lowell, but as he is a sport and lost he decided to stay at home.

In the evening the visitors were entertained at the Central club and they took the last train for Boston, regretting very much that they did not have a chance to play ball, but thanking everyone for the good time which they had.

P. S.—It is just as well that the visitors did not play ball for if they had they would have met with another defeat.

Department of Justice Issues Statement

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Attorney General Wickersham, in commenting on the indictments returned yesterday by the New York special federal grand jury against James A. Patten, Maurice H. Rothschild, F. B. Hayne, Wm. P. Brown, Eugene G. Seales, Sidney J. Harmon and Robert M. Thompson, growing out of the so-called "cotton-pool" said that the investigation which was held had satisfied the grand jury of the existence of the combination and of its questionable character.

In regard to indictments the following statement was given out last night by the department of justice:

"These indictments are the result of the investigation commenced by the department of justice some time since based on information that the persons indicted with others had, in the early part of the year, formed a combination for the purpose of cornering the entire remaining supply of raw cotton of the crop of 1909 and to hold a substantial portion of the same under agreement not to make deliveries in certain markets prior to about November 1, 1910 thus creating an artificial shortage in addition to the crop shortage in the supply available for the spinners and making it possible to require them to purchase thereafter at an arbitrary price fixed by the pool."

"At the same time agreements were said to have been entered into between representatives of a pool and a number of spinners whereby the latter agreed to join the conspiracy to the extent of purchases of several thousand bales of cotton to be removed from the market, pursuant to this agreement the pool acquired about 350,000 bales of raw cotton for delivery in May, which with a large amount already on hand, was to be lifted out of the three principal markets of the world. This complete control of the May market with the further purchase of several hundred thousand bales remaining supply for delivery in July or

HOPEDALE, June 18.—No one in Massachusetts has a better regard for June 17 than Gov. Draper, for in addition to his patriotic appreciation for the spirit and deeds that led to Bunker Hill being the memorable day in national history it is, he has a strong personal interest in the day, for it is his birthday, and as such it is always observed in some simple way with his immediate family when practicable.

Yesterday was no exception to that home custom, and although during the day the guest of the Worcester club, yet this evening he excluded all matters of business, however pressing, that he might uninterruptedly spend the anniversary with his family.

He reached home about 6:30 last evening and only broke away from his temporary seclusion to say to a correspondent last night that he was to celebrate his anniversary with a family dinner and was going to keep off whatever seemed likely to interfere with his home pleasure "as with a shotgun."

Gov. Draper was born June 17, 1853.

PRESIDENT TAFT

To be Made Doctor of Jurisprudence

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Taft accompanied by Reps. Norton and Butler of Pennsylvania left here today for Villanova, Pa., where at noon he will receive from St. Thomas college the degree of doctor of jurisprudence and make an address. The president will return to Washington tonight.

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks

dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Gives no outside heat; no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. The stove is connected with a coal or gas supply, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till the fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for coffee, tea, or saucepan, and even a rack for towels. It saves time, worry, health and temper. It does all a woman needs and more than she expects. Made with 1, 2, and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner sizes can be had with or without cabinet.

Takes Drastic Measures to Stop Fight in San Francisco

Four Military Companies to be Within Quick Call of Adjutant General

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Four companies of the state militia will be within quick call of Adjutant General Lauck who will be at the Louis Blot arena this afternoon ready to take drastic action if the local authorities refuse by reason of injunction or otherwise to interfere with the fight scheduled between Langford and Kaufman.

The hands of Gov. Gillett at Sacramento is a proclamation of martial law which he will sign and wire immediately to the adjutant general at the arena just as soon as he is advised that Blot intends to go on with the contest and that the local authorities will not carry out the governor's will.

However, Chief of Police Marlin has issued a definite statement that both the Langford-Kaufman and the Jeffries-Johnson fights will be prevented by the police.

The statement came from Sam Langford's training quarters late last night, that the negro will refuse to fight and go away with his jaw.

A statement taken by Gov. Gillett was common gossip in the all-night resorts throughout the sporting section that Blot was ready to throw up the sponge.

From all appearances this morning the fighting game has received its quietus in California and a big exodus is about to begin to Nevada. Jeffries probably will break camp at Ben Lomond this afternoon and start for Reno or Goldfield without delay. Johnson is ready to leave for Nevada.

So far as the Jeffries-Johnson fight is concerned it is practically settled that it will be held either at Reno or Goldfield.

Bickard's attorneys are urging him to take the matter to the courts but Richard declares that he has no intention of opposing the state authorities.

Early this morning it looked as if Reno is slated for the big fight.

Goldfield and Ely still under consideration but both Richard and Gleason lean strongly toward Reno.

At both training camps a program of work more strenuous than usual is mapped out for today. Jeffries, who was in high good humor last night after a denunciation of the governor for his course, declared he would do a lot of boxing this morning with Bob Armstrong and Joe Chynski.

GOVERNOR'S OPINION

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 18.—When told of the Barry and Ferguson fight at Los Angeles, Gov. Gillett said: "I did not know there was to be a fight last night in Los Angeles. I understood that they were going to sign for one down there some time next week."

For that reason the governor said that he had not notified the Los Angeles authorities to prevent any contest there last night.

"Of course they are breaking the law there as well," he continued, "and it is up to the district attorney now to prosecute the lawbreakers."

MILLER BROTHERS

FAMOUS 101 RANCH WILD WEST SHOW COMING JULY 6

More than two hundred cowboys are employed by Miller Brothers on the vast reaches of the 101 Ranch. The most wonderfully expert lariat jugglers of this buoyant bunch of "punchers" are in the ranks of the show. They display their art afoot and on horse, prone on their backs, standing on their heads, upright, with right and left hands, and some even propel the cowboy instrument with their spurs and booted feet. The exhibition, individually and aggregately, is a demonstration of practical and fancy skill. Miller Brothers contend, which has never been equalled and never will be.

The inception of the 101 Ranch Wild West will always remain unique to the annals of traveling tented exhibitions. Miller Brothers, who have been forced into the professional amusement business.

For many years the ranch had been the wonder-spot and show-place of Oklahoma. Frequently the Millers gathered their cowboys and cowgirls and horses and steers and buffaloes to a public arena, summoned a few score of the Indians, who had their wigwam homes nearby, and gave impromptu entertainments. These spectacular displays attracted first the attention of Oklahoma, and then their fame spread through the country. In June, 1905, the railroads deposited more than 75,000 persons, who came from all over the state as well as from New York and San Francisco, at one of these gatherings. Three years ago, when the Jamestown Exposition was promoted, the directors turned to the Miller Brothers as the most famous representatives of the cattle raising business, to give an arctic illustration of its features.

That the show from Oklahoma prairie was the sensational triumph of the fair is known to all who attended. So instantaneously tremendous was the patronage and popularity that New York City demanded a duplicate entertainment. The Millers hurried back to the range, recruited another show from the resources of their acres and sent it on to Brighton Beach, New York city, where for six weeks it broke Metropolitan records of attendance and favor.

Before the first snow of winter had whitened the 101 Ranch rangeland, the Millers and their men and women and live stock were back from what they called their "spree," with no notion but that their experiences as "show people" was over. But the reputation their entertainment had achieved had made too deep an impression not to focus the longing eyes of famous amusement men upon the 101 Ranch. The three ranchmen resisted all overtures—and prop-sitions came to them from many and varied flatterers—until Edward Arlington placed his plans before them. Then they capitulated and the 101 Ranch Wild West became a permanent fact in the tented amusement business. Mr. Arlington assumed exclusive charge of route, publicity and other manifold duties of promoting the progress and publicity of the show, leaving Joseph C. Miller untrammelled in his conduct of the arena.

This is the third year that has numbered the 101 Ranch owners in the ranks of the traveling show business. The successful record of their show is unequalled in the history of the circus. It will be in Lowell on July 6 and promises to eclipse in the variety and excellence of its features any show of the kind ever exhibited here.

SMITH LEADS FIELD

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Alexander Smith, the professional of the Wykagyle Country club, led the field at the conclusion of the first day's play yesterday in the national open golf championship tournament at St. Martins. His score for the 36 holes played yesterday was 146. "Tom" Anderson, Jr., of the Inwood Country club, who won the morning round with a score of 72, had a score of 76 in the afternoon round and was tied for second place with G. Nichols of Wilmington, J. McLeod of St. Louis and J. T. McDermott of Merchantville. Fifty-four of the 71 starters qualified for the final rounds, which will be played today.

MURDER IN SECOND DEGREE

CENTER OSSISPEE, N. H., June 18.—Henry W. King, of Moultonville, a blacksmith, was sentenced to not less than twenty years in Concord prison for the death of his wife on September 3d, last, by Judge Chamberlain in the extra session of the superior court here yesterday. Chief Justice Wallace presiding. The verdict was murder in the second degree. There were no witnesses to the shooting and the conviction was on circumstantial evidence. A family quarrel, it is believed, was the cause of the tragedy.

He Secured the Decision Over Jim Barry Last Night

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Sandy Ferguson, the "angel child" from Boston won a newspaper decision over Jim Barry of Chicago last night at the Naad Junction pavilion of the Pacific A. C. It was a slow affair.

An officer of police at the ringside during the preliminary bouts watched closely to see that the scrapping did not become unduly so, as it was classed as real prize fighting. Two of the bouts were stopped as soon as a little blood was shed. This did not please the gathering and the police were hooted at intervals throughout the evening's entertainment.

Dr. Temple's TREATMENT
Cures Men

Dr. Temple's Treatment cures to day cured Gonorrhea, Hydrocele, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, Losses, Stricture, Blood Poison, Kidney, Bladder and Prostate Trouble, Piles, Placenta and all Racial Affections, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula and all stubborn chronic malodorous diseases which resist the treatment of ordinary doctors. The Doctor wants to link to every sufferer from these diseases. Years of experience in treating Chronic, Nervous, Blood and Private Affections gives him many advantages over family doctors. He can give you the quickest, safest and surest cure obtainable. He has cured thousands of weak, broken-down discouraged men, who will gladly vouch for the success, skill and honesty in the practice of his specialty. What he has done for others he can do for you. Call today. Remember, he cures where others fail.
Hours: Monday and Wednesday, 10 to 12; Tuesday, 7 to 8; Sunday, 10 to 12; other days by appointment only.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur H. Paradis and Miss Catherine Brennan, both of this city, were married at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday by Rev. Fr. O'Toole of the cathedral of that city. Miss Brennan was attended by Miss Emma Sherson, and Mr. Bernard Patten was best man. A reception was held at the home of the bride in Providence, at which a number of Lowell friends attended. Miss Brennan was formerly employed as saleslady at the New York Clock & Suit store. After an extended wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Paradis will live in Providence, and will be at home to friends after Aug. 1.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING

Struck Water Tank at Lowell Insulated Wire Co. Plant

There was thunder and lightning and some rain (emphasis on the some). Far be it from us to think for one moment that you didn't notice it. No greater insult could be offered. When the rain that was ushered in by thunder, and "by thunder" it was thunder, commenced to fall it didn't come in drops—it just poured down, and baseball devotees were sorer than a cider mill apple orchard. Here in this office, however, we did not despair of the same.

The oldest and best sporting writer in New England is always with us and he said words that sounded "all-fired" encouraging to fellows who feared the same or games would be called off.

This is what he said: "There will be a ball game today." When he said that he stood right up and looked us all squarely in the face. "The wind has changed," he continued, "and what you considered a storm is but a shower. I'll give you two to one on Lowell and if they don't play you can have the money. That's how sure I am. We didn't say anything."

Bolt Struck Water Tank

Folks at the plant of the Lowell Insulated Wire Co., in Plain street had good reason to know that the atmospheric elements were a bit disturbed. The water tank on the top of the building was struck and when the storm cleared away it was found that the tank was battered and bruised and scared and rent. The bolt, or whatever it was that hit the tank, bounced from the roof. It did not go down through the building.

THE GOVERNMENT

Sues the Great Lakes Towing Co.

CLEVELAND, O., June 18.—Alleging that it is a trust and conducted in restraint of trade, the government today began suit against the Great Lakes Towing Co., with headquarters in this city, to oust it from its charter. The suit which was filed in the United States circuit court for District Attorney William R. Day upon instructions from the department of justice at Washington is based upon the Sherman anti-trust law.

The company operates tugs, lighters and wreckers throughout the great lakes from Duluth to Buffalo. It is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey and is capitalized at $5,000,000.

Nineteen individuals, officers and stockholders of the company, also are named as defendants.

A dissolution of the company is asked by the government.

STRIKE IS ENDED

VALLEY FALLS, R. I., June 18.—The strike which caused the closing of the Rhode Island Horse Shoe Co. plant here the first of this week was ended today and 500 employees will return to work on Monday. The strike was precipitated on June 5 when about fifty henders went out, demanding increased wages. No statement was given out today except that the differences had been amicably adjusted.

MADAME CAVALIERA WEDS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Robert W. Chamber of New York City, former sheriff of Dutchess county and Madame Cavaleria, the operatic soprano, were married in this city today.

Greeted by All Classes

NEW YORK, June 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, picturesque statesman and cosmopolitan traveler, was greeted back to his native land today by such a demonstration of popular enthusiasm and personal devotion as has seldom, if ever, been accorded to a returning American traveler. Each step in this eventful homcoming from the time he disembarked from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria until he moved up Broadway amid the tumultuous demonstrations of vast throngs of people, was one continuous ovation and tribute of affection.

At 8.12 this morning Mr. Roosevelt left the steamer amid the roar of big guns from battleships and land forts and a pandemonium of steam whistles from water craft and from the factories along the water front.

Then, aboard the revenue cutter Androscoogin he moved at the head of an imposing marine parade up the Hudson river to Riverside drive and back again to the battery amid the continuous demonstration of water craft and the assembled multitude on shore.

The landing at the battery was the signal for another clamorous ovation.

Here Mayor Gaynor extended official greeting and Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly but significantly of the interest and part he will continue to take in public affairs. At 11 o'clock the start up Broadway began, through densely massed throngs extending for miles along the main thoroughfares of the city. Everywhere the returning traveler met the same whirlwind of demonstrative greetings—as he passed Wall street, farther on as he moved through Park place and the business section and the Shulton, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Madison squares and through Fifth avenue, Mr. Roosevelt stood erect in his carriage most of the time, his silk hat in his right hand, waving responsive greetings to the cheering throngs. By noon the popular welcome was practically concluded and Mr. Roosevelt joined relatives for the afternoon, returning to his home at Oyster Bay later in the day.

A canvas canopy protected Col. Roosevelt and Mayor Gaynor while speaking but everybody else sat in the blinding sun. It was very hot and the humidity made the heat more oppressive.

In the carriage following Mr. Roosevelt's in the land parade were Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Capt. Butt, Mr. Loeb and Judge Gary. In the third carriage were Secretary of the Navy Meyer, George B. Sheldon, Henry Cabot Lodge, and Commodore Smith.

Standing upright in his carriage Mr. Roosevelt bowed right and left in acknowledgment of cheers from the crowd along lower Broadway.

Welcomed By Roosevelt

"This beats Europe," said Col. Roosevelt as he stepped from the Manhattan to the larger cutter Androscoogin as it lay off quarantine. A cheer greeted the ex-president as he came aboard the Androscoogin and was welcomed by Commodore Vanderbilt, former Judge Elihu T. Gerry of the United States Steel corporation, and scores of men prominent in the world of finance, industry and politics who composed the large reception committee.

"Well, this is just bully," continued the colonel, who with his silk hat in hand was soon engulfed in a swarm of admiring and political associates. They hastened him to the afterdeck of the Androscoogin, where the first reception of the day was held. Chairman Vanderbilt presented Mr. Roosevelt with a welcoming medal presented by the city of New York, and Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I can't tell you how deeply I appreciate this welcome."

As the colonel stepped from the gangplank to the deck of the Androscoogin he caused a laugh when he eschewed District Attorney Stimson of the federal court, who prosecuted the sugar trust by exclaiming: "Hello, sugar trust."

Met Rough Riders

Mr. Roosevelt was in his element. As the crowd pressed about he shook one after another by the hand exclaiming with his old friends words of greeting. To Captain Crosby of the rough riders who introduced him to the reception committee was the various members passed. He said:

"This is just the kind of thing I expected. I am so pleased; this is all so fine and magnificent."

General George Wingate, who is a distant cousin of the sirdar of Egypt was warmly welcomed by the returning hunter, who, asking General Wingate to the hotel, said:

"By George, the sirdar told me to be sure to give you his regards."

Jacob Rills, one of the colonel's closest friends was seized by both hands, Mr. Roosevelt exclaiming:

"Oh, Jake, I'm so mighty glad to see you. I had a delightful time all around."

The welcoming committee set up a great shout when Dr. Lyman Abbott, director of the outlook with which Col. Roosevelt is now associated, stepped forward and grasped Mr. Roosevelt by the hand. Col. Roosevelt started a laugh by saying:

"Well, by George, partner, this is the real thing," whereupon some one in the rear cried:

"Don't talk circulation," and Mr. Roosevelt quickly taking advantage of the point, cried:

"Well, maybe you think we are getting up a pink sheet sporting supplement."

Senator Grady, minority leader of the New York legislature, who was in that body when Col. Roosevelt first entered the political field as a state assemblyman, was accorded a hearty greeting, the colonel saying:

"Well, Tom, I'm glad to see you," and then turning to a group of newspapermen, he said:

"There came to see me one day in the executive chamber with a photograph of mine Grady, and asked me for an autograph on it. After I signed I said to him: 'When you go back to the senate chamber are you going to call me a janitor or a satrap?' and he quickly replied, looking me straight in the face: 'I'm going to call you Calikula.'"

It was hot under the awning of the afterdeck of the Androscoogin, but Col. Roosevelt's high spirits showed no diminution. To the former secretary of the treasury, Cortelyou, the colonel said: "Oh, George, this is just fine of you to come out here and meet me."

A young college student of the University of California stepped up to the ex-hunter who greeted him, saying: "You ought to be here to welcome me. I have given an elephant to your university and all I can say is it is not white."

Congressman Bennett of Brooklyn as he stepped up to grasp the hand of Col. Roosevelt was drawn close while the hunter said:

"I've got something to say to you but I can't say it before these newspapermen."

"Well, well, I declare, here's Jimmy Oliver," said Colonel Roosevelt as the veteran New York city assemblyman who has known Colonel Roosevelt these many years stepped forward.

"We have been in the assembly together and we have never allowed the constitution to interfere between friends."

And so it went, one after another of Col. Roosevelt's friends coming in for some hearty and appropriate greeting. Concluding this informal reception, Col. Roosevelt with Cornelius Vanderbilt, Captain Crosby and U. S. Senator Lodge stepped forward to the captain's bridge, where Col. Roosevelt viewed the water parade and greeted the crowds that thronged the passing water craft.

"This is just fine," said Col. Roosevelt as he edged his way through the crowded companionway to the dock and was escorted to the grandstand, where Mayor Gaynor officially welcomed him to the city.

When Mr. Roosevelt met the rough riders at the Battery he arose in his carriage and called out to them:

"I certainly love all my boys."

The parade reached 59th street just before 1.30 and was disbanded. Col. Roosevelt stepped from his carriage and with Mr. Vanderbilt and Mayor Gaynor walked over to where the rough riders were drawn up. He gave Col. Brody his hand and chatted with him for a moment and then went down the ranks of the rough riders and gave each man a cordial handshake. The throngs continued their plaudits as the colonel entered an automobile and was driven down Fifth avenue.

On the way up Fifth avenue a little boy made his way out from the lines of spectators and handed Col. Roosevelt a handsome bunch of carnations which the little fellow told the ex-president had been purchased with treasured savings. Col. Roosevelt cordially thanked the lad for his self sacrificing attention while the sidewalk crowds cheered their appreciation.

Col. Roosevelt went to the home of Theodor Butler, grandfather of Miss Alexander, the fiancée of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., at 333 Fifth avenue. He was escorted down Fifth avenue by a squad of mounted police and a squad from squadron A. As he jumped to the street he waved his hand to the riders and shook hands to those about him.

Congressman Longworth, Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., were at a window on the first floor. As the former president was shaking hands, he remarked: "Isn't this bully, bully, bully?"

At this point Congressman Longworth exclaimed as he leaned out of the window, "Oh, pop, look at your boy!"

Col. Roosevelt looked. His high top hat did appear somewhat rouged up. Turning to the window, the former president shouted:

"Yes, Nick, I had to gesticulate with it so often that there is very little left of it."

Col. Roosevelt then ran up the stairs and disappeared, as the several score of persons about the house continued their shouts of greeting.

Round-Up Made During Celebration at Charlestown

BOSTON, June 18.—One hundred and thirty-one persons were arrested in Charlestown last night, the largest number that was ever taken into custody in that district on Bunker Hill day. The number included several women. Most of the arrests were on charges of drunkenness, but scattered through the number were several for violation of the city ordinances in regard to the use of fireworks and firearms and for other causes.

Early in the evening the crowds began to flock to Charlestown, and as the hours passed they became more and more boisterous, surpassing the crowd of the night before both in numbers and noise.

The Charlestown police were working single-handed, the details from the intown stations which did duty the "Night Before" having been recalled.

About 11 o'clock the police decided it was time the crowds began to be dispersed and three squads of officers were formed. One, headed by Lieut. Garde, descended upon the midway which had been established at Sullivan square, and after ordering the places to cease business, started the crowds moving. Another squad headed by Sergeant Kilham went through Main street from City square to Sullivan square, and the third, under Sergeant Webster, took in City square, Chelsea street and part of Bunker Hill street. On all hands men and women unable to take care of themselves because of over indulgence in liquor were found and were hurried away to the police station. A few satiated ones got a ride in the patrol wagon, but the majority were walked to the station by the officers. When the final count was made it was found that the station, which contains but seventeen cells, which, under ordinary circumstances, would accommodate but thirty-four prisoners, contained 131. The probation officer was sent for, and at 1 o'clock this morning he began releasing the first offenders, who were in condition to go home, and nearly half of those who were arrested had departed before daylight. Several others were able to secure bail and so were also allowed to go.

HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE

BOSTON, June 18.—F. J. Wood, the South End grocer, who was arrested on a charge of perjury Thursday afternoon in connection with the trial of William J. Keliher, was admitted to $2000 bail today. Keliher remained in jail as his friends were unable to raise $50,000 for his bond.

REP. MELLE BURIED

WORCESTER, June 18.—One of the largest congregations ever seen in St. John's Roman Catholic church assembled today to pay a final tribute of respect to the memory of Representative James H. Mellen. Those present included a delegation from the house of representatives headed by Speaker Walker. The service consisted of a solemn high mass of requiem celebrated by Mgr. Thomas Griffin. Interment was in St. John's cemetery.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT CASE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The chances of a "verdict" from the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee at the present session of congress are remote. The committee held a meeting behind closed doors but it was announced at its conclusion that no action had been taken and that an adjournment had been taken until next Saturday when the case would be discussed further.

ALLEGED BURGLAR STATE ASSOCIATION

WAS CAPTURED AFTER A HOT SPRINT

BOSTON, June 18.—A young man, alleged to be a stone-breaker, broke away from Patrolman Dale of division 1, who used to be a crack amateur sprinter, near the police station at East D-Adam street about daylight yesterday morning.

Dale had to chase the fugitive nearly one mile, the capture being made in Castle square, where the alleged burglar surrendered after Dale fired several shots into the air.

He described himself to the police as Eugene Boyle, 22 years old, 1422 Washington street, with Daniel J. Driscoll, 21 years old, of 1072 Beaulieu street, East Boston, and Artemus Collins, 22 years old, of 235 Dover street, he was arrested by Policeman Jackson and Dale, following a break in Eugene Grant's liquor store at 673 Harrison street.

The patrolmen were taking the prisoners to the station when Boyle slipped away. Jackson clung to Driscoll and Collins while Dale chased Boyle.

The trio, it is charged, stole eight quarts of whiskey from Grant's store. After being measured and taken to police headquarters they were each held in $1200 for the grand jury, as they waived examination when arraigned in the municipal court.

BULLET IN HEART NEW YORK BOY MAY HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Paul Hamberger, a young boy, known as a Hindu psychist, was found in a room of his employer's house yesterday with a revolver bullet through his heart and the weapon lying beside him. Dr. Ellis, the police say, admitted in court that the revolver yesterday morning and left it in his desk. He believes Hamberger shot himself accidentally while examining the weapon.

The police started an investigation of the fatality. Dr. Ellis was locked up last night without bail pending an inquiry into Hamberger's death. Examination showed no powder marks on Hamberger's body, discrediting the theory of suicide to some extent.

OF ELKS WAS FORMED IN BOSTON LAST NIGHT

BOSTON, June 18.—A state association of Elks was formed last night at the Boston Lodge home when seven by-five delegates, representing more than thirty lodges, met and elected temporary officers and adopted a constitution to perfect an organization similar to those already existing in other states.

Many past and present exalted rulers and past district deputies were present. The purpose is to make a federation of the state lodges, membership in which shall be open to any member of the individual lodges, and which shall, by its numerical strength, be in a position to further the purposes of the order and advance the interests of the separate lodges to an extent that would otherwise be impossible. The history of all other state associations of Elks has been one of success and has proved a great benefit to the order at large.

James R. Nicholson of Springfield, past district deputy, was elected temporary chairman, with power to appoint an executive committee of fifteen to present ways and means for perfecting the organization. Other officers elected were J. Clifford Knutson of Salem, secretary, and James L. Johnson of Boston, secretary.

Notices will be sent to every lodge in the state inviting their co-operation in the movement.

CURB BROKERS RUN FOR COVER AS THE POLICE APPEAR

NEW YORK, June 18.—There was real excitement in the Curb market yesterday when toward the close of the day a patrol wagon laden with police came down the street and the patrolmen jumped out and started into the crowd. About one-third of the crowd scattered. There was in mind the recent raid on the United Wireless office and fear that something else was on.

As many of the transactions permitted in that market are open to suspicion, the run to cover was very amusing to the brokers who handle real goods on the Curb. It was a very sheepish crowd of Curb brokers who were laughing at when they came back to watch the police tear down the ropes and stakes, preparing for the crowd when Colonel Roosevelt passed up Broadway today.

They wish to have the street clear in case of accident and to have room for the crowds that will seek other streets than Broadway in going down to Battery park.

GOV. GILLET DEFENDS THE HONOR OF HIS STATE

ANNUAL REUNION

Of Old Co. G Associates at American House

The members of the Old Company G Associates—15 in number—met at the New American House in Central street yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the 38th annual reunion. Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock after which a business meeting was held.

Since the last reunion, April 15th, 1909 five members of the association have passed away, they being:

William B. Tingley, Providence, R. I., September 22, 1905; Randolph C. Lord, Lowell, December 30, 1905; Charles H. Richardson, Lowell, January 28, 1910; George W. Hall, Haverhill, February 8, 1910; and Frederick J. Small, Lowell, February 16, 1910.

The members of the organization present were: Capt. George L. Gaily, Lowell; Franklin S. Peavey, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; Charles R. Kitchen, Lowell; Mathias Knowles, Lowell; Andrew Liddell, Lowell; William H. Spaulding, Lowell; Alonzo C. Grant, Exeter, N. H.; John M. Averill, Boston; George H. Huntley, Newbury, N. J.; George W. Hunsdon, Southerville; S. Augustus Lefebvre, Wakefield, Mass.; William A. Morris, York, Pa.; Albert S. Stackpole, West Lebanon, Me.; Samuel E. Stearns, Three Rivers, Mass.; and Al. Sawyer, Cambridge Highlands.

Major Charles A. Smith, who was a lieutenant in the Sixth regiment during the war, and who is an honorary member of the Associates, was also present.

The Old Company G Associates were mustered into the service August 31, 1862 and were mustered out June 2, 1863. They were in the Seventh Army Corps, First Division, Foster's Brigade.

The members spent the greater part of their time in Virginia and North Carolina where they participated in the battles of the Deserter House, the siege of Suffolk, Carville and Hatcher Church.

At the present time there are 25 members of the organization living. The death list numbers 52, with six members unaccounted for, but who in all probability are dead.

After the dinner the business session was held. The first was to pass the annual election of officers, the following being chosen: President, Franklin S. Peavey, Lowell; vice president, Mathias Knowles, Lowell; William H. Spaulding, Lowell; treasurer, Andrew Liddell, Lowell; executive committee, Charles R. Kitchen, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; and Henry C. Hutchinson of Lowell.

Letters were read from Frank Buncher, Birmingham, Michigan; Geo. F. Taylor, East Pepperell; W. B. Atkins, Inland, Wisconsin; H. T. Barnard, Melrose Falls, Vt.; Charles H. Rossett, Hudson, N. H.; B. B. Colburn, Boston; F. K. McAlvin, Boston; C. H. Farmer, Oakland, Cal.; J. H. Sears, Chelsea; Charles Spencer, Newport News, Va.; and John Spencer, Meriden, Conn. The letter of Mr. Farmer held a poem of three stanzas, which created considerable merriment among the veterans.

It was voted to send a letter of greeting to the 13th Indiana Veterans association, and votes of thanks were given the secretary and treasurer of the Company G Associates. After the business meeting there was much socializing in which all the veterans participated. As a guest during the afternoon was present Col. Melvin Heath of Lawrence.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Nominations today included the following: Minister to Romania, Servin; and Bulgaria, John R. Carter of Maryland.

GIRL WAS RUN OVER

But She Was Not Injured by Subway Cars

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Edith Hardcastle, living at the Hotel Regent, yesterday had one of the narrowest escapes from death that has been recorded in many years. The accident occurred in the subway at 72nd street. Two cars passed over her. When horrified passengers and bystanders went to assist in the work of removing what everyone felt certain would be a mangled form, the young woman helped in the work of rescue. As the rescuers tried to drag her out, she crawled part of the way. She was suffering from shock and from the effects of her fall from the platform. Her escape was due to her slenderness and the fact that her dress did not catch in any of the network of material beneath the cars.

Miss Hardcastle's friends last evening said she was the luckiest girl in these respects. In New York, recently she had an escape from which they all congratulated her. She was reported engaged, and it is said the date for the marriage was set. Then it was learned that the fiancée then was married.

Her accident yesterday brought another lucky escape. She was at the 72nd street station when a southbound train arrived. She was seen near the tracks.

Edwin Emerson, a Rough Rider, here to welcome Roosevelt, sprang to her aid, but too late. She tumbled and fell upon the tracks. The train was rolling into the station. Motorman H. E. Hoger saw her fall. He put on the brakes and reversed the power, but the train rolled over her, and the motorman shut his eyes as the mangled persons on the platform screamed.

Miss Hardcastle was dazed when reached, and a policeman insisted upon taking her to the West 98th street station. There she said she had no recollection of anything except a dizziness.

The girl's father, head of the firm of Hardcastle & Flint, commission merchants at 20 Green street, was informed of his daughter's arrest and went at once to the police station. She was released and taken to the hotel.

At the hotel there was talk of the romance in the life of the young woman, and her former lucky escape. Mr. Hardcastle denied the story of a romance.

"My daughter fell under the train by accident, and it was foolish of the police to make a charge as they did," he said.

In west side court, where the girl was arraigned, Mr. Hardcastle repeated his denial. "My daughter has been ill lately," he said, "and I had planned to take her to the country tomorrow. I intend to take her to Canada and Europe, so she can recover her health."

Miss Hardcastle, who is a pretty, light haired girl, accompanied her father and corroborated his statement to the magistrate, she was released then.

A newspaper received a letter late last night from Mr. Emerson, stating that while he tried to save Miss Hardcastle she fell accidentally under the train. He said the report given out by the police, that she struggled to prevent the girl from jumping was erroneous.

BODY RECOVERED

Man Was Missing From Home

NEWPORT, R. I., June 18.—The body of Moses Butler, a former's helper who had been missing from his home in Middletown since Monday, was found floating in the water near the shores of second beach pond in Middletown today. Butler was 36 years of age. It was impossible to determine whether Butler committed suicide or was drowned while in bathing.

HANGED HIMSELF

STOCKBRIDGE MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

STOCKBRIDGE, June 18.—Harry Babcock, a plumber, aged 48, committed suicide by hanging, sometime last night, at the Stockbridge railroad station.

He fastened a rope to one of the platform joists and jumped off a track.

His father-in-law, William Whitbeck, committed suicide in Stockbridge two weeks ago by drinking carbolic acid and the act pressed on the mind of Babcock.

Three days after the Whitbeck suicide, Babcock remarked, "Well, I'll be the next to go." He could not sleep, he said.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—With 55 of the best professional players in the United States contending for the ten prizes excellent golf was expected in the final day's play for the national open championship on the course of the Philadelphia Cricket club at Wissahickon, Alexander Smith of Wyke, England, won the championship.

He led the field at the start of the morning round of 18 holes with 148 strokes for the 36 strokes played yesterday.

Body of Man Found in Trunk

NEW YORK, June 18.—A new murder mystery developed today with the finding of the body of an unidentified man packed in a trunk in the hallway of a house on Goerck street. The police took the trunk and body in charge and a detail of detectives immediately began an investigation.

An hour after the discovery the body was identified as that of Moses Sachs, a jewelry salesman. It was only a short time before the body was found that his two sons, Isador and Moses, Jr., had gone to police headquarters to report that their father had left home yesterday afternoon with $2000 worth of jewelry in his possession and had not returned.

The police found that the rope bound trunk containing the body had been left at 61 Goerck street this morning by an expressman. The janitress, not knowing to whom it belonged, asked the police to remove it. The trunk was taken to the nearest police station, where the body, bent double with the head against the knees, was discovered in the trunk.

Sachs was formerly proprietor of a Houston street jewelry store. Up to noon the police had found no clue to the circumstances under which he had been murdered.

ONLY FIVE DRUNKS

Police Court Session Was a Brief One

The police court session today was a short one, taking only about 15 minutes of the court's time.

Of the five drunks, two were released by the probation officer before the session.

Alfred Durand and John Donnelly, two drunks, will journey to the state farm this afternoon, and James Murray, a vagrant, will accompany them. Patrick Harrington, for drunkenness, received a sentence of three months in jail.

Matthew Ryan, charged with being a stubborn body, was placed on probation.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF JUNIOR HOLY NAME SOCIETY OF ST. PATRICK'S

On Thursday next the members of the junior branch of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church will hold their annual picnic at the picnic grounds of Canobie Lake park. Plans for the affair are completed and the picnic gives every assurance of being the best and most successful the society has ever conducted. Brother Florence, the spiritual director of the society, with the co-operation of the other brothers of the school, has arranged a list of sports which will suit the most fastidious of the members. Suitable prizes will be given to the winners of the various events.

The society will receive its monthly communion tomorrow morning at the 8:30 o'clock mass. A special meeting of the society will be held immediately after the mass in the school hall on Suffolk street, when the minor details of the picnic will be acted upon. The leaving time of the specials on Thursday morning will be made known and the committee in charge is very anxious to have every member present.

The lecture committee which arranged and made a success of the series of lectures held by the society during the past winter, made its final report to the society at the last meeting. The series held during the winter months was the first that the society has ever held, but from the successful way in which the lectures were carried out there is no doubt but that they will become annual events.

TO GET DIVORCE

DECREE TO BE GRANTED TO MR. TAYLOR

NEW YORK, June 18.—Charles W. Taylor, of Syracuse, who has been sitting as referee in the divorce proceedings brought by Emma Flower Taylor, daughter of the late Governor Roswell P. Flower, against her husband, John Byron Taylor, has decided in favor of Mrs. Taylor.

He sent word of his decision yesterday to Wallace Macfarlane and to Grier Monroe, who have been representing Mrs. Taylor. No alimony is allowed because none was asked for in her petition for an absolute divorce. The custody of the three children is given to her, however.

Mrs. Taylor is said to have named several women in her petition, but their identities have not been divulged. A number of private detectives in the employ of Mrs. Taylor furnished the evidence. While the hearings were in progress Mrs. Taylor and her mother lived in the Hotel Plaza, in this city. Taylor did not oppose the proceedings, but is said to have made a fight to retain possession of his children.

Mrs. Taylor, who married Taylor when he was nonpareil, inherited most of her father's fortune. Governor Flower opposed the marriage, even taking his daughter to Europe. On her return from this trip, however, she married Taylor. She later came from Three-Mile Bay, a small village near Watertown. He and his brother Bertrand, sons of the village shoemaker, were both fine-looking men. And, in spite of their humble family connections, were popular socially.

Since the marriage Taylor has become a member of the exchange, and is said to have amassed a fortune.

Mrs. Taylor is at present living in Watertown. Taylor is also making his home there.

MILLS SHUT DOWN

FALL RIVER, June 18.—The Algonquin Printing Co. works were closed today and will remain idle for an indefinite time. The American Printing Co.'s plant will be idle next week, due to the dullness of the cotton cloth market. The Bourne cotton mills in Tiverton will be closed from July 2 to July 21.

SUFFRAGIST IS SNUBBED

NEW YORK, June 18.—The charge of assault brought against Mrs. Sarah Allen Cunningham-Murtagh, formerly a member of the Woman's Suffrage association, was thrown out of court on the motion of Assistant District Attorney Strong yesterday.

The complaint was Mrs. Keene's, of No. 10 West One Hundred and Seventh street, auditor of the association, who declared that Mrs. Murtagh assaulted her during a meeting of the association on June 8.

LATEST VACATION NOTICE

Has Been Posted in the Massachusetts Mills

A vacation notice has been posted in the Massachusetts mills. The notice states that the mills will close from August 20 to September 6, inclusive. It was stated today that other mills are soon to announce a protracted vacation, some for four weeks and some for six weeks. Mill agents, however, do not admit that the report is true. That the spinners' strike has embarrased the mills there is no doubt. The spinner feeds the weaver and there have been a good many idle weavers about town for the last few days. The mill people claim that the strike does not amount to anything, but when one of them said "We like to close our mills on our own accord and when we get ready," the inference was plain. What he meant to say was that the mill people did not want the strikers to close the mills.

The strikers believe that they have right on their side. They have struck and their demand is a ten per cent. increase. They claim that they cannot feed, house and clothe themselves on the wages that they have been receiving. The mill people claim that because of the prohibitive price of cotton and general business depression they cannot afford to grant the demand for a ten per cent. increase. The condition is a very serious one from any viewpoint. Everybody knows that the cotton business is not in a flourishing condition and the chances are only too good for idle weeks in New England mills. This condition of affairs, however, is not a panacea for the heart ache of the young men who toil at the spinning frame from morn till night for less than $7 a week. There was a young man, a striker, arrested today. He was arrested for an assault alleged to have been committed by him last Tuesday or Wednesday. There was no violence and no trouble at the mill gates today. The strikers held a meeting a few days ago and agreed that there should be no violence or disturbance and it looks as if they intended to live up to their agreement.

"Cotton" for June has the following relative to the cotton mill situation in New England:

As frequently stated in these columns during the past eight months, cotton mills on medium and coarse counts in New England are experiencing a "prince and pauper" year. The mills that correctly read crop indications and bought sufficient spot and future cotton to carry them over this crop year, are making a veritable mint of money, while the mills that are buying as required are losing money; and their losses will be in proportion to the number of months since last October that they have been buying spot raw material.

As an illustration of the development of this situation one might cite the sale of Androskein mills stock during the middle of May at $241 per share as compared with a previous sale several weeks before of $205. This mill was fortunate in its purchases of cotton. It has had a good market for its fabrics and will show large earnings with probably an extra dividend in August. On the other hand, the American Linen Co., of Fall River, one of the finest plants in that city, was not so fortunate in buying cotton, and early in May its stock fell to $100 from $130 per share, because there was a feeling that a deficit will be shown in the annual statement.

One of the largest mills in Massachusetts, west of the mill centers, could have shown a profit of 32 per cent. on its capital stock by reselling its cotton last month, that was purchased the last of August, 1909. This mill uses a long staple and was fortunate in getting a large quantity of its grade from the Mississippi Delta district. A smaller mill in Connecticut is just emerging from a very critical financial condition occasioned by unprofitable manufacturing. This mill had enough cotton to carry it until the first of the year; but since that time every bale of cotton manufactured into fabric has shown a loss, and had it not been for financial assistance from friends the mill would now be closed "by order of the sheriff."

The worst is surely over. Converters are gradually making up their minds that higher prices for fabrics must be paid, and the market shows the influence of this sentiment. Jobs are more hopeful because they know positively that the manufacturer will not accept orders at a great sacrifice, and therefore the indications are for a firm undertone. Now and then one will meet a confirmed pessimist who believes that there is no proverbial silver lining; but when one meets several hundred of the leading manufacturers at a meeting assembled and you find courage and confidence in the very atmosphere, as was the condition at the Boston meeting, one can not remain a pessimist.

COMPLICATED REPORTS OF EMPEROR'S CONDITION ALARM GERMANY

BERLIN, June 18.—So many official statements and warnings to the residents of Germany not to be alarmed over Emperor William's condition have been sent out that the public has at last become aroused. It has been known for a long time that the emperor was not in good health. He has long brooded over his crippled left arm, and when an abscess on his right hand compelled the calling of a physician he became worried. The report that he broke a blood vessel on his right knee, followed by the report that he was only suffering from soreness from too much horseback riding, failed to impress the country. That the emperor would become sadder and sadder, the newspapers declare, is foolish. Just how serious his condition is cannot be learned from reliable official circles.

ROOSEVELT HOME

AND NAVAL PARADE
NEW YORK, June 18.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt returned today to New York from a trip through Africa and Europe, which began immediately upon his leaving the White House and which lasted for 15 months.

The steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria on which he sailed from England June 10 entered New York harbor at 7 o'clock this morning and was greeted by the battleship South Carolina with a national salute of 21 guns. At half past eight Mr. Roosevelt was transferred from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to the revenue tug Manhattan, where he was welcomed by a number of personal friends and relatives and Captain Archibald Butt, representing President Taft.

Shortly after this he was transferred from the Manhattan to the revenue cutter Androskein on which he led the water parade that took him up as far as 58th street, North river, and down to the Battery, where he was officially welcomed by Mayor Gaynor of New York at 11 o'clock.

Bedecked with signal flags and with the guns from Fort Wadsworth and Fort Hamilton booming a welcome, the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria glided into quarantine at 7:38 this morning.

Immediately behind the big liner came six ships of the navy, the battleship South Carolina in the van, while at anchor in the roadstead awaiting her coming was the United States dispatch boat Dolphin with the secretary of the navy on board. The battleship already had saluted the returning former president at Sandy Hook with 21 guns, but on coming to anchor alongside the liner the South Carolina hoisted long strings of pennants and the river craft joined in the demonstration with prolonged blasts from their whistles.

Planked by Mrs. Roosevelt, his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and his son Kermit, Theodore Roosevelt stood on the flying bridge of the liner high above the all decks of the ship and with his characteristic smile overspread his countenance and a shiny silk hat in his hand he waved his acknowledgments to the pandemonium on all sides of him.

Mr. Roosevelt lost no time on board the Augusta Victoria. The usual customs and health inspections formalities accomplished, he at once transferred to the revenue tug Manhattan, where with the immediate members of his family and a few intimate friends he sat down to a hasty breakfast.

There was more firing of big guns as Mr. Roosevelt left the Manhattan for the Androskein. Then comparative quiet fell while in the upper bay patrol boats darted back and forth among a hundred and one craft of every description, marshaling them in line for the parade.

The United States steamship Dolphin, leading the parade, and closely followed by the Androskein, got away at 12 minutes past 9.

The First Address
The first address of welcome presented to Mr. Roosevelt was handed him by the boarding pilot on behalf of the Pilots' association. This association was the last to greet the colonel on his departure from New York fifteen months ago. Health Officer Doty was the first of those from shore to pay his respects to Mr. Roosevelt. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, and Captain Butt boarded the Kaiserin from the Manhattan and were received by Mr. Roosevelt in his state room.

TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS Graduates of St. Patrick's Schools Will Attend High Mass

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the pupils of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools will take place tomorrow prior to high mass at 11 o'clock.

The diplomas will be presented by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., who will address the graduates.

There will be special music by the church and sanctuary choir, and a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

The graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' school who will receive diplomas are as follows: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick Eawright, John J. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John Leo Hamill, John S. Amstead, John J. Wolfe, Frederick McCall, James S. McNally, Patrick O'Leary, John P. Flannery.

Special archdiocesan certificates awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell will be presented to James

A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien. The pupils of the Girls' school to receive diplomas are: Misses Anna F. Curran, Mary G. Dunn, Theresa Hanlon, Catherine E. Hoar and Lillian J. Smith.

The pupils to receive archdiocesan certificates from the archbishop are: Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Egan, Mary J. Sullivan and Helen Whelan.

St. Patrick's Boys' school has had a particularly successful year with 325 pupils. In addition to the primary and grammar divisions, the school provides a two years' commercial course after the grammar school course is finished, including book-keeping, typewriting, stenography, commercial law, general arithmetic and church history.

Rev. Bro. Osmund, the superior, has been particularly successful in his administration of the affairs of the school.

TO POSTPONE FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Attorneys for Louis Blot issued a formal statement this forenoon that the Langford-Kaufman fight would be postponed until Saturday, June 25. The right of the governor to interfere, the statement said, would be fully tested in the courts.

FIVE MEN INJURED

Man Lighted Match 'Mid Fume of Gasoline

NEW YORK, June 18.—Fireman Joseph De Moll, twenty-eight years old, who lives on Staten Island, and who has been chauffeur to Deputy Fire Chief Thomas Lally, at Brooklyn fire headquarters, was frightfully burned last night through his own carelessness. He ignited a large quantity of gasoline escaping from the tank which supplies the fire chief's automobile.

De Moll was looking for the leak and had been especially warned against lighting matches. With him were James Shugness, of Truck No. 63, Thomas Robb, of the same company, and Fireman Duran and Southwick. Shugness was severely burned about the hands, face and neck, Robb, Duran and Southwick were burned about the hands and arms. Even if De Moll lives it is probable he will be maimed. He was taken to St. Peter's hospital.

The oil tank in question is located at the bottom of an airshaft, and was hard to get at. Chief Lally for several days had detected the odor of escaping gasoline, and asked De Moll and his comrades to locate the leak. De Moll went into the shaft through a window, while the others covered from a door coming with the cellar. They found about a foot of water, resulting from the rains, covering the bottom of the shaft under which was the tank.

Though the place was pitch dark, the man had, on instructions from Lally, not taken lanterns. Suddenly De Moll lit a match and a moment later there was a terrific roar and a flash of fire. The men with De Moll sprang through the door leading to the cellar, all badly burned. Then they thought of De Moll and started back for him. At this moment De Moll, screaming with pain, appeared at the window through which he had entered the shaft. His face was burnt black and his clothing was blazing fiercely. The others caught him by the arms and lifted him into the cellar. Then they laid him on the floor and threw their coats over him, extinguishing the flames. Dr. Egan was summoned from the Amblerland street hospital, and Dr. White, of the fire department, hurried down the stairs. They poured olive oil into De Moll's eyes, but it seemed to have no effect.

Luckily the flames did not reach the gasoline tank itself. When the gasoline floating on the surface of the water in the air shaft had been consumed the fire went out.

KILLED HIMSELF

TROLLEY PASSENGERS SAW MAN COMMIT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—William A. Wagner, fifty years old, a laborer, killed himself in sight of a car full of passengers by cutting his throat yesterday afternoon, at Beach and Walker avenues, the Bronx. He lived at No. 716 Melrose avenue.

There is a vacant lot at the corner and Wagner stood near a clump of trees just off the walk. As a trolley car, loaded with passengers, approached, Wagner saw Wagner take a razor from his pocket and, opening it, draw the blade across his throat, cutting a slash from ear to ear.

The motorman put on full speed until he saw Policeman Vliet, who went back and found Wagner. The man was bleeding and the policeman called Dr. Grossman, of the Fordham hospital, but when the ambulance arrived Wagner was dead.

His brother-in-law, James E. Rumer, brother of the Westchester Court buildings, and Wagner had grumbled over the death of his sister a few months ago and had been drinking. Wagner left two letters, addressed to Rumer and Arthur Wagner.

YALE OARSMEN AT WORK

GAVES PERRY, Conn. June 18.—The sun was hot enough to blister the Yale oarsmen during their morning row today, but they did not mind it for summer days have been few. All the crews were out with Mr. Kennedy, giving the freshmen special attention.

THE HARVARD CREWS

RED TAP, Conn. June 18.—Out in a slight shell this morning, Coach Wray gave instructions to the Harvard crews. It was practice of the second stretch work, the varsity four oared going under the watch for a half mile pull. The crew finished at a 37 stroke.

SEEKS DAMAGES

MAN SUES TO RECOVER FOR ALLEGED SLANDER AND ARREST

NEW YORK, June 18.—Louis E. Julian, formerly an investigator for the Metropolitan Street Railway company, has begun supreme court actions for $300,000 damages against several defendants, including former District Attorney Jerome.

In the complaints to two suits, directed against Thomas F. Ryan and John F. McIntyre, he asks $100,000 damages from each for alleged conspiracy to slander. These actions grew out of the Jerome investigation of the Metropolitan system during which Julian referred to McIntyre and Ryan in connection with a fund which he claimed had been raised for the purpose of electing a supreme court justice. Mr. McIntyre denounced this statement as untrue, and was backed up by Judge Julian in now suing these two men for the reflections cast upon his character at that time.

In a third suit Julian asks $100,000 damages. The defendants in this action are Jerome, Charles G. S. Wahle, former magistrate; J. L. Quackenbush, former chief counsel for the Metropolitan Railway company; Arthur F. McCube, former assistant to Quackenbush; Marshall E. Clarke, former assistant district attorney under Jerome, and Dr. Wolford Nelson, of the Astor House.

This law suit is based upon another charge that a fellow spends too much of his time with girls," declared Carl Katz, one of the nine members of the Bachelor club, of Paterson, which met last night to discuss the proposed boycott against them by Paterson women. Katz is the son of a millionaire and is in his twenties.

"If a young man isn't careful he has his head filled with a lot of nonsense," continued Katz, "and before he is aware of it he is full of that emotion they call love. Once a fellow gets in that trance his career and usefulness are ruined."

Let Miss Florence Cook and her friends jolly us with their proposed boycott if they want to. We will simply return the jolly. They say they won't invite us to any of their pink teas. Just imagine a hostess inviting us to a table dripping tea with a cloud of fluffy white, full of chatter, sitting alongside me, golf and automobile and is more to my liking."

Katz said the Bachelor club, as far as it goes, is really aimed at the girls of Paterson and vicinity. New York girls are not put under the ban.

COULDN'T MOVE
GIRL TOLD MOTHER SHE WAS MARRIED

NEW YORK, June 18.—If her parents had not decided to move to Williamsburg, N. Y., Miss Eleanor E. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin White of 179 North Washington street, might have kept the secret of her marriage to Frank A. Sweet, Jr., for a longer time. She was married to Mr. Sweet in Jersey City on April 19 last, and the young couple expected to keep the marriage quiet for a year.

When Mrs. Sweet's mother announced yesterday that she intended moving away from town she was taken completely by surprise.

"I can't go mother," "Why can't you go?" "Because I'm married."

Then she told her mother all about it. Mrs. Sweet is 17, and Sweet is a year older. He is a clerk in the Westchester County Savings bank.

BUST OF ROCKEFELLER
NEW YORK, June 18.—John D. Rockefeller, according to latest reports, is going to sit for a busting sculptor and have a bust of himself fashioned out of clay. Then if he likes it, as he has, he has had the bust made of a number of his friends, he will have it reproduced in metal.

Mr. Rockefeller has never sat for a bust. His friends have urged that he should have a life-like figure of himself cast to posterity and he has finally consented to do so.

RAILROAD BILL

Was Passed by the House Today

WASHINGTON, June 18.—By a viva voce vote the House today agreed to the conference report on the railroad bill. No amendment was offered or adopted. The bill now goes to the president for signature.

THE PRESIDENT REMAINED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A spectacular thunder storm put to rout the production of "As You Like It" in the open air at the White House grounds last night. A vast audience, including the president and his family, had gathered there to witness the performance of the Coburn players for the Playgrounds association.

While the players essayed to quiet the audience, vivid flashes of lightning, terrific thunder peals and insistent rain started what might have been a panic indoors, and the fashionable throng practically en masse deserted the grounds and ran for automobiles and carriages.

The White House party, consisting of President and Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft and Master Charles P. Taft, and several guests, remained in their boxes unharmed by the deluge. The Coburn players of the last act, and the White House party remained as long as the players were on the stage.

The afternoon was signalized by a fine production of "Twelfth Night," given on the same stage. The Tafts also attended this play with their guests. The president took a seat in the rear of the audience.

STRIKE THREATENED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The labor situation on practically all the railroads in the territory south of the Potomac and east of the Mississippi river is serious.

The demands of the men include large increases in wages and some important changes in working conditions. The employees involved are brakemen, baggage-men, firemen and conductors. It has developed that the unionmen took a strike vote over the entire southeastern territory, and some days ago notified the companies that unless the controversy was promptly adjusted a strike would be inaugurated on all the roads concerned.

VALUE OF FRATERNAL HELP

Dear Sir:

As a member of a fraternal organization, I wish to thank you for your editorial deploring the lack of real fraternal spirit among the members of the several fraternities; I mean the spirit that will cause the members to look after a brother member in distress, and as you suggest help him by sympathy and advice if in no other way. I thank you for this much needed advice and hope you will refer to it again.

Yours Respectfully,

J. W. S.

The above note is one of many such expressions received in regard to the same editorial. We may repeat that the lack of fraternal help seems to result from inadvertence and is not due to any want of brotherly love or of mutual sympathy among the members. It is an unwarranted assumption that every man is able to take care of himself and that the fact of his illness or of his getting into trouble is but a temporary diversion that he will soon overcome. That is the time to help a man, before his ailment or weakness has gone too far or before it has resulted in serious injury if not death or disgrace.

There is one kind of fraternal help which could be given easily and which would count for a great deal in some cases. It is of a negative character but valuable nevertheless. It is this: Don't put the cup to the lips of a man whom you know has a weakness for drink. On the contrary take care to help him overcome his failing when you see it dragging him down. Here is a single instance in which some members may be responsible for the downfall of a brother merely by failing to do their duty as men, as brothers and members of a common fraternity.

FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS IMPOSED UPON IN MILL CITIES

It is very evident from what we see in such factory cities as Lowell that some of the foreign nationalities who come here are imposed upon by false representations as to what they will find on their arrival here and the opportunities awaiting them.

The trans-Atlantic lines are weekly bringing many thousands of immigrants to our shores, most of them at the present time from the countries of southern Europe, Poland and the British Isles. Nearly all are directed to the factory cities of New England. It would appear that there is some underhand influence at work to cause them to select the factory cities in preference to farms or to the employment available farther west.

No doubt the letters sent from America to relatives in the countries mentioned color the conditions existing here in a manner that may inspire others to come out. The mere statement of the wages earned, without saying anything about the cost of living, is sufficient to give foreigners an idea that money can be picked up on the streets of American cities. Here lies one of the causes which give these people a very wrong impression of America and which leads to bitter disappointment after they come here.

But there are other causes, among them being the immigration agent, or rather we should say, the "emigration" agent because it is the agent of the steamship lines in Europe that spreads false ideas of the United States and misleading statements as to the amount of money that can be saved and earned. As an instance of this method of deluding the people of foreign nations and causing them to come to the United States we may mention the case of the Wood mill in Lawrence. Before that mill was completed there were large billboards erected in different parts of Italy, telling of vast opportunities for making money soon to be available at the Wood mill of Lawrence, Mass., and picturing the operatives leaving the mill with well filled pay envelopes and entering a bank to deposit their surplus funds.

Who was responsible for this species of deluding foreign peoples we are unable to say. It may have been the steamship lines; it may have been done under the direction of the American manufacturers acting through padrones in order to evade the alien contract law. The federal officials of the United States should look into these matters and see that the parties who attempt to impose upon the credulity of foreigners shall be punished or at least exposed.

It is had enough to have foreigners under the most favorable conditions leave their homes, gather sufficient money to pay their passage and secure admission to the United States without being victimized afterwards by padrones or even by a factory system that would accept of their services only at a rate of wages far below what should be paid.

We have several small strikes on in the mills here at the present time as a result of the surplus supply of foreign help in our factories. The strikers were told that this is a bad time for them to precipitate a strike as the mills will lose nothing by shutting down for a while during the summer. The strikers replied that they do not care whether the mills shut down for the entire season as they were not making enough in the mills to make it an object for them to remain. They claim that their average wage is between $5.00 and $6.00 a week, and that it is, therefore, impossible for them to live at the present high cost of living. If their statement as to the wages be correct then of course the other part of their statement must be true because no man at the present time can save a cent on $5 or $6 a week. These men would be glad to be back again in their own country. They find that they were deluded in the first place when they came here, by false representations as to the opportunities to make money. At the present time they would gladly go to work on farms and are likely to leave the city unless the mills are willing to increase their wages.

This is but one of many instances that might be cited to show the cruelty of bringing these people from their homes in southern Europe to the factory cities of New England to work for starvation wages or else go idle. If they were in the western states they might have employment at fair wages on farms, on railroad lines or in the mines. But in the textile factories of New England they will never receive wages sufficient to warrant them in establishing and maintaining comfortable homes such as working men should have.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Gov. A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota will be nominated by acclamation at the republican state convention in St. Paul on June 21, unless some entirely unforeseen circumstance intervenes. The two men most prominently mentioned to run against him have refused to allow their names to be used.

W. Armstrong Perry, for the past nine years supervisor in instruction of the Salem Young Men's Christian Assn., has resigned to accept a similar position in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Before resigning to Salem, Mr. Perry was boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse, N. Y. He fitted for his profession in Harvard college. Through his efforts the usefulness of the Y. M. C. A. in Salem has been greatly enhanced. He will assume his new duties September 1.

Miss Elizabeth Nourse, the American artist who lives in Paris, has just had one of her paintings purchased by the French government. It is called "The Closed Shutters" and has been bought for the Luxembourg Gallery. Miss Nourse began her art career in Cincinnati as a pupil of her brother-in-law, Benn Pitman, a brother of Isaac Pitman, the inventor of shorthand. She has long been an active member of the Woman's Art Club of Cincinnati.

Miss Job of the Queens town, Tasmania, is said to be the only woman who has ever sat within the bar at a Wesleyan Methodist conference. When she first took her seat one minister protested that the conference was composed only of ministers and laymen and that they had no power to admit the best lady in the land. All others, including the president of the conference, took the position that women were included as laymen and Miss Job retained her seat within the bar.

President A. C. McKenzie of Elmira college, Elmira, N. Y., announces that Elmira college has been awarded a possession of $112,000 with which to erect several new buildings and make many improvements. Of this sum $50,000 comes from the late John S. Kennedy and $30,000 from Andrew Carnegie. The latter gift was on condition that the college give a like amount. Scores of alumnæ and friends subscribed for this fund and were successful in obtaining the amount needed. Ground has been broken for a new science hall. Elmira college is the oldest college for women in the United States.

The family of Mr. Joseph A. Nesmith has gone to their summer home in Conway, N. H. for the season.

Boy Swallowed Up By Quicksand

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 18.—Far from help and with only a small companion to witness his agony, 8-year-old George Bergman, met death in a horrible form, when he was slowly swallowed up by quicksand on the banks of the Winooski river, north of this city, yesterday afternoon.

With Julius Wool, a child of his own age, he had gone to the river to swim when the accident happened.

The Wool boy ran as fast as he could for help, but the body of Bergman was not recovered for three hours later, when Joseph Rogova succeeded in digging it out.

POLICE OFFICERS

WERE ASSAULTED WHILE MAKING AN ARREST

BOSTON, June 18.—While Sergt. William L. Hebblethwaite and Patrolman William J. Moody of the Chelsea police were making an arrest shortly before 7 last night, they were set upon by a number of young men, one of whom, it is charged, struck Moody a blow on the left eye. The crowd succeeded in securing the release of the prisoner, but only for a few seconds, as he was recaptured by Sergt. Hebblethwaite.

The young men, some 10 or 12 in number, were standing outside of a saloon at the corner of Broadway and Williams street and the police say were obstructing the travel of foot passengers. They were ordered to move on and all but one obeyed. The police charge that Sylvester J. O'Brien, 28 years old, of 155 Adams street, refused to comply with the order and he was placed under arrest.

The young man, according to the police, resisted arrest, and while the two policemen were walking across the street with him he put up, they say, a struggle to gain his freedom.

One of the young men then struck Patrolman Moody. Moody's eye was badly swollen and blackened.

DRACUT

Edmund Henry Gunther, a pupil at the Parker Avenue school, was yesterday awarded the gold medal donated by the Parker Avenue school alumni association as an award to the pupil of the eighth grade of the school having attained the best rank in scholarship, deportment and attendance for the year.

The recipient of the medal is 13 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Gunther of 10 Highland street.

Miss Marion McKnight, president of the Alumni association, presented the medal.

The exercises attending the presentation were most informal. A few of the parents of the children were present. The recitations and vocal numbers were given in chorus by the children of the grammar room under the direction of their teacher, Miss Helen M. Doyd.

The graduation exercises which featured the closing of the Parker Avenue school last June will not take place this year. The school committee, John A. Hutchinson, to whom the matter was referred, decided to dispense with the preparations of a program for closing day.

TO SUE GOVERNOR

Tex Rickard Threatens an Action

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Whether the Jeffries-Johnson fight is held or not, Tex Rickard promises to demonstrate to the sporting world that he is a fighter as well as the two heavyweights. Rickard declares the fight will be held, and Reno, Nev., is now the most likely place for the contest. In the meantime Rickard wants to sue Governor Gillet, and Attorney General U. S. Webb on the grounds that they have caused him to lose a small fortune by withholding their decision on whether the fight could be held in San Francisco.

BILLERICA

A well attended concert and ball was given in the town hall in Billerica last night by the members of the graduating class of the Howe High school. It proved to be the social success of the season, excelling in brilliancy the efforts of the graduating classes of previous years.

During the early part of the evening a reception was held, the 11 graduates receiving their friends.

The grand march was started shortly after 9 o'clock and was led by Edward Ryan and Miss Ruth Wild. They were followed by Earl Costello and Miss Laura Marie Hentz, Evan Naso, and Miss Kathryn Naso, Edward Riley and Miss Alice Riley, and about 60 other couples.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra of Boston. The members of the class acted as floor officers. They were Misses Laura Marie Hentz, Ruth Louise Wild, Bertha Ellen Dimock, Alice Winifred Higgins, Florence Blanche Dutton, Kathryn Ryan, Evelyn Augusta Spaulding and Margaret Harvey. Percival Brown, Evan Albert Naso and Dwight Leverett Dimock.

AT SHEEPSHEAD

SHEEPSHEAD RAY, N. Y., June 18.—On a track fetlock deep in mud, R. T. Wilson Jr.'s game 4-year-old Olambala won, yesterday, the 21th suburban handicap, after one of the most sensational races ever run under the stewardship of the Conroy Island Jockey club. Prince Imperial, the entry of the Woodhaven stable, was second, and James R. Keene's fleet colt, Ballot, generally thought to be the best in the district, and ruling favorite at odds of 7 to 5, finished third, ridden out.

Yesterday, for the first time since the anti-betting crusade began, the law's prohibition was taken literally and under special instructions said to have been issued by W. K. Vanderbilt, principal owner in the Sheepshead race track, eighty special detectives saw to it that not even oral wagers could be laid by a professional.

THEATRE VOYONS

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

For the opening attraction at the Lakeview theatre next week Manager Flynn has selected one of the most beautiful New England plays ever written called "The Dairy Farm" from the pen of Eleanor Merren. This play is along the same line as "The Old Homestead" and "As Ye Sow," although having nothing in common with either. It has enjoyed a run of over 260 nights in New York city and has been pronounced by the press and public to be far superior to any New England play ever seen.

Mr. Flynn has used excellent judgment in securing his people. Mr. James Thatcher, who is to play leads, is the original Quincy Adams Sawyer, and Miss Florine Farr, who will play opposite to Mr. Thatcher, is late star of the "Miss Petticoats" company. The cast of the company are all metropolitan artists, fully capable of presenting all the royal plays of the highest grade. Mr. Flynn is to offer during the season. The theatre has been entirely renovated and tickets for the opening performances are on sale at Carter & Sherburne's drug store.

Dennis Shea, the state fish and game warden of Ware, who captured Silas N. Phelps, the murderer of Sheriff Haskins, at Monroe Bridge, Mass., on Wednesday, is well known in this city, and has frequently visited at the home of his brother, Louis H. Shea, 4 rear of 20 Hudson street.

THE THIRD MURDER TRIED TO ESCAPE

Committed in Gorham, Maine, in Selling Failed Again in His Second Attempt

GORHAM, Me., June 18.—A third murder within sixteen years committed early today gives this small, residential town an unenviable record which is not duplicated in any town of its size in Maine. The latest tragedy involves Walter Hanson, aged 32, hostler in the livery stable of B. W. Blackford, and Mrs. Annie Stuart, aged about 33 and employed in a small hotel in Portland. Mrs. Stuart has been separated this last ten years from her husband, who is believed to be in the west, probably in Minnesota.

OUT OF PRISON

Charlestown Officials Came to Play Ball

Base Ball Thoroughly "Disseminated" Over Festive Board With Lowell "Coppers"—Stories of Last Year's Game and How It All Happened

According to the latest reports received in this office by wireless, telegraph and telephone, none of the prisoners at the state prison in Charlestown escaped yesterday afternoon, but if any of those who are under duress in that institution ever thought of leaving their bed and board and shaking the stripes (none of them has stars) they had a golden opportunity yesterday when a dozen of the most efficient officers of the bastille deserted, with permission, the granite building and made their way to Lowell.

Strange to say, even though yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, the dozen men in question rather than participate in the festivities which are peculiar to Charlestown on the 17th, made their way to this city. They were thinking of war and but for the heavy precipitation there would have been war for the custodians of the state prison came here for the purpose of doing battle with the baseball team which represents the Lowell police department.

Last year the two teams met and as was expected the Lowell team won by a score of 400 to 1 or something like that. The writer is too lazy to look up the files and find the exact score but he knows that it resembled a cricket game more than a baseball game.

The prison "bunch," however, has been practicing since the last game, playing both indoor and outdoor baseball and they came to Lowell yesterday morning with the intention of turning the Lowell bluecoats. The rain interfered, however, and it is a question as to which side is the better satisfied. One of the prison officers was heard to remark that he was glad it was raining, for he knew that his team would get a awful wallop, while on the other hand a local patrolman, whose name we will not mention, said that the local team had won one game and was glad there was rain for a year at least to either make it two games won or a tie between the two teams.

Among the party which came to Lowell were two Lowell favorites, "Billy" E. Sanborn and Augustus (Gus) E. Duncan, who formerly turned the keys at the Lowell jail, but who are now looking after longer termed criminals. Both "Billy" and "Gus" were not in town long before they were surrounded by a host of friends and they were well entertained. In the van were Walter L. Wood, W. S. Jones, Walter S. and Frank Dacey, Walter Hesse, James Horsett, Charles Austin, Joseph Mullaney, Michael Downing and Tim Conkey.

When they arrived in Lowell they were met by a crowd of police headed by Mat. McGinn and while it was the intention of the crowd to repair the grounds of the Moore Spinning

BOSTON, June 18.—Bailed in his second attempt to escape deportation, Max Selling, the Latvian stowaway, who jumped aboard the steamship Winfredian off Boston light, and who was rescued by the crew of the steamer Greenbrier, will be sent back to England today, when the Winfredian leaves for Liverpool.

Selling nearly succeeded in escaping from the custody of the immigration authorities Thursday night. By means of two roller towels and a book fastened out of a piece of a bed from the stowaway lowered himself from the detention station at Long wharf and had reached Atlantic avenue before he was captured by Customs Inspector Dowd.

The man was sitting quietly in the main hall of the detention station three minutes before he tried to escape. The warden spoke to him as he passed through the room and after he had gone to another part of the station Selling jumped from the window and lowered himself to the ground. He ran up the north side of the pier just as Immigration Inspector Weiss was coming down the south side.

The inspector heard the footsteps, and suspecting that someone was trying to escape he rushed through to the other side of the pier. Drawing his revolver he fired three shots in the air, but this only had the effect of making the fleeing man increase his speed. At the head of the wharf he ran into the arms of Inspector Dowd, who grabbed him by the collar and held him until Inspector Weiss came along. Then Selling was taken back to the detention station and placed under guard.

Selling's stowaway companion, Johan Granberg, who jumped overboard with him from the Winfredian, died from exhaustion just as he was drawn from the water by the boat's crew from the Greenbrier.

Selling is an intelligent fellow. He is an expert stenographer and is believed to have held a responsible position in his own country. His efforts to escape being sent back lead many of the officials to believe that he may be wanted for some offense.

Selling will be handcuffed and taken on board the Winfredian just before she sails this afternoon. He will be looked up and carefully guarded until the liner is well on its way across.

THE PATTEN CASE

Department of Justice Issues Statement

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Attorney General Wickersham, in commenting on the indictments returned yesterday by the New York special federal grand jury against James A. Patten, Murray H. Rothchild, F. B. Hayne, Wm. P. Brown, Eugene G. Seales, Sidney J. Harmon and Robert M. Thompson, growing out of the so-called "cotton-pool" said that the investigation which was held had satisfied the grand jury of the existence of the combination and of its questionable character.

In regard to indictments the following statement was given out last night by the department of justice:

"These indictments are the result of the investigation commenced by the department of justice some time since based on information that the persons indicted with others had, in the early part of the year, formed a combination for the purpose of cornering the entire remaining supply of raw cotton of the crop of 1909 and to hold a substantial portion of the same under agreement not to make tenders in certain markets prior to about November 1, 1910, thereby creating an artificial shortage in addition to the crop shortage in the supply available for the spinners and making it possible to require them to purchase thereafter at an arbitrary price fixed by the pool.

"At the same time agreements were said to have been entered into between representatives of a pool and a number of spinners whereby the latter agreed to join the conspiracy to the extent of purchases of several thousand bales of cotton to be removed from the market. Pursuant to this agreement the pool acquired about $500,000 bales of raw cotton for delivery in May, which with a large amount already on hand, was to be lifted out of the three principal markets of the world. This complete control of the May market with the further purchase of several hundred thousand bales remaining supply for delivery in July or

HOPEDALE, June 18.—No one in Massachusetts has a better regard for June 17 than Gov. Draper, for in addition to his patriotic appreciation for the spirit and deeds that led to Bunker Hill being the memorable day in national history it is, he has a strong personal interest in the day, for it is his birthday, and as such it is always observed in some simple way with his immediate family when practicable.

Yesterday was no exception to that home custom, and although during the day the guest of the Worcester club, yet this evening he excluded all matters of business, however pressing, that he might uninterruptedly spend the anniversary with his family.

He reached home about 6:30 last evening and only broke away from his temporary seclusion to say to a correspondent last night that he was to celebrate his anniversary with a family dinner and was going to keep off whatever seemed likely to interfere with his home pleasure "as with a shotgun."

Gov. Draper was born June 17, 1858.

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks

dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn-out.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. There's no drudgery connected with it, no coal to carry, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till its fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for coffee, teapot or saucepan, and even a rack for towels. It saves time, worry, health and temper. It does all a woman needs and more than she expects. Made with 1, 2, and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner sizes can be had with or without Cabinet.

Patrolman Ed. Hill also had a few words to say, but Patrolman Tom Molony when he started to tell about Polish weddings in Davidson street where there were no foreigners in the crowd and that the talk must be confined to baseball.

Among the others who had a few words to say were Patrolmen Cornelius O'Keefe, John Clark, Frank Carey and ex-Patrolman Cornelius Howard.

One of the peculiar incidents in connection with the trip of the officers from the state prison to this city was the fact that when they started they found that there were 13 in the party. They could not think of starting out with an unlucky number, and it was suggested that lots be drawn for one member to stay at home, and John Townsend drew the blank. He regretted very much that he could not come to Lowell, but as he is a sport and lost he decided to stay at home.

In the evening the visitors were entertained at the Central club and they took the last train for Boston, regretting very much that they did not have a chance to play ball, but thinking everyone for the good time which they had.

P. S.—It is just as well that the visitors did not play ball for if they had they would have met with another defeat.

COL. ROOSEVELT SUM OF $50,000 JUSTICE HARLAN MAY RETIRE FROM SUPREME COURT

May Come Here to Help Is Offered to Lotted Lodge Bank

Representative Ames is opposed to the suggestion of some of the radical insurgents that an attempt be made to depose Speaker Cannon before congress adjourns. Mr. Ames says the speaker has been interpreting the revised rules fairly and that legislative business should not be disturbed at this stage of the session.

Representative Ames is always optimistic when he discusses the senatorial situation. No matter what happens he can always figure it out to his own advantage. Just now he has his opponent both going and coming on the general understanding that Mr. Roosevelt will go to Massachusetts to urge Mr. Lodge's re-election.

"I understand that Mr. Lodge has urged Mr. Roosevelt to speak in support of his candidacy," said Mr. Ames yesterday. "I do not know whether Mr. Roosevelt will do so. Other friends of Mr. Roosevelt are trying to dissuade him from speaking in Senator Lodge's interest. They believe that it would make the ex-president unpopular in the west, where Aldrich, Lodge and Cannon are synonymous names."

"I do not see how an endorsement of Mr. Lodge by Mr. Roosevelt would do the former any good. The next senator will be chosen by the people of Massachusetts. They know Senator Lodge after 18 years of public service. They will judge him according to his legislative record and not on his record as a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt."

"The people have already made up their minds that they do not want Mr. Lodge. The insurgent sentiment in the east would resent Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of Senator Lodge."

"On the other hand, if Mr. Roosevelt does not endorse Mr. Lodge the people will know that he is not for him and will register their protest against Senator Lodge's retention in office."

BOSTON, June 18.—Bank Commissioner Chapin filed a petition in the supreme court yesterday asking that he be permitted to compromise certain claims which the Southbridge Savings bank may have against its present or past trustees.

The trustees have offered a guaranty fund of $50,000 contingent upon being released from all liability.

The bank commissioner declares he believes it for the best interest of all parties concerned that the bank should resume business providing a satisfactory guaranty fund is assured.

An order of notice was issued by Judge Rugg, returnable July 1.

John A. Hall, former treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, is now in state prison for misapplying bank funds.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

WEST NEWTON, June 18.—It was Massachusetts against New Hampshire in the finals today in the Massachusetts amateur golf championship with Percy Gilbert, the Bay State titleholder, playing a 36 hole match with H. W. Stucklen, the Granite state champion. Both players, however, are members of the Brae Burn Country club, on whose links the tournament is being held.

The players found the course soft from yesterday's rain but the weather was fine.

VERY FEW INJURED

BOSTON, June 18.—The benefits of the new law restricting the use of explosives and fireworks at celebrations were indicated today when summary of accidents in yesterday's observance of Bunker Hill day showed but six persons treated for injuries, compared with 102 at the same celebration last year. There were 21 arrests for violations of the city ordinances regarding the use of fireworks compared with 32 last year and 13 fire alarms to 26 in 1909.

The authorities believe that independence day will witness a similar decrease in accidents.

JUSTICE HARLAN.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—After anxious to see his son elevated to this 37 years on the supreme court bench, Justice James Marshall Harlan, son of Chief Justice Roger Taney, is preparing to retire, according to a well founded report here. For more than a year Justice Harlan has been planning to step aside. His son, James S. Harlan, is a member of the interstate commerce commission and is expected to become a judge of the new commerce court. Justice Harlan is given into the custody of the mother, and the other and Henry were locked up.

QUINCY, June 18.—On complaint of Mrs. Mary P. Pidmoudi of Woonsocket, R. I., the Quincy police last night took into custody her two daughters, Catherine, 18, and Margaret, 15, and James Henry, 21. The younger daughter was

According to the mother, the girls disappeared from home on May 25, and she heard nothing of them until Thursday, when she received an unsigned letter saying that they were locked in a room on Canal street, Quincy, and were being ill treated by Henry. As a result of the letter she came to Quincy yesterday.

VIEWS OF JOHNSON TAKEN AT TRAINING CAMP SHOW HIM IN GOOD CONDITION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Though the attitude of Governor Gillett caused a shadow of gloom for a time over the trainers' quarters at Jack Johnson, matters around the Seal Rock house have been somewhat brightened up by the appearance of Billy Delaney to take hold of the negro's camp. The veteran trainer is enthusiastic over his new charge. When asked what he thought of Jack's chances with Jeffries, Delaney said: "Why, he'll surely win. You can say for me that Johnson is now in shape for a fight. He just needs one hard week of it, and he'll lick Jeffries as sure as you are born. Johnson will be ready to fight Jeffries any place in the world on the fourth of July. He'll go to Nevada or he'll go to

New Orleans or, for that matter, Jack is ready to go up to Utah, where De Cook left off, and take on the battle with Jeffries. Johnson will fight Jeffries any style he likes. He'll fight him in private, rough and tumble, London or Queensberry rules. Until the other day I was not certain that Johnson

Substitutes Are Dangerous

Beware of Imitations, Substitutes and "just as good as"

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of their profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low grade mixtures, which they tell you are "as good as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Some go so far as to try to make you believe it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. These cheap concoctions are foisted on the people with the intent to deceive.

When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. They may imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY

has been used with remarkable results in the treatment and cure of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions.

It is sold in sealed bottles only. The Old Chemist's Head is on the label and over the cork is an engraved seal. Be certain this seal is unbroken. Sold by druggists, grocers, dealers or direct, $1.00 a large bottle.

Write The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., if you are offered substitutes when you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

FRANCIS H. ROSE

ACCEPTS CALL TO BECOME PASTOR OF IMMANUEL CHURCH

Fr. Francis H. Rose is pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church. At a recent business meeting of the church it was unanimously voted to call him and he has accepted the call. He has supplied the pulpit at the church to which he has been called for six months past. Mr. F. H. Rose was born March 30, 1884, at Norwich, Conn., where he received his first schooling. In 1904 he graduated in the classical course at Norwich Free academy, including a special work in the manual training course at the same school. In the fall of 1905 he entered Colby college, where he graduated in June of 1909 with a commencement part. He carried off the prize in senior English composition and oratory and received the degree of bachelor of arts. The past year has been spent at Newton Theological institution. While schooling at Norwich, Mr. Rose carried through a seven years' course at the Norwich art school. During the four years spent at Colby he preached at Jefferson, Maine, for the Jefferson Third Baptist and Free Baptist church and in his last year preached Sunday afternoons at the Jefferson Second Baptist church.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

EDINBURGH, June 18.—The sessions of the world missionary conference continued today before audiences limited only by the capacity of the auditorium. Much enthusiasm was manifested. GOVERNOR GILLET

Takes Drastic Measures to Stop Fight in San Francisco

Four Military Companies to be Within Quick Call of Adjutant General

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Four companies of the state militia will be within quick call of Adjutant General Langford who will be at the Louis Blot arena this afternoon ready to take drastic action if the local authorities refuse by reason of injunction or otherwise to interfere with the fight scheduled between Langford and Kaufman.

In the hands of Gov. Gillett is a proclamation of martial law which he will sign and will immediately to the adjutant general at the arena just as soon as he is advised that Blot intends to go on with the contest and that the local authorities will not carry out the governor's will. However, Chief of Police Martin has issued a definite statement that both the Langford-Kaufman and the Jeffries-Johnson fights will be prevented by the police.

The statement came from San Francisco's training quarters late last night that the negro will refuse to give out to show on June 20 any arena taken by Gov. Gillett. It was common gossip in the all-night resorts throughout the sporting section that Blot was ready to throw up the sponge.

From all appearances this morning the fighting game has received its quietus in California and a big exodus is about to begin to Nevada. Jeffries probably will break camp at San Francisco this afternoon and start for Reno or Goldfield with his manager, Johnson is ready to leave for Nevada.

FAMOUS 101 RANCH WILD WEST SHOW COMING JULY 6

More than two hundred cowboys are employed by Miller Brothers on the vast reaches of the 101 Ranch. The most wonderfully expert lariat jurglers of this buoyant bunch of "punchers" are in the ranks of the show. They display their art afoot and on horse, prone on their backs, standing on their heads, upright, with right and left hands, and some even propel the heaviest instrument with their spurred and booted feet. The exhibition, individually and aggregately, is a demonstration of practical and fancy skill. Miller Brothers contend, which has never been equalled and never will be.

The inception of the 101 Ranch Wild West will always remain unique in the annals of traveling tented exhibitions. Miller Brothers were virtually forced into the professional amusement business.

For many years the ranch had been its wonder-spot and show-place of Oklahoma. Frequently the Millers gathered their cowboys and cowgirls and horses and steers and buffaloes into a rustic arena, summoned a few score of the Indians who had their wigwag homes nearby, and gave an impromptu entertainment. These spectacular displays attracted first the attention of Oklahoma, and then their fame spread through the country. In June, 1905, the railroads deposited more than 75,000 persons, who came from cities even as remote as New York and San Francisco, at one of these gatherings. Three years ago, when the Jamestown Exposition was promoted, the directors turned to the Miller Brothers as the most famous representatives of the cattle raising business, to give an arene illustration of its features.

That the show from Oklahoma prairie was the sensational triumph of the fair is known to all who attended. So before the first snow of winter had whitened the 101 Ranch rangeland, the Millers and their men and women and live stock were back from what they called their "sweep," with no notion but that their experience as "show people" was over. But the reputation their entertainment had achieved had made too deep an impression not to force the longing eyes of famous amusement men upon the 101 Ranch. The three ranchmen resisted all overtures—and prop-

FERGUSON WON

He Secured the Decision Over Jim Barry Last Night

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Sandy Ferguson, the "angel child" from Boston won a newspaper decision over Jim Barry of Chicago last night at the Naud Junction pavilion of the Pacific A. C. It was a slow affair.

An officer of police at the ringside during the preliminary bouts watched closely to see that the scoring did not become unfriendly so as to be classed as real prize fighting. Two of the bouts were stopped as soon as a little blood was shed. This did not please the gathering and the police were hooted at intervals throughout the evening's entertainment.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING
sulated Wire Co. Plant

There was thunder and lightning and some rain (emphasis on the some). Far be it from us to think for one moment that you didn't notice it. No greater insult could be offered. When the rain that was ushered in by thunder, and by thunder? It was thunder, commenced to fall. It didn't come in drops—it just poured down and base ball devotees were sorer than a cider mill apple orchard. More in this office, however, we did not despair of the game.

The oldest and best sporting writer in New England is always with us and he said words that sounded "all-fired" encouraging to fellows who feared the game or games would be called off.

This is what he said: "There will be a ball game today." When he said that he stood right up and looked us all squarely in the face. "The wind has changed," he continued, "and what you considered a storm is but a shower. I'll give you two to one on Lowell and if they don't play you can have the money. That's how sure I am." We didn't say anything.

Bolt Struck Water Tank

Folks at the plant of the Lowell Insulated Wire Co., in Plain street had good reason to know that the atmospheric elements were a bit disturbed. The water tank on the top of the building was struck and when the storm cleared away it was found that the tank was shattered and bruised and scarred and rent. The bolt, or what ever it was that hit the tank, did no further harm if it went through the building.

THE GOVERNMENT

Towing Co.

CLEVELAND, O., June 18.—Alleging that it is a trust and conducted in restraint of trade, the government today began suit against the Great Lakes Towing Co., with headquarters in this city, to oust it from its charter. The suit which was filed in the United States circuit court for District of Columbia, was based upon the Sherman anti-trust law.

The company operates tugs, lighters and wreckers throughout the great lakes from Duluth to Buffalo. It is incorporated under the laws of New Jersey and is capitalized at $5,000,000. Nineteen individuals, officers and stockholders of the company, also are named as defendants.

A dissolution of the company is asked by the government.

STRIKE IS ENDED

VALLEY FALLS, R. I., June 18.—The strike which caused the closing of the Rhode Island Horse Shoe Co. plant here the first of this week was ended today and 500 employees will return to work on Monday. The strike was precipitated on June 8 when about fifty bonders went out, demanding increased wages. No statement was given out today except that the differences had been amicably adjusted.

BODY FOUND

HIMSELF THURSDAY

The body of Nishan Simonian, the 18-year-old Armenian, who deliberately threw himself into the Pawtucket canal from the bridge near Thorndike street, Thursday evening, was recovered about 1:45 o'clock, this afternoon, when the waters of the canal were lowered. Undertaker George Eastman, recovered it.

Simonian lived with his parents at 17 Spring street and worked as a barber for H. James, in South street. On Thursday evening he went home to his supper, ate it and then, as everybody supposed, went back to work. About 5:20 o'clock a splash was heard in the water near the Thorndike street bridge, and a young man was seen in the water. He was doing absolutely nothing to save himself and when asked were thrown to him he refused to grab them. The boy drifted rapidly with the current and when it was found was about 300 yards from the place where he was last seen alive. No motive for the suicide is known. The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Eastman, in Jackson street.

COTTAGE OPENED

The cottage at Willow Dale, hired and fitted up at the expense of the Boot corporation, for the women employees of the mill, was formally opened this afternoon. Notwithstanding the inclement weather there were quite a number of the women on hand for the opening, together with the officials of the mill and their wives.

Mrs. Gilman will have charge of the cottage for two weeks, and thereafter, in two week terms, some woman from the mill will have supervision there. The young women who work there will stay at the cottage nights during the summer months.

PROTEST AGAINST KNOX CAR

WILKESBARRE, June 18.—J. H. Perkins, president of the Wilkesbarre Automobile club, received word yesterday from Referee A. R. Partridge, who officiated at the hill climb here on Tuesday, that the Matheson Motor Car company has protested against the Knox runabout which won the $1000 Hollenback trophy. The Matheson company contends that the Knox was not strictly a stock car as specified by the conditions governing the event.

Referee Partridge refused to uphold the protest and the Matheson company has now three days in which to appeal. The award of the Hollenback trophy has been withheld until the appeal is decided by the contest board.

LADIES' DAY OBSERVED

The Ladies' day at the Vesper-Country club, Tuxedo island, which was scheduled for Friday and postponed because of wet weather, was held this afternoon. An exhibition tennis match had been scheduled to be played during the afternoon, and on the veranda bridge and straight whist tournaments were planned.

But for the heavy downpour of rain this afternoon there would have been 5000 baseball fans at Spalding park to witness the double header between Lowell and Worcester, but as it was there were 2500 in attendance when the first game started and for over a half an hour afterwards the enthusiasts were crowding into the grounds all trying to seek points of vantage to witness the game.

Many people were of the opinion that neither game would be played, but word was telephoned in from the grounds that there would be at least one game and later it was announced that the double header would be carried out if darkness did not interfere.

This announcement caused those who thought that there would be no game to hurry to the grounds.

The most enthusiastic gang of fans at the game were the two car loads of rooters who came up from Lawrence. At times they shouted for Lowell and then shifted over and cheered for the Berkett gang.

From one o'clock until the time the first game was started four men were busily engaged in removing the puddles of water from the grounds and even though the grounds were not in the best of condition when the first game was called it was much better than any person thought it could be made.

Present at the game was the Middlesex County Training School band, which rendered pleasing selections prior to the game and between the innings.

Lowell's lineup was practically the same as it was the last time the home team played, the only exception being Tyler, who was in the points. Ready, coach for Dartmouth college, made his first appearance with the Worcester aggregation and King, a former member of the Brooklyn National team, was covering the position between second and third bases for the visitors. Umpire Tom Duffy was the decision maker and he called the first game at three o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	Worcester
Fitzpatrick 2b	2b Page
Tennery 1b	1b Haas
Conney ss	ss King
Blakely of	of Anthony
Blakely of	1b Russell
Boultes 3b	3b King
Sullivan c	c McCune
Tyler p	p Keady

First Inning

The home team started out with a rush in the first inning and scored three runs, while the visitors failed to send a man across the plate.

The visitors as usual went to bat first and Page hit to Boultes and died at first. Crum died to Fluharty and Haas followed with a single. Anthony hit a grounder to Tennery and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Fitzpatrick drew a free pass and he went to second on Tennery's single. Conney bunted to Keady and the latter threw to third to get Fitz and all three were safe. Fluharty singled to centre field and Fitz traveled home. Magee fouled to McCune; Blakely drew a free pass forcing in Tennery for the second run. Boultes singled to left field. Conney scored. Fluharty tried to score but was nailed at the plate. Boultes and Blakely tried a double steal and Blakely was thrown out at the plate.

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Second Inning

There was nothing doing in the second inning. Russell fouled to Magee and King followed with a single, but McDermott flied to Fluharty and McCune hit to Boultes and was out at first.

In Lowell's half Sullivan flied to Crum. Tyler hit to Keady and died at first. Fitz singled to left field and Tennery hit to Keady and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Worcester 0.

Third Inning

There were two more goose eggs registered in the third inning. Keady opened with a single and went to third on Page's two-bagger to right field, but both players died there for Crum fanned the breeze. Haas flied to Magee and Anthony hit to Boultes and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Conney flied to Russell. Fluharty fouled to McCune and Magee flied to Crum.

Fourth Inning

Haas was the first man up in the eighth and he struck out. Anthony followed with a base on balls. Russell was retired on strikes. King hit to Sullivan and died at first.

Sullivan hit to McDermott and failed to reach first. Tyler flied to McDermott. Fitz singled to left field. Tennery hit to centre for a single sending Fitz to third. Conney sent the ball to centre field for a single scoring Fitz but Crum made a pretty throw to third and got Tennery.

Score—Lowell 7, Worcester 0.

Fifth Inning

McDermott opened the ninth by smashing the ball out to centre for a two-bagger. McCune hit to Conney and died at first. Keady flied to Blakely and McDermott scored from third. Page flied out to Fluharty.

Score—Lowell 7, Worcester 1.
Errors—Lowell 1, Worcester 2.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Was Given a Remarkable Welcome

Home Today

NEW YORK, June 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, picturesque statesman and cosmopolitan traveler, was greeted back to his native land today by such a demonstration of popular enthusiasm and personal devotion as has seldom, if ever, been accorded to a returning American traveler. Each step in this eventful homecoming from the time he disembarked from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria until he moved up Broadway amid the tumultuous demonstrations of vast throngs of people, was one continuous ovation and tribute of affection.

At 8:12 this morning Mr. Roosevelt left the station amid the roar of big guns from battleships and land forts and a pandemonium of steam whistles from water craft and from the factories along the water front.

Then, aboard the revenue cutter Androscoegin he moved at the head of an imposing marine parade up the Hudson river to Riverside drive and back again to the battery amid the continuous demonstration of water craft and the assembled multitude on shore.

The landing at the battery was the signal for another clamorous ovation. Here Mayor Gaynor, the returning official greeting and Mr. Roosevelt spoke briefly but significantly of the interest and part he will continue to take in public affairs. At 11 o'clock the start up Broadway began, through densely massed throngs extending for miles along the main thoroughfares of the city. Everywhere the returning traveler met the same whirlwind of demonstrative greetings as he moved up Wall street, further on as he moved through Park place and the business section and then through the throngs through Fifth avenue squares and through Fifth avenue.

Mr. Roosevelt stood erect in his carriage most of the time, his silk hat in his right hand, waving responsive greeting to the cheering throngs. By noon the popular welcome was practically concluded and Mr. Roosevelt joined relatives for the afternoon, returning to his home at Oyster Bay later in the day.

A canvas canopy protected Col. Roosevelt and Mayor Gaynor while speaking but everybody else sat in the blinding sun. It was very hot and the humidity made the heat more oppressive.

In the carriage following Mr. Roosevelt in the land parade were Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Capt. Butt, Mr. Leach and Judge Gary. In the third carriage were Secretary of the Navy Lodge, George B. Shelden, Henry Cabot Lodge and Commodore Smith.

Standing upright in the carriage Mr. Roosevelt bowed right and left in acknowledgment of the cheering throngs.

"This beats Europe," said Col. Roosevelt, as he stepped from the Manhattan to the larger cutter Androscoegin as it lay off quarantine. A cheer greeted the ex-president as he came aboard the Androscoegin and was welcomed by Cornelius Vanderbilt, former Judge Albert Gary of the United States Steel corporation, and scores of men prominent in the world of finance, industry and politics who composed the large reception committee.

"Well, this is just bully," continued the colonel, who with his silk hat in hand was soon engulfed in a swarm of admiring and political associates. They hastened him to the afterdeck of the Androscoegin, where the first reception of the day was held. Chairman Vanderbilt presented Mr. Roosevelt with a welcoming medal presented by the city of New York, and Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I can't tell you how deeply I appreciate this welcome."

As the colonel stepped from the gangplank to the deck of the Androscoegin he caused a laugh when he espied District Attorney Stimson of the federal court, who prosecuted the sugar trust by crying: "Hello, sugar trust."

Met Rough Riders

Mr. Roosevelt was in his element. As the crowd pressed about him, shaking one after another by the hand, exclaiming with his old friends words of greeting. To Captain Crosby of the rough riders who introduced him to the reception committee, as the various members passed, he said:

"This is just the kind of thing I expected. I am so pleased; this is all so fine and magnificent."

General George Wingate, who is a distant cousin of the sirdar of Egypt, was warmly welcomed by the returning hunter, who, seizing General Wingate by the hand, said:

"By George, the sirdar told me to be sure to give you his regards."

"Oh, Jake, I'm so mighty glad to see you. I had a delightful revel in Denmark. In fact I had a delightful time all around."

The welcoming committee set up a great shout when Dr. Edmund White, editor of the Outlook with which Col. Roosevelt is now associated, stopped forward and grasped Mr. Roosevelt by the hand. Col. Roosevelt started a laugh by saying:

"Well, by George, partner, this is the real thing, whereupon some one in the rear cried:

"Don't talk circulation," and Mr. Roosevelt quickly taking advantage of the point, cried:

"Well, maybe you think we are getting up a pink sheet sporting supplement."

Senator Grady, minority leader of the New York legislature, who was in that body when Col. Roosevelt first entered the political field as a state assemblyman, was accorded a hearty greeting, the colonel saying:

"Well, Tom, I'm glad to see you," and then turning to a group of newspapermen, he said:

"There came to see me one day in the executive chamber with a photograph of mine Grady, and asked me for an autograph on it. After I signed I said to him: 'When you go back to the senate chamber are you going to call me a janitor or a satrap?' and he quickly replied, looking me straight in the face: 'I'm going to call you Caligula.'"

It was hot under the awning of the afterdeck of the Androscoegin, but Col. Roosevelt's high spirits showed no diminution. To the former secretary of the treasury, Cortelyou, the colonel said: "Oh, George, this is just fine of you to come out here and meet me."

A young college student of the University of California stepped up to the ex-hunter who greeted him, saying: "You ought to be here to welcome me. I have given an elephant to your university and all I can say is it is not white."

Congressman Bennett of Brooklyn as he stepped up to grasp the hand of Col. Roosevelt was drawn close while the hunter said:

"I've got something to say to you but I can't say it before these newspapermen."

"Well, well, I declare, here's Jimmy Oliver," said Colonel Roosevelt as the veteran New York city assemblyman who has known Colonel Roosevelt these many years stepped forward.

"We have been in the assembly together and we have never allowed the constitution to interfere between friends."

And so it went, one after another at Col. Roosevelt's friends coming in for some hearty and appropriate greeting. Concluding this informal reception, Col. Roosevelt with Cornelius Vanderbilt, Captain Crosby and U. S. Senator Lodge stepped forward to the captain's bridge, where Col. Roosevelt viewed the water parade and greeted the crowds that thronged the passing the latter making a pretty running catch.

Fourth Inning

There was nothing doing in the fourth inning. Russell drew a base on balls and went to second on a bad throw by Sullivan. King struck out. McDermott hit to Boultes and was out at first. McCune drew a base on balls but Keady flied to Tennery.

In the latter half of the inning Blakely flied to Russell. Boultes struck out and Sullivan flied to Crum.

Fifth Inning

In the fifth inning Page got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Crum singled to right field and both men were advanced by Haas's sacrifice. Anthony flied to Conney and Russell hit in front of the plate and was thrown out at first.

There was a batting carnival in the latter half of the inning, nine men going to bat and three runs being scored by Lowell. Tyler hit to King who threw had to first. Fitz got a free pass. Tennery sacrificed advancing both men. Conney scored both men with a single. Fluharty flied to Crum and was the second man out. Magee whanged, went out a two-bagger and Conney went to third. Blakely drew a base on balls filling the bases. Boultes drew a base on balls forcing in Conney. Sullivan was the ninth man up and the third out, sending a fly to Russell.

Score—Lowell 6, Worcester 0.

Sixth Inning

In the sixth there was nothing doing. King opened with a single and stole second. Tyler later caught him napping off second. McDermott flied to Tennery and McCune flied to Blakely.

In the latter half of the inning Tyler fouled to McCune. Fitz hit to Page and died at first while Tennery flied to Crum.

Seventh Inning

In the seventh inning Keady struck out, Page hit to Tyler and died at first while Crum hit to Boultes and flied to Crum.

In the latter half of the inning Conney singled, Fluharty following with a fly to Crum. Magee got hit by a pitched ball and walked. Blakely hit to Keady forcing Conney. Boultes was third out, hitting to Keady and being retired at first.

Score—Lowell 6, Worcester 0.

Eighth Inning

Haas was the first man up in the eighth and he struck out. Anthony followed with a base on balls. Russell was retired on strikes. King hit to Sullivan and died at first.

Sullivan hit to McDermott and failed to reach first. Tyler flied to McDermott. Fitz singled to left field. Tennery hit to centre for a single sending Fitz to third. Conney sent the ball to centre field for a single scoring Fitz but Crum made a pretty throw to third and got Tennery.

Score—Lowell 7, Worcester 0.

Ninth Inning

McDermott opened the ninth by smashing the ball out to centre for a two-bagger. McCune hit to Conney and died at first. Keady flied to Blakely and McDermott scored from third. Page flied out to Fluharty.

Score—Lowell 7, Worcester 1.
Errors—Lowell 1, Worcester 2.

Round-Up Made During Celebration at Charlestown

BOSTON, June 18.—One hundred and thirty-one persons were arrested in Charlestown last night, the largest number that was ever taken into custody in that district on Bunker Hill day. The number included several women. Most of the arrests were on charges of drunkenness, but scattered through the number were several for violation of the city ordinances in regard to the use of fireworks and firearms and for other causes.

Early in the evening the crowds began to flock to Charlestown, and as the hours passed they became more and more numerous, surpassing the crowd of the night before both in numbers and noise. The Charlestown police, the details from the town stations which did duty the "Night Before" having been recalled.

About 11 o'clock the police decided it was time the crowds began to disperse and three squads of officers were formed. One, headed by Lieut. Gard, descended upon the midway which had been established at Sullivan square, and after ordering the places to cease business, started the crowds moving. Another squad headed by Sergeant Kilham went through Main street from City square to Sullivan square, and the third, under Sergeant Webster, took in City square, Chelsea street and part of Bunker Hill street. On all hands men and women unable to take care of themselves because of over-indulgence in liquor were found and were hurried away to the police station. A few favored ones got a ride in the patrol wagon, but the majority were walked to the station by the officers.

When the final count was made it was found that the station, which contains but seven cells, which, under ordinary circumstances, would accommodate but thirty-four prisoners, contained 131. The probation officer was sent for, and at 1 o'clock this morning he began releasing the first offenders who were in connection to go home, and nearly half of those who were arrested had departed before daylight. Several others were able to secure bail and so were also allowed to go.

HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE

BOSTON, June 18.—F. J. Wood, the South End grocer, who was arrested on a charge of perjury Thursday afternoon in connection with the trial of William J. Kellier, was admitted to $2000 bail today. Kellier remained in jail as his friends were unable to raise $50,000 for his bond.

REP. MELLE BURIED

WORCESTER, June 18.—One of the largest congregations ever seen in St. John's Roman Catholic church assembled today to pay a final tribute of respect to the memory of Representative James H. Mellen. Those present included a delegation from the house of representatives headed by Speaker Walker. The service consisted of a solemn high mass of requiem celebrated by Mr. Thomas Griffin. Interment was in St. John's cemetery.

BALLINGER-PINCHOT CASE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The chances of a "verdict" from the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee at the present session of congress are remote. The committee held a meeting behind closed doors but it was announced at its conclusion that no action had been taken and that an adjournment had been taken until next Saturday when the case would be discussed further.

ALLEGED BURGLAR STATE ASSOCIATION WAS CAPTURED AFTER A HOT SPRINT

BOSTON, June 18.—A young man, alleged to be a storebreaker, broke away from Patrolman Dale of division 5, who used to be a crack amateur sprinter, near the police station at East Dedham street about daylight yesterday morning.

Dale had to chase the fugitive nearly one mile, the capture being made in Castle square, where the alleged burglar surrendered after Dale fired several shots into the air.

He described himself to the police as James Doyle, 22 years old, of 1223 Washington street. With Daniel J. Driscoll, 34 years old, of 1072 Benning street, East Boston, and Artemus Collins, 22 years old, of 255 Dover street, he was arrested by Patrolman Jackson and Dale, following a break in Eugene Grant's liquor store at 673 Harrison ave.

The patrolmen were taking the prisoners to the station when Doyle stole away. Jackson, Dale to Driscoll and Collins while Doyle chased Doyle.

The trio, it is charged, stole eight quarts of whiskey from Grant's store. After being measured and pictured at police headquarters they were each held in $1200 for the grand jury, as they waived examination when arraigned in the municipal court.

Bernard S. Page, David Banks and Eugene Brown, colored porters employed on sleeping trains by the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R., who were arrested by Inspectors Shields and Patton Thursday afternoon for stealing tickets from the corporation, had their cases continued until June 22 when arraigned in the municipal court.

BULLET IN HEART

NEW YORK BOY MAY HAVE COMMITTED SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Paul Hamburger, a youth employed as secretary by Dr. Samir Ellis, known as a Hindu psychic, was found in a room of his employer's house yesterday with a revolver bullet through his heart and left in his desk. He believes Hamburger shot himself accidentally while examining the weapon.

The police started an investigation of the fatality.

Dr. Ellis was locked up last night without bail pending an inquiry into Hamburger's death. Examination showed no powder marks on Hamburger's body, discrediting the theory of suicide to some extent.

OF ELKS WAS FORMED IN BOSTON LAST NIGHT

BOSTON, June 18.—A state association of Elks was formed last night at the Boston lodge home when seven by-five delegates, representing more than thirty lodges, met and elected temporary officers and appointed committees to perfect an organization similar to those already existing in other states.

Many past and present exalted rulers and past district deputies were present. The purpose is to make a federation of the state lodges, membership in which shall be open to any member of the individual lodges, and which shall, by its numerical strength, be in a position to further the purposes of the order and advance the interests of the state.

The lodge is to make a federation of the state lodges, membership in which shall be open to any member of the individual lodges, and which shall, by its numerical strength, be in a position to further the purposes of the order and advance the interests of the state.

James R. Nicholson of Springfield, past district deputy, was elected temporary chairman with power to appoint an executive committee of fifteen to present ways and means for perfecting the organization. Other officers elected were J. Clifford Entwistle of Salem, secretary, and James L. Johnson of Boston, secretary.

Notice will be sent to every lodge in the state inviting their co-operation in the movement.

CURB BROKERS

RUN FOR COVER AS THE POLICE APPEAR

NEW YORK, June 18.—There was real excitement in the Curb market yesterday when toward the close of the day a patrol wagon laden with police came down the street and the patrolmen flung out and started into the crowd. About one-third of the crowd scattered. There was in mind the recent raid on the United Wireless office and fear that something else was on.

As many of the transactions permitted in that market are open to suspicion, the run to cover was very amusing to the brokers who handle real goods on the Curb. It was a very sheepish crowd of Curb brokers who were laughed at when they came back to watch the police tear down the ropes and stakes, preparing for the crowd when Colonel Roosevelt passes up Broadway today.

They wish to have the street clear in case of accident and to have room for the crowds that will seek other streets than Broadway in going down to Battery park.

ANNUAL REUNION

Of Old Co. G Associates at American House

The members of the Old Company G Associates—18 in number—met at the New American House in Central street yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the 30th annual reunion. Dinner was served at 1:30 o'clock after which a business meeting was held.

Since the last reunion, April 19th, 1909 five members of the association have passed away, they being:

William B. Tingley, Providence, R. I., September 22, 1909; Randolph C. Lord, Lowell, December 30, 1909; Charles H. Richardson, Lowell, January 28, 1910; George W. Hall, Haverhill, February 8, 1910; and Frederick J. Small, Lowell, February 16, 1910.

The members of the organization present were: Capt. George L. Gady, Lowell; Franklin S. Peery, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; Charles B. Kitchen, Lowell; Wendell Knowles, Lowell; Andrew Laddell, Lowell; William H. Spaulding, Lowell; Alonzo C. Grant, Exeter, N. H.; John M. Averill, Boston; George Healy, Newark, N. J.; George W. Huntton, Somerville; S. Augustus Lefebvre, Wakefield, Mass.; William A. Morris, York, Pa.; Albert S. Stacey, West Lebanon, Me.; Samuel E. Stearns, Three Rivers, Mass.; and Alfred A. Sawyer, Melrose Highlands.

Major Charles A. Stott, who was a lieutenant in the Sixth regiment during the war, and who is an honorary member of the Associates, was also present.

The Old Company G Associates were mustered into the service August 31, 1862 and were mustered out, June 4, 1863. They were in the Seventh Army Corps, First Division, Foster's Brigade.

The members spent the greater part of their time in Virginia and North Carolina where they participated in the battles of the Deserter House, the siege of Suffolk, Carville and Hebron Church.

At the present time there are 35 members of the organization living. The death list numbers 23, and its members unaccounted for, but who in all probability are dead.

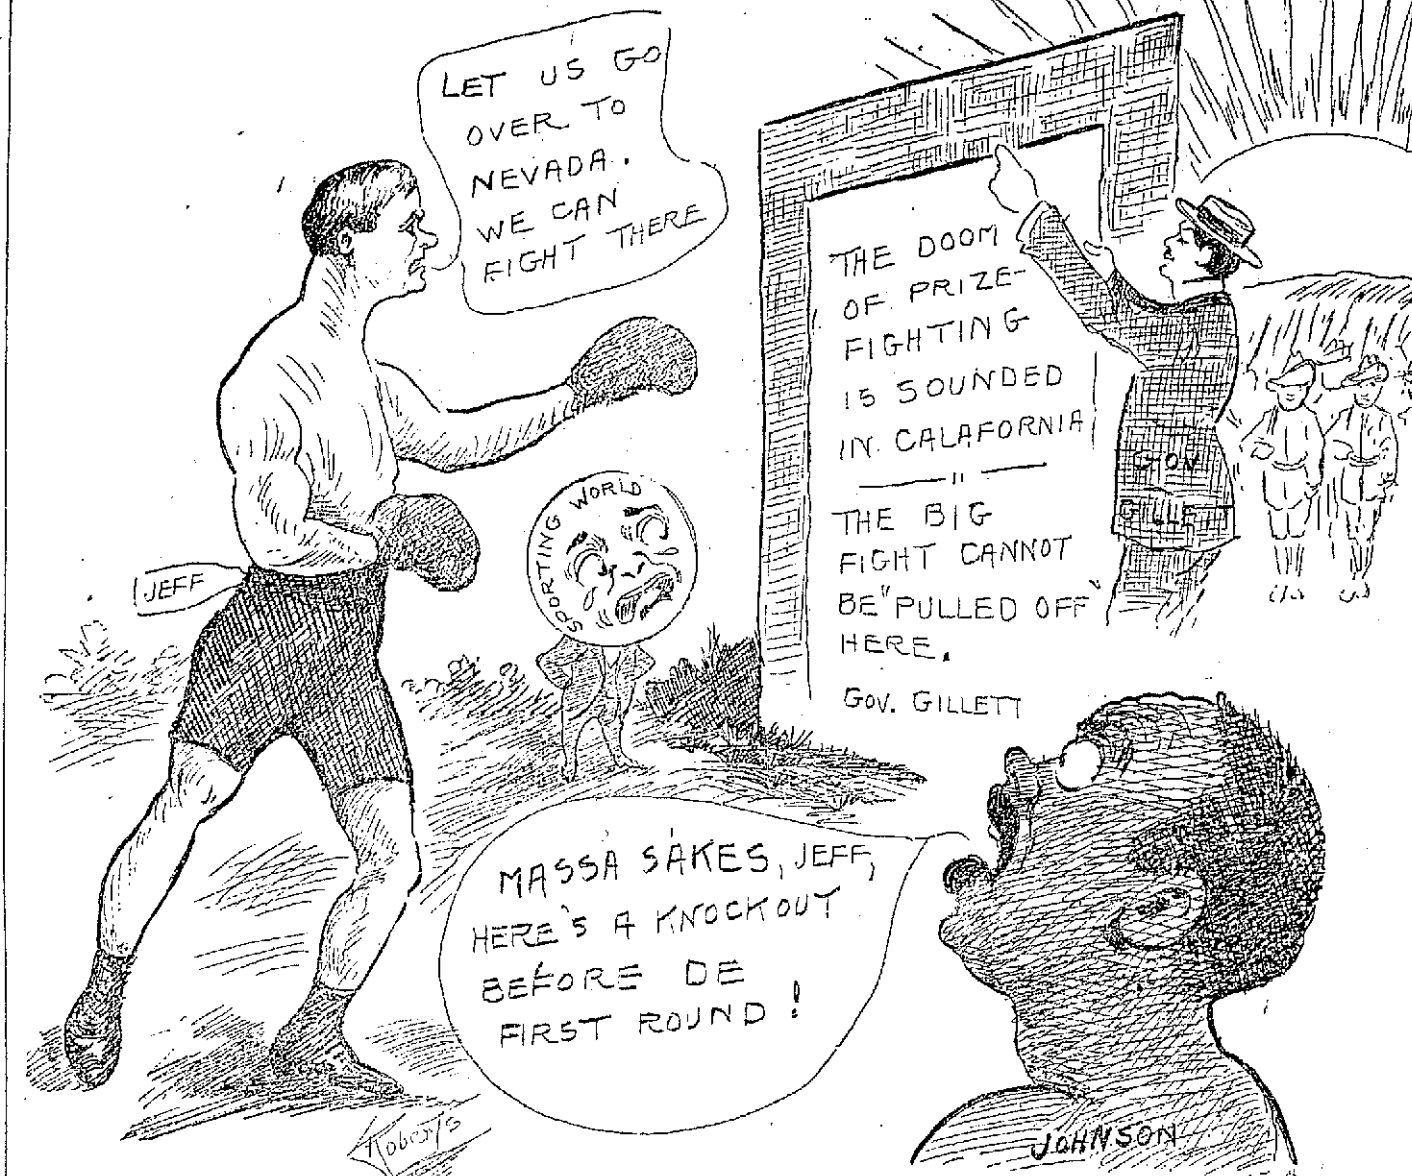

After the dinner the business session was held. The first matter up was the annual election of officers, the following being chosen: President, Franklin S. Peery, Lowell; vice president, James Christie, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; treasurer, Andrew Laddell, Lowell; executive committee, Charles B. Kitchen, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; and Henry C. Hutchinson of Lowell.

Letters were read from Frank Hendrick, Birmingham, Michigan; Geo. F. Tardiff, East Pepperell; W. R. Atkins, Durand, Wisconsin; H. T. Bannard, Melrose Falls, Vt.; Charles H. Russell, Hudson, N. H.; G. H. Colburn, Boston; E. K. McAlpin, Boston; J. H. Farnsworth, Andover, Cal.; J. H. Stark, Chelsea; Charles Spencer, Newport News, Va.; and John Spencer, Meriden, Conn. The letter of Mr. Farnsworth created a poem of three stanzas, which created considerable merriment among the veterans.

It was voted to read a letter of greeting to the 13th Indiana Veterans association, and votes of thanks were given the secretary and treasurer of the Company G Associates. After the business meeting there was much reminiscing, in which all the veterans participated. As a guest during the afternoon was present Col. Melvin Beach of Lawrence.

NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT

GOV. GILLET DEFENDS THE HONOR OF HIS STATE

Body of Man Found in Trunk

NEW YORK, June 18.—A new murder mystery developed today with the finding of the body of an unidentified man packed in a trunk in the hallway of a house on Goerck street. The police took the trunk and body in charge and a detail of detectives immediately began an investigation.

An hour after the discovery the body was identified as that of Moses Sachs, a jewelry salesman. It was only a short time before the body was found that his two sons, Isador and Moses, Jr., had gone to police headquarters to report that their father had left home yesterday afternoon with $2000 worth of jewelry in his possession and had not returned.

The police found that the rope bound trunk containing the body had been left at 51 Goerck street this morning by an expressman. The janitor, not knowing to whom it belonged, asked the police to remove it. The trunk was taken to the nearest police station, where the body, bent double with the head against the knees, was discovered in the trunk.

Sachs was formerly proprietor of a Houston street jewelry store. Up to noon the police had found no clue to the circumstances under which he had been murdered.

ONLY FIVE DRUNKS

Police Court Session Was a Brief One

The police court session today was a short one, taking only about 15 minutes the day of the week.

Of the five drunks, two were released by the probation officer before the session.

Alfred Durand and John Donnelly, two drunks, will journey to the state farm this afternoon, and James Murray, a vagrant, will accompany them. Patrick Harrington, for drunkenness, received a sentence of three months in jail.

Matthew Ryan, charged with being a stubborn child, was placed on probation.

ANNUAL OUTING

OF JUNIOR HOLY NAME SOCIETY OF ST. PATRICK'S

On Thursday next the members of the Junior branch of the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's church will hold their annual picnic at the picnic grounds of Cambridge Park. Plans for the affair are completed and the picnic gives every assurance of being the best and most successful the society has ever conducted. Brother Florence, the spiritual director of the society, with the co-operation of the other brothers of the school, has arranged a list of sports which will suit the most fastidious of the members. Suitable prizes will be given to the winners of the various events.

The society will receive its monthly communion tomorrow morning at the 8:30 o'clock mass. A special meeting of the society will be held immediately after the mass in the school hall on Suffolk street, when the minor details of the picnic will be acted upon. The leaving time of the specials on Thursday morning will be made known and the committee in charge is very anxious to have every member present.

The lecture committee which arranged and made a success of the series of lectures held by the society during the past winter, made its final report to the society at the last meeting. The series held during the winter months was the first that the society has ever held, but from the successful way in which the lectures were carried out there is no doubt but that they will become annual events.

TO GET DIVORCE

DECREE TO BE GRANTED TO MR. TAYLOR

NEW YORK, June 18.—Charles W. Andrews, of Syracuse, who has been sitting as referee in the divorce proceedings brought by Ellen Flower, a daughter of Governor Flower, against her husband, John Byron Taylor, has decided in favor of Mrs. Taylor. He sent word of his decision yesterday to Wallace Macfarlane and Robert Grier Monroe, who have been representing Mrs. Taylor. No attorney is allowed to represent a wife in such a case, and Mrs. Taylor was asked for her petition for an absolute divorce. The custody of the three children is given to her, however.

Mrs. Taylor is said to have named several women in her petition, but their identities have not been divulged. A number of private detectives in the employ of Mrs. Taylor furnished the evidence. While the hearings were in progress Mrs. Taylor and her mother lived in the Hotel Plaza, in this city. Taylor did not oppose the proceedings, but is said to have made a fight to retain possession of his children.

Mrs. Taylor, who was married to Taylor which was painless, inherited most of her father's fortune. Governor Flower opposed the marriage, even taking his daughter to Europe. On her return from this trip, however, she married Taylor. The latter comes from Three-Mile Bay, a small village near the mouth of the Hudson river, and his brother, Edward, sons of the village shoemaker, were both fine-looking men, and in spite of their luscious family connections, were popular socially. Since the marriage Taylor has become a member of the stock exchange, and is said to have amassed a fortune.

Mrs. Taylor is at present living in Waterbury. Taylor is also making his home there.

MILLS SHUT DOWN

FALL RIVER, June 18.—The Algonquin Printing Co. works were closed today and will remain idle for an indefinite time. The American Printing Co.'s plant will be the next week due to the failure of the cotton cloth market. The Bourne cotton mills in Tiverton will be closed from July 2 to July 21.

SUFFRAGIST IS SNUBBED

NEW YORK, June 18.—The charge of a snub brought against Mrs. Sarah Alice Cunningham-Murdoch, formerly a member of the United Woman's Suffrage association, was thrown out of court on the motion of Assistant District Attorney Strong yesterday.

The complainant was Mrs. Keene, of No. 16 West Hundred and Seventh street, author of the association, who declared that Mrs. Murdoch assaulted her during a meeting of the association on June 6.

GIRL WAS RUN OVER WORK ON STREET

But She Was Not Injured by Subway Cars

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Edith Hardcastle, living at the Hotel Regent, yesterday had one of the narrowest escapes from death that has been recorded in many years. The accident occurred in the subway at 72nd street. Two cars passed over her. When horrified passengers and trainmen went to assist in the work of removing what everyone felt certain would be a mutilated form, the young woman helped in the work of rescue. As the rescuers tried to drag her out, she crawled part of the way. She was suffering from shock and from the effects of her fall from the platform. Her escape was due to her shyness and the fact that her dress did not catch in any of the network of material beneath the cars.

Miss Hardcastle's friends last evening said she was the luckiest girl in some respects in New York. Recently she had an escape from which they all escaped. She was reported to have married, and it is said the date for the marriage was set. Then it was learned that the fiancée then was married.

Her accident yesterday brought another lucky escape. She was at the 72nd street station when a southbound train arrived. She was seen near the tracks. Edwin Emerson, a tough kid, here to welcome Roosevelt, sprang to her aid, but too late. She tumbled and fell upon the tracks. The train was rolling into the station. Motorman H. E. Bloeker saw her fall. He put on the brakes and reversed the power, but the train rolled over her, and the motorman shut his eyes as the hundred persons on the platform screamed.

Miss Hardcastle was dazed when reached, and a policeman insisted upon taking her to the West 69th street station. There she said she had no recollection of anything except a dizziness.

The girl's father, head of the firm of Hardcastle & Fitt, commission merchant at 29 Green street, was informed of his daughter's arrest and went at once to the police station. She was released and taken to the hotel.

At the hotel there was talk of the romance in the life of the young woman, and her former lucky escape. Mr. Hardcastle denied the story of a romance.

"My daughter fell under the train by accident, and it was foolish of the police to make a charge as they did," he said.

In west side court, where the girl was arraigned, Mr. Hardcastle repeated his denial. "My daughter has been ill lately," he said, "and I had planned to take her to the country tomorrow. I intend to take her to Canada and Europe, so she can recover her health."

Miss Hardcastle, who is a pretty, light-haired girl, accompanied her father and corroborated his statement to the magistrate, she was released then.

A newspaper received a letter late last night from Mr. Emerson, stating that while he tried to save Miss Hardcastle she fell accidentally under the train. He said the report given out by the police, that she struggled to prevent the girl from jumping was erroneous.

BODY RECOVERED

Man Was Missing From Home

NEWPORT, R. I., June 18.—The body of Moses Butler, a farmer's helper, who had been missing from his home in Middlesex since Monday, was found floating in the water near the shore of the beach at Middlesex today. Butler was 36 years of age. It was impossible to determine whether Butler committed suicide or was drowned while in bathing.

FORMER PREMIER ACQUITTED

COPENHAGEN, June 18.—The high state court yesterday acquitted former premier J. C. Christensen of complicity with former Minister of Justice Albert in extensive frauds. Former Minister of the Interior Berg was found guilty and fined $250.

Albert, who previously resigned as minister of justice in September, 1908, surrendered to the police and confessed a long career of crime. Estimates of his delinquency went as high as $5,000,000 and as a result of his dishonesty a large number of persons were reduced to penury.

HANGED HIMSELF

STOCKBRIDGE MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

STOCKBRIDGE, June 18.—Harry Babcock, a plumber, aged 48, committed suicide by hanging, sometime last night, at the Stockbridge railroad station.

He fastened a rope to one of the platform joists and jumped off a truck.

His father-in-law, William Whitbeck, committed suicide in Stockbridge two weeks ago by drinking carbolic acid, and the act preyed on the mind of Babcock.

Three days after the Whitbeck suicide, Babcock remarked, "Well, I'll be the next to go." He could not sleep, he said.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—With 55 of the best professional players in the United States contending for the ten prizes excellent golf was expected in the final day's play for the national even championship on the course of the Philadelphia Cricket club at Willsborough. Alexander Smith of Wyke, a country club of New Rochelle, N. Y., led the field at the start of the morning round of 18 holes with 148 strokes for the 36 strokes played yesterday.

The course was heavy from rain which fell during the night.

Was Delayed by the Rain Today

Had the weather clerk been a little bit more considerate the street department would have finished with the paving job in Prescott street today, but because of so much unfavorable weather the job will run into Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

The work of paving Middlesex street with granite block paving from Howard street to Nichols street was begun this forenoon. Supt. Putnam did intend to start the work at the railroad crossing but finally decided to start in at Howard street in order to leave space enough for teams beyond the crossing.

Plain Street Closed

Plain street is closed to travel and will not be opened again until the grade crossing has been completed there. The contractors are, on the job and they say that they are under obligations to rush the work. Tomorrow will be a busy day for the contractors. They do not believe in working Friday but there are traders that have to be moved temporarily and Sunday is the best day to move them because of the few trains on that day. There will be considerable house moving as a result of the grade crossing work. Geo. P. Tilton has moved one house from the corner of Lincoln and Quebec streets to the corner of Main and Lincoln streets and he has another house that is all set up and ready to be moved.

BANKER'S SON

KILLED BY FALL FROM HOME MADE FLYER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Eugene Speyer, the 17 year old son of the late Walter Speyer, a banker, was killed yesterday by falling 50 feet from a homemade glider, which was being given its first test at the Chestnut street entrance to the Presidio reservation.

Young Speyer, who had been experimenting with aerial craft for some time past, yesterday morning, accompanied by his brother John and two friends, Carlton and William Gray, started to give the craft a test flight. William Gray acted as chauffeur in the automobile.

Speyer got in the seat of the motor and Gray fastened the lines generally used to get the machine in the air to the rear of the automobile. Gray then started at a good rate of speed, and the motorless airplane, instead of going into the air a distance of 15 or 20 feet, as was expected, seemed to catch a favorable breeze and went up fully 50 feet before Gray, who was running the auto, saw to what height his companion had gone.

As soon as Gray realized the dangerous position of the glider he stopped his machine. The blades of the glider caught the gusts of wind and it almost turned turtle in midair. Speyer lost his seat and fell into the canvas blades, which were not strong enough to sustain his weight, and, tearing through, he fell to the pavement below.

Soldiers Monument

DOVER, June 18.—In honor of her soldiers who died while fighting for the freedom of their country from the time of King Philip's war to the present day, the town of Dover today dedicated a soldiers' monument. Governor Eben Draper delivering the dedication. A large assemblage gathered in the village square and witnessed the unveiling of the monument by Mrs. Martin Colburn and Miss Esther Bond.

LATEST VACATION NOTICE

Has Been Posted in the Mass- achusetts Mills

A vacation notice has been posted in the Massachusetts mills. The notice states that the mills will close from August 20 to September 6, inclusive. It was stated today that other mills are soon to announce a protracted vacation, some for four weeks and some for six weeks. Mill agents, however, do not admit that the report is true.

That the spinners' strike has embarrassed the mills there is no doubt. The spinner feeds the weaver and there have been a good many idle weavers about town for the last few days. The mill people claim that the strike does not amount to anything but when one of them said "We like to close our mills of our own accord and when we get ready," the inference was plain. What he meant to say was that the mill people did not want the strikers to close the mills.

The strikers believe that they have the right on their side. They have struck, and their demand is a ten per cent. increase. They claim that they cannot feed, house and clothe themselves on the wages that they have been receiving. The mill people claim that because of the prohibitive price of cotton and general business depression they cannot afford to grant the demand for a ten per cent. increase.

The condition is a very serious one from any view point. Everybody knows that the cotton business is not in a flourishing condition and the chances are only too good for idle weeks in New England mills. This condition of affairs, however, is not a panacea for the heart aches of the young men who toil at the spinning frame from morn till night for less than $7 a week.

There was a young man, a striker, arrested today. He was arrested for assault with a dangerous weapon. He was committed to the house of correction for 30 days. There was no violence and no trouble at the mill gates today. The strikers held a meeting a few days ago and agreed that there should be no violence or disturbance and it looks as if they intended to live up to their agreement.

"Cotton" for June has the following relative to the cotton mill situation in New England:

As frequently stated in these columns, during the past eight months, cotton mills on medium and coarse counts in New England are experiencing a "prudent" and "pauper" year. The mills that correctly read crop indications and bought sufficient spot and future cotton to carry them over this crop year, are making a veritable mill of money, while the mills that are buying as required are losing money; and their losses will be in proportion to the number of months since last October that they have been buying spot raw material.

As illustration of the development of this situation one might cite the case of Androscooggin mills stock during the middle of May at $241 per share as compared with a previous sale several weeks before of $205. This mill was fortunate in its purchases of cotton. It has had a good market for its fabrics and will show large earnings with probably an extra dividend in August. On the other hand the American Linn Co., of Fall River, one of the finest plants in that city, was not so fortunate in buying cotton, and early in May its stock fell to $100 from $130 per share, because there was a feeling that a deficit will be shown in the annual statement.

One of the largest mills in Massachusetts, west of the mill centers, could have shown a profit of 32 per cent. on its capital stock by reselling its cotton last month, that was purchased the last of August, 1909. This mill runs a long staple and was fortunate in getting a large quantity of its grade from the Mississippi Delta district. A smaller mill in Connecticut is just emerging from a very critical financial condition occasioned by unprofitable manufacturing. This mill had enough cotton to carry it until the first of the year, but since that time every bale of cotton manufactured into fabric has shown a loss, and had it not been for financial assistance from friends the mill would now be closed "by order of the sheriff."

The worst is surely over. Converters are gradually making up their minds that higher prices for fabrics must be paid, and the market shows the influence of this sentiment. Jobbers are more hopeful because they know positively that the manufacturer will not accept orders at a great sacrifice, and therefore the indications are for a firm undertone. Now and then one will meet a confirmed pessimist who believes that there is no proverbial silver lining; but when one meets several hundred of the leading manufacturers at a meeting assembled and you find courage and confidence in the very atmosphere, as was the condition at the Boston meeting, one can not remain a pessimist.

RAILROAD BILL

Was Passed by the House Today

WASHINGTON, June 18.—By a viva voce vote the house today agreed to the conference report on the railroad bill. No amendment was offered or adopted. The bill now goes to the president for signature.

THE PRESIDENT REMAINED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A spectacular thunder storm put to rout the prodding of "the You Like It" in the open air on the White House grounds last night. A vast audience, including the president and his family, had gathered there to witness the performance of the Coburn players for the Playgrounds association.

While the players essayed to quiet the audience, vivid flashes of lightning, terrific thunder peals and insistent rain started what might have been a panic indoors, and the fashionable audience practically en masse deserted the grounds and ran for automobiles and carriages.

The White House party, consisting of President and Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft and Master Charles P. Taft, and several guests, remained in their boxes undisturbed by the artillery of the skies. The storm arose in the beginning of the last act, and the White House party remained as long as the players were on the stage.

The afternoon was signalized by a fine production of "Twelfth Night," given on the same sylvan stage. The Tafts also attended this play with their guests. The president took a seat in the rear of the audience.

STRIKE THREATENED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The labor situation on practically all the railroads in the territory south of the Potomac east of the Mississippi river is serious.

The demands of the men include large increases in wages and some important changes in working conditions. The employees involved are brakemen, baggage men, flagmen and conductors. It has developed that the trainmen took a strike vote over the entire southern territory and some days ago notified the companies that unless the controversy was promptly adjusted a strike would be inaugurated on all the roads concerned.

Continued

FIRST GREETING

NEW YORK, June 18.—Former President Theodore Roosevelt returned today to New York from a trip through Africa and Europe, which began immediately upon his leaving the White House and which lasted for 15 months.

The steamer Kaiserin Augusta Victoria on which he sailed from England June 10 entered New York harbor at 7 o'clock this morning and was greeted by the battleship South Carolina with a national salute of 21 guns. At half past eight Mr. Roosevelt was transferred from the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to the revenue tug Manhattan, where he was welcomed by a number of personal friends and relatives and Captain Archibald Butt, representing President Taft.

Shortly after this he was transferred from the Manhattan to the revenue cutter Androscooggin on which he led the water parade that took him up as far as 58th street, North river, and down to the Battery, where he was officially welcomed by Mayor Gaynor of New York at 11 o'clock.

Bedecked with signal flags and with the guns from Fort Wadsworth and Fort Hamilton booming a welcome, the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria glided into quarantine at 1:38 this morning.

Immediately behind the big liner came six ships of the navy, the battleship South Carolina in the van, while at anchor in the roadstead awaiting her coming was the United States despatch boat Dolphin with the secretary of the navy on board. The battleship already had saluted the returning former president at Sandy Hook with 21 guns, but on coming to anchor alongside the liner the South Carolina hoisted long strings of pennants and the river craft joined in the demonstration with prolonged blasts from their whistles.

Planked by Mrs. Roosevelt, his daughter, Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, and his son Kermit, Theodore Roosevelt stood on the flying bridge of the liner high above the all decks of the ship and with his characteristic smile overspreading his countenance and a shiny silk hat in his hand he waved his acknowledgments to the pandemonium on all sides of him.

Mr. Roosevelt lost no time on board the Augusta Victoria. The usual customs and health inspections formalities accomplished, he at once transferred to the revenue tug Manhattan, where with the immediate members of his family and a few intimate friends he sat down to a hasty breakfast.

There was more firing of big guns as Mr. Roosevelt left the Manhattan for the Androscooggin. Then comparative quiet fell while in the upper bay patrol boats darted back and forth among a hundred and one craft of every description, marshaling them in line for the parade.

The United States steamship Dolphin, leading the parade, and closely followed by the Androscooggin, got away at 12 minutes past 9.

months ago. Health Officer Dwyer was the first of those from shore to pay his respects to Mr. Roosevelt.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, and Captain Butt boarded the Kaiserin from the Manhattan and were received by Mr. Roosevelt in his state room.

An interesting incident occurred during the early reception in the harbor. Androscooggin's crew, and the other ships, were waiting for the Kaiserin to arrive. The Kaiserin's crew, and the other ships, were waiting for the Kaiserin to arrive.

BERLIN, June 18.—So many official statements and warnings to the residents of Germany not to be alarmed over Emperor William's condition have been sent out that the public has at last become aroused. It has been known for a long time that the emperor was not in good health. He has long brooded over his crippled left arm, and when an abscess on his right hand compelled the calling of physicians he became worried. The report that he broke a blood vessel on his right knee, followed by the report that he was only suffering from soreness from too much horseback riding, failed to impress the country. That the emperor would become a saddle sore, the newspapers declare, is foolish. Just how serious his condition is cannot be learned from reliable official circles.

TO 'RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Graduates of St. Patrick's Schools Will Attend High Mass

The annual distribution of diplomas and certificates to the pupils of St. Patrick's Boys' and Girls' schools will take place tomorrow prior to high mass at 11 o'clock.

The diplomas will be presented by Rev. William O'Brien, P. R., who will address the graduates.

There will be special music by the church and sanctuary choir and a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

The graduates of St. Patrick's Boys' school who will receive diplomas are as follows: James A. Mahoney, John A. O'Brien, Frederick Eawright, John J. Healey, Raymond R. Lynch, Eugene A. Dean, John Leo Hamill, John S. Armstrong, John J. Keefe, Frederick McCall, James McNally, Patrick O'Shearn, John P. Flannery.

Special archeological certificates awarded by His Grace Archbishop O'Connell will be presented to James A. Mahoney and John A. O'Brien.

The pupils of the Girls' school to receive diplomas are: Misses Anna E. Curran, Mary G. Dunn, Theresa Harron, Catherine E. Hoar and Lillian J. Smith.

The pupils to receive prohibition certificates from the archbishop are: Catherine J. Egan, Catherine J. Beane, Mary C. Sullivan and Helen Whelton.

St. Patrick's Boys' school has had a particularly successful year with 625 pupils. In addition to the primary and grammar divisions, the school provides a two years' commercial course after the grammar school course is finished, including book-keeping, typewriting, stenography, commercial law, general arithmetic and church history.

Rev. Bro. Edmund, the superior, has been particularly successful in his administration of the affairs of the school.

TO POSTPONE FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Attorneys for Louis Blot issued a formal statement this forenoon that the Langford-Kaufmann fight would be postponed until Saturday, June 25. The right of the governor to interfere, the statement said, would be fully tested in the courts.

FIVE MEN INJURED

Man Lighted Match 'Mid Fume of Gasoline

NEW YORK, June 18.—Fireman Joseph De Moll, twenty-eight years old, who lives on Staten Island, and who has been chauffeur to Deputy Police Chief Thomas Lally, at Brooklyn fire headquarters, was slightly burned last night through his own carelessness. He ignited a large quantity of gasoline escaping from the tank which supplies the fire chief's automobile.

De Moll was looking for the leak and had been especially warned against lighting matches. With him were James Shaughnessy, of Truck No. 68, Thomas Lally, of the same company, and Fireman Duran, and Southwick. Shaughnessy was severely burned about the hands, face and neck. Robb, Duran and Southwick were burned about the hands and arms. Even if De Moll lives it is probable he will be blind.

He was taken to St. Peter's hospital. The cause of the accident is believed to have been a flash of gas from the bottom of an oil tank, and was hard to get at. Chief Lally for several days had detected the odor of escaping gasoline, and asked De Moll and his comrades to locate the leak. De Moll went into the shaft through a window, while the others entered from a door connecting with the cellar. They found about a foot of water, resulting from the rain, covering the bottom of the shaft under which was the tank.

Though the place was pitch dark, the men had, on instructions from Lally, not taken lanterns. Suddenly De Moll lit a match, and a moment later there was a terrific roar and a flash of fire. The men with De Moll sprang through the door leading to the cellar, all badly burned. Then they thought of De Moll and started back for him. At this moment De Moll, screaming with pain, appeared at the window through which he had entered the shaft. His face was burnt black and his clothing was blazing fiercely. The others caught him by the arms and lifted him into the cellar. Then they laid him on the floor and threw their coats over him, extinguishing the flames. Dr. Eha was summoned from the Cumberland street hospital and Dr. White, of the fire department, hurried down the stairs. They poured oil of live oil into De Moll's eyes, but it seemed to have no effect.

Luckily the flames did not reach the gasoline tank itself. When the gasoline floating on the surface of the water in the fire shaft had been consumed the fire went out.

KILLED HIMSELF

TROLLEY PASSENGERS SAW MAN COMMIT SUICIDE

NEW YORK, June 18.—William A. Wagner, fifty years old, a laborer, killed himself in sight of a car full of passengers by cutting his throat yesterday afternoon, at Beach and Walker avenues, the Bronx. He lived at No. 776 Melrose avenue.

There is a vacant lot at the corner and Wagner stood near a clump of trees just off the walk. As a trolley came along, carrying a number of passengers, Wagner raised a razor from his pocket and, opening it, drew the blade across his throat, cutting a gash from ear to ear.

The trolleyman put on full speed until he saw Policeman Velt, who went back and found Wagner. The man was lying on the ground, his head bleeding and his arms outstretched. Wagner left two letters, addressed to Homer and Arthur Wagner.

VALE OARSMEN AT WORK

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 18.—The sun was hot enough to blister the Yale oarsmen during their morning row today, but they did not mind it for sunny days have been few. All the crews were out with Mr. Kennedy, giving the freshmen special attention.

THE HARVARD CREWS

RED TOP, Conn., June 18.—Out in a single shell this morning, Coach Wray gave instructions to the Harvard crews. It was practice of short stretch work, the varsity four oared rowing under the watch for a half mile.

The crew finished at a 37 stroke.

SEEKS DAMAGES

MAN SUES TO RECOVER FOR AL- LEGED SLANDER AND ARREST

NEW YORK, June 18.—Louis E. Julian, formerly an investigator for the Metropolitan Street Railway company, has begun supreme court actions for $300,000 damages against several defendants, including former District Attorney Jerome.

In the complaints to two suits, directed against Thomas F. Ryan and John F. McIntyre, he asks $100,000 damages from each for alleged conspiracy to slander. These actions grew out of the Jerome investigation of the Metropolitan system during which Julian referred to McIntyre and Ryan as his chauffeur and a man which he claimed had been raised for the purpose of electing a supreme court justice. Mr. McIntyre denounced this statement as untrue, and was backed up by Ryan. Julian is now suing these two men for the reflections cast upon his character.

In a third suit Julian asks $100,000 damages. The defendants in this action are Jerome, Charles G. S. Wahl, former magistrate; J. L. Quackenbush, former chief counsel for the Metropolitan Railway company; Ambrose F. McCabe, former assistant to Quackenbush; Marshall Clark, former assistant district attorney under Jerome; and Dr. Welford Nelson, of the Astor House.

This law suit is based upon another charge that was made against Julian after he was reported as having given information to newspaper concerning alleged bribery in connection with the Metropolitan. The name of Dr. Nelson was connected with the report. Soon afterward Julian was arrested for giving false and malicious information for publication, but was cleared of the charge subsequently. He now seeks to recover the damages for his arrest.

RICH BACHELOR

SAYS HE IS NOT A FRIEND OF CUPID

NEW YORK, June 18.—"The trouble nowadays is that a fellow spends too much of his time with girls," declared Carl Katz, one of the nine members of the Bachelor club, of Paterson, which met last night to discuss the proposed boycott against them by Paterson young women. Katz is the son of a millionaire and is in his twenties.

"If a young man isn't careful he has his head filled with a lot of nonsense," continued Katz, "and before he is aware of it he is full of that emotion they call love. Once a fellow gets in that frame his career and usefulness are ruined."

"Let Miss Florence Cook and her friends jolly us with their proposed boycott if they want to. We will simply return the jolly. They say they won't invite us to any of their pink teas. Just imagine a healthy fellow like me at a table sipping tea with a bunch of fluffy white, full of chatter, sitting alongside me. Golf and automobiles are more to my liking."

Katz said the Bachelor club, as far as it goes, is really aimed at the girls of Paterson and vicinity. New York girls are not put under the ban.

COULDN'T MOVE

GIRL TOLD MOTHER SHE WAS MARRIED

NEW YORK, June 18.—If her parents had not decided to move to Williamsburg, N. Y., Miss Eleanor R. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin White of 129 North Washington street, might have kept the secret of her marriage to Frank A. Sweet, Jr., for a longer time. She was married to Mr. Sweet in Jersey City on April 12 last, and the young couple expected to keep the matter quiet for a year.

When Mrs. Sweet's mother announced yesterday that she intended moving away from town she was taken completely by surprise.

"I can't go, mother,"

"Because I'm married."

Then she told her mother all about it. Mrs. Sweet is 17, and Sweet is a year older. He is a clerk in the Westchester County Savings bank.

BUST OF ROCKEFELLER

NEW YORK, June 18.—John D. Rockefeller, according to latest reports, is going to sit for a leading sculptor and have a bust of himself fashioned out of clay. Then, if he likes it as well as he has liked the busts of a number of his friends, he will have it reproduced in metal.

Mr. Rockefeller has never sat for a bust. His friends have urged that he should have a lifelike figure of himself to posterity and he has finally consented to do so.

dressed man, of medium height, smooth shaven and intelligent, that he was in the town for the purpose of looking over the conditions with the intention of purchasing property if he found some to his liking.

He was very conversant and seemed to make friends with everyone with whom he came in contact. At times he had an automobile, but was seen several times in a car looking buggy. Whether he stopped in either Forge Village or Graniteville is not known, not known, but it is thought that they occurred between one and two o'clock this morning.

There is also a little evidence which would lead one to believe that the first break was made at the office in Forge Village. It was in this office that the old safe was located, where the lesser amount of money was stored and where the burglars had the greatest trouble.

The office is located on the second floor and although there is evidence that an attempt was made to pry open some of the windows on the ground floor, the burglars gave up their attempt as being futile and then attempted to break the door. The outer door was smashed in and then the inner door but it is thought that he spent his night or took his rest in Lowell.

There is little doubt but that he was the person who knew "the lay of the land" for the gang with which he is connected.

Whether or not he went to either of the offices during the time that the mill was in operation is not known. He was seen in the vicinity of the different places by several persons.

Early Morning Break

The exact time of the two breaks is

was forced. Despite the fact that the safe was an old one the burglars either had considerable difficulty in opening it at first or else they wanted to do a quick job, for they put enough "juice" around the crevices to blow the safe to pieces. That the safe must have been well covered seems to be certain or else the detonation would have awakened the people in the vicinity.

Graniteville Office Was Easy

The burglars did not have much trouble in getting into the office at Graniteville, and apparently little difficulty in opening the safe in that office, despite the fact that the safe in that office is of modern construction and one of those so-called "burglar proof" affairs.

The men gained an entrance to the Graniteville office by means of a window, a little figure being used to pry the lock and after the men entered the place everything apparently went along easily for instead of "sawing" the entire safe, a hole was drilled near the lock, the "juice" was poured in and the fuse lighted. The lock was blown out and the contents of the safe were removed. Papers and documents, books, etc., were scattered about the floor, but the only thing taken was the money which amounted to about $300.

Where Were the Watchmen?

Despite the fact that there are watchmen in both the mills and that the entering of the different places and blowing open of the safes must have made a loud noise, neither of the watchmen was aware that a break had been made in the offices, and it remained for the clerks who were the first to report at the different places to make the discovery.

In both offices the furniture was considerably damaged as a result of the explosion, especially in the Forge Village office, where the safe was blown asunder.

Burglars Were Hungry

Probably the only person in either town who saw the burglars was Victor Pigeon who recently opened a provision store near the Cameron school in Forge Village. He resides in the same building as the store is located in and about 1.30 o'clock this morning he was awakened by loud rapping on his door. He arose and going to the window saw an automobile in the street. There were two men in the machine while two others were standing near the door.

He asked them what they wanted, and they said that they had lost their way in the dark and were hungry. They wanted him to open his store and give them something to eat. He hesitated a few minutes, then he opened the door, he entered the store and the thing which seemed to appeal to them was pigs' feet and they purchased five pounds.

Mr. Pigeon was unable to get a good look at the men in the automobile, but he describes the two men who entered his store as gentlemen looking men. They were well dressed and had every appearance of being on a joy ride and lost their way. There was nothing about their appearance which would indicate that they were connected with any nefarious business.

Went in Opposite Direction

The only time that Mr. Pigeon thought that there was anything suspicious about the men who awakened him was when they inquired the way to Harvard. He pointed out the direction, but instead of going the way which he indicated the machine was sent off in an opposite direction.

Organized Band of Burglars

There is every indication that the job was performed by an organized band of burglars which has been operating through Massachusetts for the past few months and are probably the men who a few months ago rode into Athol, broke into the postoffice in that place and when discovered shot their way out of town. A posse was formed but the men in the machine soon outdistanced their pursuers.

Lowell Police Notified

The Lowell police were notified immediately after the discovery of the breaks, and Supt. Welch immediately sent the inspectors out to be on the lookout for suspicious persons and the members of the department were also notified.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this morning, Supt. Welch had the following to say: "The break was a most daring one and there is no doubt but that it was done by expert cracksmen, men who are daring and have had a great deal of experience in just such work. Although our men are on the lookout for the men we have little or no description of any of them and if they are in an automobile, the number or description of which is not known, the chances are that they are more than a hundred miles away at the present time."

Wants Police Auto

"While I have never openly stated that there is a chance to improve the department this occasion makes me feel that we should have an automobile for the department. There are times that burglars, murders and various other violations of the law occur. We do not hear of it for some little time after the affair has happened. The criminal has a big start on us and our only means of following him is by bicycles, carriage or electric cars."

The up-to-date criminals use automobiles and have the latest pattern of revolvers. In case they are caught in the act they are ready to shoot and shoot to kill. We have several riot guns which were purchased a couple of years ago, but what good are the guns unless we can get near the parties who are committing crimes."

Prices Rose During the Last Few Minutes of the Session Today—They Were Practically Stationary for Nearly One Hour

NEW YORK, June 18.—The coincidence with the opening of the stock market of the passing of the Roosevelt naval parade distracted the attention of the brokers and dealings were thereby nominal. Changes of an eighth to a quarter were indicated by the scanty transactions, the gain and losses being mixed.

More interest was manifested in the Roosevelt naval procession than in the stock market and speculation was in consequence at a standstill. The drift of prices was uncertain with a leaning downward.

Whitman Couple Married in Nashua

WHITMAN, June 18.—The marriage on May 31 at Nashua, N. H., was announced yesterday of Miss Flora M. Edson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Edson of Temple street, and Harold I. Mitchell, son of the late Herbert Mitchell of Brockton. Justice of Peace D. A. Cross officiated. The parents of the bride were yesterday informed of the marriage and congratulations were immediately extended.

The bride has been prominent in social affairs here, is a member of the Unity club, connected with the Unitarian church and several other organizations. The groom is in the lumber business with his grandfather, Isaac Mitchell of Brockton.

An engagement has existed for several months, and it was supposed that the marriage would not take place until fall. The bride's father contributed unknowingly to the plans of the young couple. His daughter proposed a visit to friends in Brockton and he went as far as Boston with her.

She apparently took a car for Brockton, but later met Mr. Mitchell and they left for Nashua, N. H. After the marriage, they returned on an afternoon train and dined that evening at

VALUE OF FRATERNAL HELP

Dear Sir:
As a member of a fraternal organization, I wish to thank you for your editorial deploring the lack of real fraternal spirit among the members of the several fraternities; I mean the spirit that will cause the members to look after a brother member in distress, and as you suggest help him by sympathy and advice if in no other way. I thank you for this much needed advice and hope you will refer to it again.
Yours Respectfully,
J. W. S.

The above note is one of many such expressions received in regard to the same editorial. We may repeat that the lack of fraternal help seems to result from inadvertence and is not due to any want of brotherly love or of mutual sympathy among the members. It is an unwarranted assumption that every man is able to take care of himself and that the fact of his illness or of his getting into trouble is but a temporary diversion that he will soon overcome. That is the time to help a man, before his ailment or weakness has gone too far or before it has resulted in serious injury if not death or disgrace.

There is one kind of fraternal help which could be given easily and which would count for a great deal in some cases. It is of a negative character but valuable nevertheless. It is this: Don't put the cup to the lips of a man whom you know has a weakness for drink. On the contrary take care to help him overcome his failing when you see it dragging him down. Here is a single instance in which some members may be responsible for the downfall of a brother merely by failing to do their duty as men, as brothers and members of a common fraternity.

FOREIGN IMMIGRANTS IMPOSED UPON IN MILL CITIES

It is very evident from what we see in such factory cities as Lowell that some of the foreign nationalities who come here are imposed upon by false representations as to what they will find on their arrival here and the opportunities awaiting them.

The trans-Atlantic lines are weekly bringing many thousands of immigrants to our shores, most of them at the present time from the countries of southern Europe, Poland and the British Isles. Nearly all are directed to the factory cities of New England. It would appear that there is some underhand influence at work to cause them to select the factory cities in preference to farms or to the employment available farther west.

No doubt the letters sent from America to relatives in the countries mentioned color the conditions existing here in a manner that may inspire others to come out. The mere statement of the wages earned, without saying anything about the cost of living, is sufficient to give foreigners an idea that money can be picked up on the streets of American cities. Here lies one of the causes which give these people a very wrong impression of America and which leads to bitter disappointment after they come here.

But there are other causes, among them being the immigration agent, or rather we should say, the "emigration" agent because it is the agent of the steamship lines in Europe that spreads false ideas of the United States and misleading statements as to the amount of money that can be saved and earned. As an instance of this method of deluding the people of foreign nations and causing them to come to the United States we may mention the case of the Wood mill in Lawrence. Before that mill was completed there were large billboards erected in different parts of Italy, telling of vast opportunities for making money soon to be available at the Wood mill of Lawrence, Mass., and picturing the operatives leaving the mill with well filled pay envelopes and entering a bank to deposit their surplus funds.

Who was responsible for this species of deluding foreign peoples we are unable to say. It may have been the steamship lines; it may have been done under the direction of the American manufacturers acting through padrones in order to evade the alien contract law. The federal officials of the United States should look into these matters and see that the parties who attempt to impose upon the credulity of foreigners shall be punished or at least exposed.

It is bad enough to have foreigners under the most favorable conditions leave their homes, gather sufficient money to pay their passage and secure admission to the United States without being victimized afterwards by padrones or even by a factory system that would accept of their services only at a rate of wages far below what should be paid.

We have several small strikes on in the mills here at the present time as a result of the surplus supply of foreign help in our factories. The strikers were told that this is a bad time for them to precipitate a strike as the mills will lose nothing by shutting down for a while during the summer. The strikers replied that they do not care whether the mills shut down for the entire season as they were not making enough in the mills to make it an object for them to remain. They claim that their average wage is between $5.00 and $6.00 a week, and that it is, therefore, impossible for them to live in the present high cost of living. If their statement as to the wages be correct then of course the other part of their statement must be true because no man at the present time can save a cent on $5 or $6 a week. These men would be glad to be back again in their own country. They find that they were deluded in the first place when they came here, by false representations as to the opportunities to make money. At the present time they would gladly go to work on farms and are likely to leave the city unless the mills are willing to increase their wages.

This is but one of many instances that might be cited to show the cruelty of bringing these people from their homes in southern Europe to the factory cities of New England to work for starvation wages or else go idle. If they were in the western states they might have employment at fair wages on farms, on railroad lines or in the mines. But in the textile factories of New England they will never receive wages sufficient to warrant them in establishing and maintaining comfortable homes such as working men should have.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Gov. A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota will be nominated by acclamation at the republican state convention in St. Paul on June 21, unless some entirely unforeseen circumstance intervenes. The two men most prominently mentioned to run against him have refused to allow their names to be used.

W. Armstrong Perry, for the past nine years supervisor in instruction of the Salem Young Men's Christian Assn., has resigned to accept a similar position in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn, N. Y. Before going to Salem, Mr. Perry was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse, N. Y. He fitted for his profession in Harvard college. Through his efforts the usefulness of the Y. M. C. A. in Salem has been greatly enlarged. He will assume his new duties September 1.

Miss Elizabeth Nourse, the American artist who lives in Paris, has just had one of her paintings purchased by the French government. It is called "The Closed Shutters" and has been bought for the Luxembourg Gallery. Miss Nourse began her art career in Cincinnati as a pupil of her brother-in-law, Benn Pittman, a brother of Isaac Pittman, the inventor of shorthand. She has long been an active member of the Woman's Art Club of Cincinnati.

Miss Job of Queensdown, Tasmania, is said to be the only woman who has ever sat within the bar at a Wesleyan Methodist conference. When she first took her seat one minister protested that the conference was composed only of ministers and laymen, and that they had no power to admit the best lady in the land. All others, including the president of the conference, took the position that women were included as laymen and Miss Job retained her seat within the bar.

President A. C. McKenzie of Elmira college, Elmira, N. Y., announces that Elmira college has come into possession of $112,000 with which to erect several new buildings and make many improvements. Of this sum $50,000 comes from the late John S. Kennedy and $60,000 from Andrew Carnegie. The latter gift was on condition that the college raise a like amount. Scores of alumnae and friends subscribed for this fund and were successful in obtaining the amount needed. Ground has been broken for a new science hall. Elmira college is the oldest college for women in the United States.

The family of Mr. Joseph A. Nesmith have gone to their summer home in Conway, N. H. for the season.

SINKS TO DEATH TO SUE GOVERNOR

Boy Swallowed Up By Quicksand

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 18.—Far from help and with only a small companion to witness his agony, 8-year-old George Bergman, met death in a horrible form, when he was slowly swallowed up by quicksand on the banks of the Winooski river, north of this city, yesterday afternoon.

With Julius Wool, a child of his own age, he had gone to the river to swim when the accident happened.

The Wool boy ran as fast as he could for help, but the body of Bergman was not recovered for three hours later, when Joseph Rogove succeeded in digging it out.

POLICE OFFICERS WERE ASSAULTED WHILE MAKING AN ARREST

BOSTON, June 18.—While Sergt. William L. Hebblethwaite and Patrolman William J. Moody of the Chelsea police were making an arrest shortly before 7 last night, they were set upon by a number of young men, one of whom, it is charged, struck Moody a blow on the left eye. The crowd succeeded in securing the release of the prisoner, but only for a few seconds, as he was recaptured by Sergt. Hebblethwaite.

The young men, some 10 or 12 in number, were standing outside of a saloon at the corner of Broadway and Williams street and the police say were obstructing the travel of foot passengers. They were ordered to move on and all but one obeyed. The police charged that Sylvester J. O'Brien, 23 years of age, Williams street, refused to comply with the order and he was placed under arrest.

The young man, according to the police, resisted arrest, and while the two policemen were walking across the street with him he put up, they say, a struggle to gain his freedom.

One of the young men then struck Patrolman Moody. Moody's eye was badly swollen and blackened.

DRACUT

Edmund Henry Gunther, a pupil at the Parker Avenue school, was yesterday awarded the gold medal donated by the Parker Avenue school alumni association as an award to the pupil of the eighth grade of the school having attained the best rank in scholarship, deportment and attendance for the year.

The recipient of the medal is 13 years old and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Gunther of a Upland street.

Miss Marion McKnight, president of the Alumni association, presented the medal.

The exercises attending the presentation were most informal. A few of the parents of the children were present. The recitations and vocal numbers were given in chorus by the children of the grammar room under the direction of their teacher, Miss Helen M. Boyd.

The graduation exercises which featured the closing of the Parker Avenue school last night were held at the school last night. Sub-Committee John A. Hutchinson, to whom the matter was referred, decided to dispense with the preparations of a program for closing day.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Whether the Jeffries-Johnson fight is held or not, Tex Rickard promises to demonstrate to the sporting world that he is a fighter as well as the two heavyweights. Rickard declares the fight will be held, and Reno, Nev., is now the most likely place for the contest. In the meantime Rickard wants to sue Governor Gillett and Attorney General T. S. Weaver on the grounds that they have caused him to lose a small fortune by withholding their decision on whether the fight could be held in San Francisco.

BILLERICA

A well attended concert and ball was given in the town hall in Billerica last night by the members of the graduating class of the Howe High school. It proved to be the social success of the season, excelling in brilliancy the efforts of the graduating classes of previous years.

During the early part of the evening a reception was held, the 11 graduates receiving their diplomas.

The grand march was started shortly after 9 o'clock and was led by Edward Ryan and Miss Ruth Wild. They were followed by Earl Costello and Miss Laura Marie Hentz, Evan Nason and Miss Kathryn Nason, Edward Riley and Miss Alice Riley, and about 60 other couples.

For the occasion was furnished by Hubbard's orchestra of Lowell. The members of the class acted as floor officers. They were Miss Laura Marie Hentz, Ruth Louise Wild, Bertha Ellen Dimock, Alice Winifred Higgins, Florence Blanche Dutton, Kathryn Ryan, Evelyn Augusta Spaulding and Messrs. Harvey Brown, Evan Albert Nason and Dwight Leverett Dimock.

OLAMBALA WON THE BIG RACE
SHEEPSHEAD DAY, N. Y., June 13.—On a track fetlock deep in mud, R. T. Wilson Jr.'s game 4-year-old Olambala won, yesterday, the 27th suburban handicap, after one of the most sensational races ever run under the stewardship of the Coney Island Jockey club. Prince Imperial, the entry of the Woodhams stable, was second, and James R. Kennedy, third.

Generally thought invincible at the distance, and ruling favorite at odds of 7 to 5, finished third, ridden out.

Yesterday, for the first time since the anti-betting crusade began, the law's prohibition was taken literally and, under special instructions said to have been issued by W. K. Vanderbilt, principal owner in the Sheepshead race track, eighty special detectives were sent to it that not even oral wagers could be laid by a professional.

THEATRE VOYONS

EMPIRE THEATRE
At the Empire tomorrow will be given a Sunday concert with a special program for that day only. Besides the moving pictures of new films and a variety of subjects Mr. Williams will give an xylophone solo.

Commencing Monday there will be another new show. The Banning is one of the best character acting comedies.

THEATRE VOYONS

EMPIRE THEATRE
At the Empire tomorrow will be given a Sunday concert with a special program for that day only. Besides the moving pictures of new films and a variety of subjects Mr. Williams will give an xylophone solo.

Commencing Monday there will be another new show. The Banning is one of the best character acting comedies.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

For the opening attraction at the Lakeview theatre next week Manager Flynn has selected one of the most beautiful New England plays ever written called "The Dairy Farm". This play is along the same line as "The Old Homestead" and "As Ye Sow". Although having nothing in common with either. It has enjoyed a run of over 200 nights in New York city and has been pronounced by the press and public to be far superior to any New England play ever seen.

THE THIRD MURDER TRIED TO ESCAPE

Sixteen Years

GORHAM, Me., June 18.—A third murder within sixteen years committed early today gives this small, residential town an unenviable record which is not duplicated in any town of its size in Maine and probably not in New England. The latest tragedy involves Walter Hanscom, aged 32, of Bickford, and Mrs. Annie Stuart, aged about 33, and employed in a small hotel in Portland. Mrs. Stuart has been separated from her husband, who is believed to be in the west, probably in Minnesota.

Charlestown Officials Came to Play Ball

According to the latest reports received in this office by wireless, telegraph and telephone, none of the prisoners at the state prison in Charlestown escaped yesterday afternoon, but 12 out of those who are under arrest in that institution, even though leaving their bed and board and shaking the stripes (none of them has stars) they had a golden opportunity yesterday when a dozen of the most efficient officers of the bastille deserted, with permission, the granite building and made their way to Lowell.

Strangely to say, even though yesterday was the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill, the dozen men in question rather than participate in the festivities which are peculiar to Charlestown on the 17th, made their way to this city. They were thinking of war and but for the heavy precipitation there would have been war for the custodians of the state prison came here for the purpose of doing battle dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn-out.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. There's no draggery connected with it, no coal to carry, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till the fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick-up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for coffee, teapot or saucepan, and even a rack for towels. It saves time, worry, health and temper. It does all a woman needs and more than she expects. Made with 1, 2, and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner sizes can be had with or without Cabinet.

Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

BOSTON, June 18.—Baked in his second attempt to escape deportation, Max Selling, the Latvian stowaway, who jumped overboard from the steamer Winfredian off Boston light and who was rescued by the crew of the steamer Greenbrier, will be sent back to England today, when the Winfredian leaves for Liverpool.

Selling nearly succeeded in escaping from the custody of the immigration authorities Thursday night. By means of two roller towels and a hook fastened out of a piece of a bed from the stowaway lowered himself from the detention station at Long wharf and reached Atlantic avenue before he was captured by Customs Inspector Dowd.

The man was sitting quietly in the main hall of the detention station three minutes before his daring escape. The watchman spoke to him as he passed through the room and after he had gone to another part of the station lowered himself from the window and ran up the north side of the pier just as Immigration Inspector Wells was coming down the south side.

The inspector heard the footsteps.

company in North Chelmsford for the purpose of crossing bats, the weather was against the men and instead they were escorted to the Lowell Inn where Thomas F. Hoban, the genial manager, laid out a spread in the private dining room, which appealed to the visitors.

During the course of the meal "Who is Who," "Why is Why" were discussed at considerable length. Patrolman Matthew McCanh gave a little dissertation on "How we won the game last year" and he got a reply from Officer William B. Sanborn, of the state prison on "What we should have done, but what we didn't do." Both speeches were loudly applauded and then Messrs. Edward F. Shea, John J. Dalton, Edward Bayles and Charles Sturtevant, rendered that ever popular selection "We Didn't Do a Thing to Them," written by Keener, John (Tom) Whittaker, and dedicated to the officers of the Charlestown prison.

Martin Conway, who takes care of the obstreperous persons within the confines of Billerica, was in attendance and he told what the Billerica cops would do to the visitors if they ever met on the banks of the Concord river. Martin grew very eloquent and after describing the beauties of the town six miles beyond us, told of the numerous groves and the facilities for playing ball in his burgh. He said that he felt rather elated when he learned that the game was to be held in North Chelmsford and that he was glad that it had rained, for he said that when the next game is held it will be on the grounds which are within his jurisdiction.

Joseph Mullaney, who was a former twirler in the New England league, but who now is kept busy turning the locks on the cells at the state prison, was one of the speakers, and he said that his arm was in the plink of condition and his only regret was that the game could not be played. He said that there would be nothing to it, for every man who came before him would be retired on strikes.

Walter L. Wood, who is as broad as he is long, and who is known as the "Hearty Kooter," was on hand with his little speech, and though he at times gets short of wind he loosened enough of Shakespearean verbosity, intermingled with baseball talk, to keep the crowd convulsed with laughter.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wood's speech Patrolman "Jack" Whelan, the head of the Lowell police baseball team, took the floor and gave an interesting account on how his men played the game last year and how they would have played it yesterday.

"Billy" Sanborn, who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but who has got round about Boston, managed to tell the assembled how he lost the game for the Charlestown gang last year by scoring seven errors. He said that he had studied the rules for the last seven months and that if the game had been played he would have vindicated himself.

Augustus E. Duncan, better known as plain "Gus," who was formerly at the Lowell jail, but now at "states," and who was to have covered the "third bag" for the visitors, desecrated at considerable length on his proclivities as a ball player. He intimated that his sole desire was to wipe out the defeat which his companions met with last year and wanted to beat the Lowell team on his own stamping grounds.

Keeper John (Tom) Whittaker was given a chance to speak, but instead of speaking on matters pertaining to the occasion he drifted off into whistles, but stopped when someone shouted that "in is the man 'oo owns the whistles."

Patrolman Ed. Hill also had a few words to say, but Patrolman Tom McElony when he started to tell about Polish weddings in Davidson street was told that there were no foreigners in the crowd and that the talk must be confined to baseball.

Among the others who had a few words to say were Patrolman Cornelius O'Keefe, John Clark, Frank Curry and ex-Patrolman Cornelius Howard.

One of the peculiar incidents in connection with the trip of the officers from the state prison to this city was the fact that when they started they found that there were 13 in the party. They could not think of starting out with an unlucky number, and it was suggested that lots be drawn for one member to stay at home, and John Townsend drew the blank. He regretted very much that he could not come to Lowell, but as he is a sport and lost he decided to stay at home.

In the evening the visitors were entertained at the Central club and they took the last train for Boston, regretting very much that they did not have a chance to play ball, but thanking everyone for the good time which they had.

P. S.—It is just as well that the visitors did not play ball for if they had they would have met with another defeat.

and suspecting that someone was trying to escape he rushed through to the other side of the pier. Drawing his revolver he fired three shots in the air, but this only had the effect of making the fleeing man increase his speed. At the head of the wharf he ran into the arms of Inspector Dowd, who grabbed him by the collar and held him until Inspector Wells came along. Then Selling was taken back to the detention station and placed under guard.

Selling's stowaway companion, Johan Grunberg, who jumped overboard with him from the Winfredian, died from exhaustion just as he was drawn from the water by the boat's crew from the Greenbrier.

Selling is an intelligent fellow. He is an expert stenographer and is believed to have held a responsible position in his own country. His efforts to escape being sent back lead many of the officials to believe that he may be wanted for some offense.

Selling will be handcuffed and taken on board the Winfredian just before she sails this afternoon. He will be locked up and carefully guarded until the liner is well on its way across.

THE PATTEN CASE

Department of Justice Issues Statement

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Attorney General Wickersham, in commenting on the indictments returned yesterday by the New York special federal grand jury against James A. Patten, Maurice H. Rothschild, F. B. Hayne, Wm. P. Brown, Eugene G. Scates, Sidney J. Harmon and Robert M. Thompson, growing out of the so-called "cotton-pool" said that the investigation which was held had satisfied the grand jury of the existence of the combination and of its questionable character.

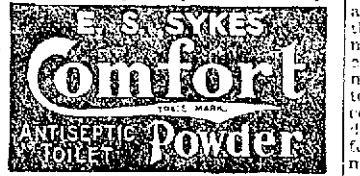

In regard to indictments the following statement was given out last night by the department of justice:

"These indictments are the result of the investigation commenced by the department of justice some time since, based on information that the persons indicted with others had, in the early part of the year, formed a combination for the purpose of cornering the entire remaining supply of raw cotton of the crop of 1909 and to hold a substantial portion of the same under agreement not to make tenders in certain markets prior to about November 1, 1910 thus creating an artificial shortage in addition to the crop shortage in the supply available for the spinners and making it possible to require them to purchase thereafter at an arbitrary price fixed by the pool."

"At the same time agreements were said to have been entered into between representatives of a pool and a number of spinners whereby the latter agreed to join the conspiracy to the extent of purchases of several thousand bales of cotton to be removed from the market. Pursuant to this agreement the pool acquired about 350,000 bales of raw cotton for delivery in May, which with a large amount already on hand, was to be lifted out of the three principal markets of the world. This complete control of the May market with the further purchase of several hundred thousand bales remaining supply for delivery in July or

HOPEDALE, June 18.—No one in Massachusetts has a better regard for June 17 than Gov. Draper, for in addition to his patriotic appreciation for the spirit and deeds that led to the birth of the nation, he has a strong personal interest in the day, for it is his birthday, and as such it is always observed in some simple way with his immediate family when practicable.

Yesterday was no exception to that home custom, and although during the day the guest of the Worcester club, yet this evening he excluded all matters of business, however pressing, that he might uninterruptedly spend the anniversary with his family.

He reached home about 6:30 last evening and only broke away from his temporary seclusion to say to a correspondent last night that he was to celebrate his anniversary with a family dinner and was going to keep off whatever seemed likely to interfere with his home pleasure "as with a shotgun."

Gov. Draper was born June 17, 1858.

PRESIDENT TAFT

To be Made Doctor of Jurisprudence

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Taft accompanied by Reps. The president will return to Washington tonight.

COL. ROOSEVELT SUM OF $50,000

May Come Here to Help Lodge

Representative Ames is opposed to the suggestion of some of the radical insurgents that an attempt be made to depose Speaker Cannon before Congress adjourns. Mr. Ames says the speaker has been interpreting the revised rules fairly and that legislative business should not be disturbed at this stage of the session.

Representative Ames is always optimistic when he discusses the senatorial situation. No matter what happens he can always figure it out to his own advantage. Just now he has his opponent both going and coming on the general understanding that Mr. Roosevelt will go to Massachusetts to urge Mr. Lodge's re-election.

"I understand that Mr. Lodge has urged Mr. Roosevelt to speak in support of his candidacy," said Mr. Ames yesterday. "I do not know whether Mr. Roosevelt will do so. Other friends of Mr. Roosevelt are trying to dissuade him from speaking in Senator Lodge's interest. They believe that it would make the ex-president unpopular in the west, where Aldrich, Lodge and Cannon are synonymous names."

"I do not see how an endorsement of Mr. Lodge by Mr. Roosevelt would do the former any good. The next senator will be chosen by the people of Massachusetts. They know Senator Lodge after 18 years of public service. They will judge him according to his legislative record and not on his record as a personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt."

"The people have already made up their minds that they do not want Mr. Lodge. The insurgent sentiment in the east would resent Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of Senator Lodge."

On the other hand, if Mr. Roosevelt does not endorse Mr. Lodge, the people will know that he is not for him and will register their protest against Senator Lodge's retention in office."

Is Offered to Looted Bank

BOSTON, June 18.—Bank Commissioner Chapin filed a petition in the supreme court yesterday asking that he be permitted to compromise certain claims which the Southbridge Savings bank may have against its present or past trustees.

The trustees have offered a guaranty fund of $50,000 contingent upon being released from all liability.

The bank commissioner declares he believes it for the best interest of all parties concerned that the bank should resume business providing a satisfactory guaranty fund is assured.

An order of notice was issued by Judge Rugg, returnable July 1.

John A. Hall, former treasurer of the Southbridge Savings bank, is now in state prison for misapplying bank funds.

VERY FEW INJURED

BOSTON, June 18.—The benefits of the new law restricting the use of explosives and fireworks at celebrations were indicated today when summary of accidents in yesterday's observance of Juneteenth day showed but six persons treated for injuries, compared with 102 at the same celebration last year. There were 27 arrests for violations of the city ordinance regarding the use of fireworks compared with 22 last year and 13 fire alarms to 26 in 1909.

The authorities believe that Independence day will witness a similar decrease in accidents.

VIEWS OF JOHNSON TAKEN AT TRAINING CAMP SHOW HIM IN GOOD CONDITION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Though the attitude of Governor Gillett caused a shadow of gloom for a time over the trainers' quarters of Jack Johnson, matters around the Seal Rock house have been somewhat brightened up by the appearance of Billy Delaney to take hold of the negro's camp. The veteran trainer is enthusiastic over his new charge. When asked what he thought of Jack's chances with Jeffries, Delaney said: "Why, he'll surely win. You can say for me that Johnson is now in shape for a fight. He just needs one hard week of it, and he'll lick Jeffries as sure as you are born. Johnson will be ready to fight Jeffries any place in the world on the fourth of July. He'll go to Nevada or he'll go to

New Orleans or, for that matter, Jack is ready to go up to Utah, where Dr. Cook left off, and take on the battle with Jeffries. Johnson will fight Jeff-

Substitutes Are Dangerous Beware of Imitations, Substitutes and "just as good as"

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of their profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low grade mixtures, which they tell you are "as good as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Some go so far as to try to make you believe it is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. These cheap concoctions are foisted on the people with the intent to deceive.

When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. could beat Jeffries, but after I watched him box I was convinced that there can be only one outcome to the fight. Jeffries very likely looks good today, but he can hardly be as good as he was six years ago, and I believe honestly that Johnson, as good as he is today, could lick Jeffries the best day he ever saw. Make no mistake about it, this Johnson is one great fighter. He is one of the cleverest big men the ring has ever seen. His defense is absolutely perfect, and I can see no way that Jeffries will be able to break through it. Pictures show the negro to be in grand shape.

FRANCIS H. ROSE

ACCEPTS CALL TO BECOME PASTOR OF IMMANUEL CHURCH

Fr. Francis H. Rose is pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church. At a recent business meeting of the church it was unanimously voted to call him, and he has accepted the call. He has supplied the pulpit at the church to which he has been called for six months past. Mr. F. H. Rose was born March 30, 1884, at Norwich, Conn., where he received his first schooling. In 1904 he graduated in the classical course at Norwich Free academy, including a special work in the manual training course at the same school. In the fall of 1905 he entered Colby college, where he graduated in June of 1909 with a commencement prize. He carried off the prize in senior English composition and oratory and received the degree of bachelor of arts. The past year has been spent at Newton Theological Institute, where he is studying for the ministry. Mr. Rose carried through a seven years' course at the Norwich art school. During the four years spent at Colby he preached at Jefferson, Maine, for the Jefferson Third Baptist and Free Baptist church and in his last year preached Sunday afternoon at the Jefferson Second Baptist church.

GOVERNOR GILLET

Takes Drastic Measures to Stop
Fight in San FranciscoFour Military Companies to be Within Quick Call of Adjutant General

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Four companies of the state militia will be within quick call of Adjutant General Lauck who will be at the Lotta Blot arena this afternoon ready to take drastic action if the local authorities refuse by reason of injunction or otherwise to interfere with the fight scheduled between Langford and Kaufman.

In the hands of Gov. Gillett at Sacramento is a proclamation of martial law which will sign and wire immediately to the adjutant general at the arena just as soon as he is advised that Blot intends to go on with the contest and that the local authorities will not carry out the governor's will. However, Chief of Police Martin has issued a definite statement that both the Langford-Kaufman and the Jeffries-Johnson fights will be prevented by the police.

The statement came from San Francisco's training quarters late last night that the negro will refuse to sign up to join up with any army.

It was taken by Gov. Gillett. It was common gossip in the all-night resort throughout the sporting section that Blot was ready to throw up the sponge.

From all appearances this morning the fighting game has received its quietus in California and a big exodus is about to begin to Nevada. Jeffries probably will break camp at Carson this afternoon and start for Reno or Goldfield without delay. Johnson is ready to leave for Nevada.

So far as the Jeffries-Johnson fight is concerned it is practically settled that it will be held either at Reno or Goldfield.

Rickard's attorneys are urging him to take the matter to the courts but Rickard declares that he has no intention of opposing the state authorities.

Early this morning it looked as if Reno is slated for the big fight. Goldfield is still urging its offer of $120,000 and Elko is still under consideration but both Rickard and Gleason lean strongly toward Reno.

At both training camps a program of work more strenuous than usual is mapped out for today. Jeffries, who was in high good humor last night after a denunciation of the governor for his course, declared he would do a lot of boxing this morning with Bob Armstrong and Joe Chynoweth.

GOVERNOR'S OPINION

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 18.—When told of the Barry and Ferguson fight at Los Angeles, Gov. Gillett said: "I did not know there was to be a fight last night in Los Angeles. I understood that there was going to sign for one down there some time next week."

For that reason the governor said that he had not notified the Los Angeles authorities to prevent any contest there as well," he continued, "and it is up to the district attorney now to prosecute the lawbreakers."

GOVERNOR'S OPINION

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 18.—When told of the Barry and Ferguson fight at Los Angeles, Gov. Gillett said: "I did not know there was to be a fight last night in Los Angeles. I understood that there was going to sign for one down there some time next week."

For that reason the governor said that he had not notified the Los Angeles authorities to prevent any contest there as well," he continued, "and it is up to the district attorney now to prosecute the lawbreakers."

GOVERNOR'S OPINION

WE LOAN MONEY

To Housekeepers and Workingmen

Our business is to loan money to the honest WORKINGMAN and thrifty HOUSEKEEPER in such a manner that it will be a help and not a burden. Every detail is thoughtfully explained to the borrower. We do just as we advertise in every particular. By calling upon our manager and having a confidential talk you can easily ascertain that we are doing business upon a more liberal basis than any concern or individual in the city of Lowell.

FERGUSON WON

He Secured the Decision Over
Jim Barry Last Night

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Sandy Ferguson, the "angel child" from Boston won a newspaper decision over Jim Barry of Chicago last night at the Naud Junction pavilion of the Pacific A. C. It was a slow affair.

An officer of police at the ringside during the preliminary bouts watched closely to see that the scrapping did not become unfriendly so as to be classed as real prize fighting. Two of the bouts were stopped as soon as a little blood was shown. This did not please the gathering and the police were hooted at intervals throughout the evening's entertainment.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur H. Paradis and Miss Catherine Brennan, both of this city, were married at Providence, R. I., on Wednesday by Rev. Fr. O'Toole of the cathedral of that city. Miss Brennan was attended by Miss Emma Sherson, and Mr. Bernard Patten was best man. A reception was held at the home of the bride in Providence, at which a number of Lowell friends attended.

Miss Brennan was formerly employed as a saleslady at the New York Clink & Co. store. After an extended wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Paradis will live in Providence, and will be at home to friends after Aug. 1.
